Tie For First In Summer Club Event

Twenty-three members of the Sandhills Summer Club took part in Tuesday's stroke play tournament, with two tying for first prize. Scoring 37 for the nine holes were Mrs. Louis C. Melcher and Mrs. William J. Burke.

On the cut of cards, Mrs. Burke became first place winner.

HERE and AWAY

Mr. and Mrs. Roy O. Cason and daughter, Connie, of Marietta, Ohio, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Garrison. Jim and Roy were submarine mates during World War II.

Arriving Monday from Englewood, N. J. for a short stay here with her mother, Mrs. Harry Hogg, is Mrs. James Aldridge. Her older daughter, Louise Aldridge, is also here for the summer with her grandmother.

Mrs. W. E. Fairbanks and daughter of Clarksville, Tenn., here last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, have gone to New Hampshire and Vermont and are expected back here en route home.

The Smith's daughter, Mrs. George Little and her baby and Mr. Little's sister, Joyce, spent the weekend in Warrenton, Va., visiting Mrs. Little's sister, Mrs. W. S. Bowman and family.

Former residents of Pinehurst, Mr. and Mrs. George Wallace, were in town Monday, visiting with friends. The Wallaces now live in Roanoke, Va.

Mrs. Paul Dana returned Tuesday from Durham, where she spent several days with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Randolph R. Few and their children.

Roger Paschal returned home Friday from Chapel Hill where he has been taking a three weeks' course in summer school at the University of North Carolina.

Spending the weekend at Ocean Drive Beach with Mr. and Mrs. True P. Cheney were Mr. and Mrs. B. U. Richardson, the H. A. Campbells and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Nelson. The Cheney's, who have been vacationing there for the past two weeks, returned home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip White and their two daughters expect to move next week into the house they have purchased in Durham. Mrs. White, who, with the children, has been visiting her parents, the S. Donald Sherrers this summer, last week went to their former home in Yardley, Pa., to supervise moving to their new location.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barrett and son, Danny, visited her mother in Harrellsville last week and also, spent several days at Crescent Beach.

Mrs. Mulford Horr got back Friday from visits with friends and family in New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts and a stay of several weeks at The Inn, Point o' Woods, Long Island.

Edward Fearnley arrived Saturday from Florida to join his wife and four children, who have been visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Wyatt this summer while Mr. Fearnley was teaching summer school at the University of Florida. The Fearnleys and their two older children expect to leave next week for a visit to New York City and the World's Fair.

Fair Premium Books Mailed; Opens Sept. 28

The Carthage Jaycees, sponsors of the annual Moore County Agricultural Fair mailed out approximately 8,000 fair premium books, largest number in history, this week.

The book lists over $2,000 in premiums to be awarded in the various categories. The amount this year tops that of the past, and the sponsors are looking for a record number of entries.

Dates for the fair will be September 28 through October 3, approximately a month earlier than in past years.

Leon Harkins, Fair Chairman, asks those who plan to enter their prize articles for display to keep the new dates in mind and check the premium book for rules.

PRIZES DISPLAYED Junior Golfers To Vie For Championship

Junior golfers spent Monday warming up for the annual championship, which will be held next Monday at the Pinehurst Country Club. No regular prizes were awarded for the day.

The juniors also received golf guidance at the weekly clinic taught by Buck Adams, pro at the Country Club of North Carolina. A spokesman for the group, expressing appreciation to Mr. Adams for his time and effort, said he will hold a final clinic for the season on Monday, August 24, as the junior golfers here will be returning to school on Friday of that week.

Prizes will be awarded in Classes A and B, to first and second low gross and low net winners, and first and second prizes will be given for low putts.

John W. Lindsay is donating first low gross and Wally O'Neal and Biddle & Company are donating first low net prizes. A. Parker Hall, Jr., who has worked with the juniors this summer is donating the putting prizes for the two classes. There will also be a special prize for girl golfers.

The trophies will be on display from Friday through Monday in the lobby of the Pinehurst Country Club.

Mr. Hall said that those juniors who, for some reason, cannot be present on Monday, should get one or two partners lined up and call him at 294-3521 this week so that arrangement could be made for them to play another day.

Twilight Tournament Held Here Thursday

Taking first place on a cut of cards to break a five-way tie in Thursday's twilight tournament for men of Morco and women golfers of the Sandhills Summer Club were partners Mrs. Quincey Gillmore and Ralph Horner.

Runners-up in the event were Adm. and Mrs. T. C. Ragan and in third place, Mr. and Mrs. Joel C. Hufford. Nine pairs participated.

Members of the two summer golfing groups congregated at the Pinehurst Country Club for cocktails following the tournament.

Weather Report

From a Pilot subscriber summing in Canada, comes the information, new to us, that the Toronto Star carries the Pinehurst weather report daily—on orders from a Star executive who is a Pinehurst fan.

Cold Weather Recipe

In the dog days of August when the most popular dishes are cold cuts and congealed salads, we have been picking up, for the future cold weather tips on food, and at the risk of sounding like a food editor, here is one we must pass along.

It may not be anyone's idea of the perfect answer to the problem of winter breakfasts, but for sheer amusement value seems worth immortalizing in print.

In a newspaper plant, where we picked up this idea, just about everyone has an opinion on any subject that's mentioned and few will hesitate to be vocal on it. So, it was pointed out to us, emphatically, that we were eating our favorite winter breakfast staple—oatmeal—all wrong.

Here is the "proper" procedure. Cook the oatmeal long enough so that it loses its graininess, in other words, until it is "slimy."

Put a portion into a bowl, add a good sized pat of butter and two teaspoons of sugar. Stir together the three ingredients.

Then, and this is most important, pour your milk or cream (cream makes the concoction richer, of course) into the spoon but do not stir into the oatmeal, let it lie in a separate layer on top. Never, but never, mix; instead, dig down with your spoon and dredge up the hot oatmeal through the cold milk (or cream).

Well, you won't believe it, but we were so downright anxious to try this revolting sounding experiment, that we didn't wait, but brewed up a batch last weekend, followed the explicit directions for ingesting, and, you know, it really tastes better that way!

The whole story reminds us of a scene in the immensely funny movie "Ruggles of Red Gap," in which Charles Laughton, cast as an English butler, laid down the cardinal rule of tea-making to his

Winners Named In Morco Tournament

Taking the first prize in the weekly Morco tournament ending Sunday were teammates Arthur Long, Carl Kivette, Donald Hopkins and James K. Chenausky, who scored 100 in the par bogey, best ball of all four partners event.

Runners-up with 96 were partners Tommy Currie, Ernest Yarborough, Jerry Graham and Melvin Wicker.

Morco members this week are playing a flag tournament at the Pinehurst Country Club. The next twilight tournament scheduled with the women of the Sandhills Summer Club is set Thursday, August 20.
