Dock G. Smith Named Welfare Staff Attorney

Dock G. Smith, Jr., Robbins attorney, became the first staff attorney for the Moore County welfare department August 1 on a part-time basis, according to announcement made by Mrs. W. B. Cole, public welfare director. Smith, a native of Johnston county, graduated from East Carolina College and the University of North Carolina School of Law, and has practiced law in Moore county since January 1962. He is active in civic, church and community affairs. He is married and the father of three.

"We are fortunate to have Mr. Smith as a member of our staff," said Mrs. Cole, noting that he will give legal advice to persons on referral from the department, and will work specifically with the department on adoption cases, reciprocal enforcement of Support Act and other desertion cases and advise in juvenile court, child custody, support and neglect cases handled by the department.

Other types of service might include collection of insurance payments or debts due welfare clients; titles and other protection of clients' legal rights; divorce actions for indigent cases, termination of guardianship, legal review of guardianship appointment where public assistance payments are being granted, review of wills affecting the welfare of clients, interpretation of certain statutes and rulings of the Attorney General, handling of legitimation cases, consultations in regard to court presentations.

He will provide no services for individuals who are able to pay private lawyers, and will act for the department only in behalf of protecting the rights and providing essential legal aid for welfare recipients, or potential recipients, said Mrs. Cole.

Working with the Reciprocal Support Act will be an important part of his assignment, as said Mrs. Cole. "We have some 40 fathers listed who have deserted their families, for whom this department is providing." Before appointment of the staff attorney the Moore County Bar association provided invaluable aid, for which Mrs. Cole expressed thanks.

Woodruff Passes CPA Exam, Working With Charlotte Accounting Firm

Robert Edward Woodruff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Woodruff of 765 South Ashe St., has become the only young man from this community ever to become a "CPA."

Woodruff, who has been employed with an accounting firm in Charlotte since his graduation from the University last June, has been notified that he passed the Certified Public Accountant examination, which he took last May.

Robert, who graduated from Southern Pines High school in 1960, received his B.S. from the School of Business Administration at Carolina, where he majored in accounting. He was elected a member of Beta Gamma Sigma, honorary Business Administration fraternity.

A summer spent working with Garland McPherson, local CPA, when he was a sophomore at college gave him additional training and helped crystallize his ambitions. He is now with the Arthur Anderson national accounting firm at Charlotte.

He spent the last three weeks at the firm's headquarters in Chicago, returning home Friday. During his absence his wife, the former Kay Underwood of Southern Pines (whose parents now live in Florida) and their year-old daughter Lindsay Kay visited his parents here. Mrs. Woodruff went back to Charlotte with them, and stayed last week.

Woman Bound On 2nd Degree Murder Charge

Probable cause against Reba Ann Williams of Southern Pines was found on a charge of murder in the second degree in Moore recorder's court at Carthage Monday.

A bond of $5,000 had previously been set by a Carthage justice of the peace, which Judge J. Vance Rowe on Monday upped to $10,000. This was academic, however, since the young Negro woman had made no attempt to secure release under bond, but had remained in Moore County jail since her arrest for the fatal shooting of her husband May 23.

The defendant took the stand Monday to state that her husband, El Williams, had fought and beat her and "threatened her life" in the woods near their dwelling in "Lost City," near West Southern Pines. After they had gone to the house and Williams was sitting on the porch with other persons, she said she went to a room in the house, got a shotgun and returned to kill him with one blast.

Chief Deputy Sheriff H. H. Grimm testified that she said soon after the shooting that she "didn't know why she did it," also that in his opinion she had been drinking.

She was returned to Moore County jail to await grand jury action at next week's regular criminal term.

One Defendant Bound Over In MH-30 Larceny

Probable cause was found against James Jones, 43, of Shannon Rt. 1 in Moore Recorder's Court Monday at Carthage on a charge of breaking and entering the Olin-Matheson Chemical Co. at Aberdeen and larceny of several hundred dollars' worth of MH-30, a tobacco spray.

Jones was bound over to the August 17 term of Moore Superior Court under bond of $5,000.

Cases were continued by the State against Joe Scott, also of Shannon Rt. 1, who is similarly charged, and Nick Hunt of Red Springs RFD, charged with receiving.

Arrests of the three Hoke County men followed the theft of 150 gallons, or nearly $2,700 worth of MH-30, in one-and five-gallon cans. Most of the spray, which retails for $17.50 a gallon, has been recovered by officers in Hoke, Robeson and Yadkin counties. Some was found in Jones' car, and some hidden on his home farm and another farm which he leases, according to testimony of Deputy Sheriff H. H. Grimm.
