Richard Parshey With DEWline, Greenland, For Next 18 Months

Maj. and Mrs. S. M. Parshey of 745 North May Street Monday received a phone call from Greenland from their son, Richard, who told them that he had arrived safely after his departure last week from Paramus, N. J.

A 1956 graduate of the Southern Pines High School, Richard has just completed a three months' course with the Federal Electric Corporation at their training schools in Streeter, Ill. and Shalimar, Fla. Previously, he attended the Capitol Radio Engineering Institute in Washington, D. C.

He has been assigned an 18-month tour of duty with DEWline (Distant Early Warning) in Greenland.

Richard also attended school at La Rochelle, France when his father was stationed there with the U. S. Army. The family lived here prior to Major Parshey's retirement, in 1958, when he was stationed at Fort Bragg.

News & Observer Features Story On Mrs. H. Clifton Blue

The wife of House Speaker H. Clifton Blue was the subject of a feature article recently in the Raleigh News and Observer.

Though Cliff Blue, editor of the Sandhill Citizen in Aberdeen, is presently serving his ninth term in the State House of Representatives, this is the first time that his wife, Gala, has ever taken an active part in the social activities along with other Legislative wives.

Her duties as a grandmother, and as the mother of a five-year-old daughter, Elizabeth Ann, have kept her busy at home and though she can't be in Raleigh fulltime, she is enjoying part-time participation in the doings in Raleigh and serving as corresponding secretary of the Sir Walter Cabinet.

A member of the Round Robin Garden Club in Aberdeen, she also is an active worker in the Bethesda Presbyterian Church.

Medical Missionary To Speak At WMU Meeting In Aberdeen

The Sandhills Baptist Annual Woman's Missionary Union Association Wide Meeting will be held in the First Baptist Church in Aberdeen Tuesday, March 26, at 5:30-9 p. m. Theme for the meeting is "Laborer's Together with God" (1st Corinthians 3-9).

The main speaker will be Dr. L. C. Smith, a native of Harnett County, who for the past several years has been a medical missionary to Nigeria. He is now affiliated with the medical staff at Bowman Gray Hospital in Winston-Salem. He will tell of his work in Nigeria, and show films of mission work there.

All members of the Woman's Missionary Societies in the 22 Churches in the Sandhills Association having organizations are urged to attend this meeting. All other churches in the association are invited.

Associational officers will present a short dramatization entitled "Yesterday's Woman." The Rev. R. D. Spear, pastor of the Aberdeen Church, will bring the devotionals. E. H. Poole, choir director, will lead the music. The Association president, Mrs. W. B. Cole, will preside and give the annual associational report.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES WEATHERSPOON COUPLE MARRIED SATURDAY IN UNITED CHURCH TAKE VIRGINIA WEDDING TRIP

The United Church of Christ was the scene Saturday of the wedding of Miss Mary Ann Sullivan and Charles Weatherspoon. The Rev. Carl Wallace, pastor, performed the 2:30 p. m. ceremony. Mrs. N. L. Hodgkins played the organ and Bobby Matthews sang three solos.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Sullivan of 290 Midland Road, was given in marriage by her father.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Weatherspoon of 805 South Bennett Street.

After a wedding trip to Williamsburg, Jamestown and Yorktown, Va., the couple will be at home at 235 North Page Street.

Both are graduates of the Southern Pines High School. Mrs. Weatherspoon, a 1962 graduate of King's College in Charlotte, is employed as a secretary in the law offices of Pollock and Fulenwider. Her husband is employed by The Pilot, Inc.

The bride wore a gown of silk organza over ivory silk taffeta, trimmed with ecru alencon lace appliques and designed with portrait neckline brief sleeves, molded bodice and a dome bell floor length skirt extending into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil had a headpiece of matching lace and pearls and she carried two orchids on a prayerbook.

She was attended by her sister, Kathleen, as maid of honor, and by bridesmaids Mrs. Leon Wilson of Aberdeen and Mrs. Jerry Kirby of Goldsboro and by the bridegroom's sister, Nancy, who was flower girl. The attendants wore street length dresses of coral silk organza over taffeta and carried cascade bouquets of yellow carnations edged in coral and coral ribbon. The flower girl carried a white basket with the same flowers and all wore circular bandeaus, with short veils, of coral.

J. H. Weatherspoon was his son's best man and ushers were Leon Wilson, Steve Darby, Isaac Woodell and Charles Watkins.

CLEVELAND AMORY RECORDS LIVELY TALK WITH MISS SEARS IN "VOGUE"

"If there are two words I can't stand, it's resting and tired." Thus, at a vigorous 82, speaks Miss Eleonora Sears in a most entertaining interview with Cleveland Amory, appearing in the February 15 issue of Vogue magazine, which he has entitled "Bostonian Unique—Miss Sears."

Amory, well-known author of "The Proper Bostonians," "The Last Resorts," and "Who Killed Society," was a speaker last season at the Pinehurst Forum.

In his story on Miss Sears, illustrated with an excellent photograph of the lady who makes her winter home in Southern Pines, the author has wisely given his interviewee her head with the result that her lively opinions on every subject from servants and the younger generation to FDR and the Kennedy family, given verbatim, slice to the bone of the subject, presenting the reader with the authentic flavor of the character of this sporting "grand dame."

The great-great-great granddaughter of Thomas Jefferson, Miss Sears is most defiantly not of Democratic persuasion.

It is well known here that she is an enthusiastic horsewoman—though perhaps not so well
