Bloodmobile Dates Listed For November

John Hauser, president of the Moore County Chapter of the American Red Cross and chairman of the Blood Bank program, has announced the dates this month that the Bloodmobile will be in the area.

Dr. D. D. Gadd and Mrs. Ira Wyche are in charge of the Bloodmobile visits to Pinehurst. Donors in that area are urged to mark Tuesday, November 24, on their calendars, as the Bloodmobile will be at the Pinehurst school gymnasium from 12 noon until 5:30 pm on that date.

The next day, Wednesday, November 25, the Blood Bank mobile unit will be set up in the Baptist Church at Aberdeen from 10 am to 3:30 pm. Sonny Guion and Mrs. Dan Farrell head the committee for the visit.

Monday, November 30, the Bloodmobile will be at the West End school gymnasium from 12 noon to 5:30 pm. Clyde Auman heads the donor program there. It is essential to the county blood program that donors meet the quota of pints set for these

Witnesses Plan Fayetteville Trip

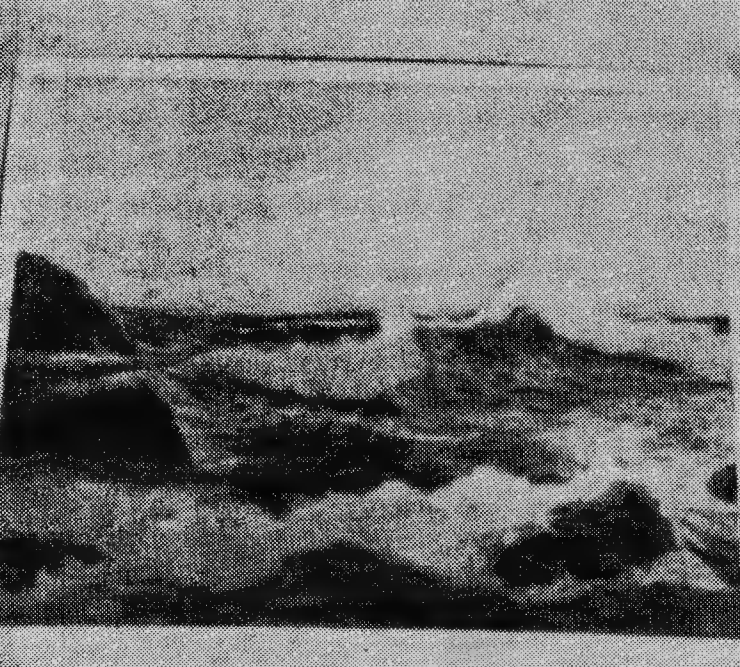

The Southern Pines West unit of Jehovah's Witnesses will attend a training program at Fayetteville Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Men, women and whole families, numbering about 70 in all, will be in the group, said Joseph Mitchell, presiding minister.

They will join a gathering of about 500 at Fayetteville. Several members of the local group will be among 100 volunteers doing the work to operate the assembly. An advanced Bible course will be taught. On Sunday a Watchtower official from New York, James A. Thompson, Jr., will deliver a public address on the subject: "Our Divided World, Is It Here To Stay?"

Mitchell announced that, since so many will be out of town, the regular meetings at the Kingdom Hall will be cancelled this week-end. They will resume Tuesday.

visits, said Chairman Hauser. The quota is based on the number of pints actually used by the two hospitals in the county and by the doctors in all county communities and rural areas.

Scouts And Scouters Honored At Sandhills District Supper

More than 300 Scouters, both men and women, and members of their families attended the annual "Potluck Dinner" of the Sandhills Boy Scout district in the cafeteria of the Aberdeen school Tuesday night.

It was, as a matter of fact, the first such event for the district, created January 1, 1963, (along with the Yadkin Trail district) by division of the fast-growing Moore district.

The dinner planned last fall was cancelled because of the death of President Kennedy. A suitable time for holding it later was never found. This year's event did double duty, even though the district is at present without an executive. Roy McCollum, Fayetteville executive, is supervising temporarily, and was present Tuesday night to help hand out the honors.

At the dinner held mainly for recognition of those who help make the program go, and grow, eight Boy Scouts were honored for having recently won Eagle or For God and Country badges. One boy had earned both. All the honorees were from one troop, No. 68, sponsored by the Aberdeen Lions Club. Bobby Willard, scoutmaster, received special tribute, for continued excellence. Reenactment was made of the award of the Storey Cup for superior performance in all phases of the scouting program, which Troop 68 won last January for 1963.

The Boy Scouts honored in the ceremony conducted by H. Clifton Blue of Aberdeen were new Eagle Scouts, Joseph Robbins, Charles Craven, William Goings, Tommy Cruce, Mickey Lathan (who could not be present) Mickey Melvin and Lindsay Neill. Young Neill was honored also for earning the For God and Country badge, along with Victor Grose and John Burns. Both boys won the religious badges through work done in their church, the Bethesda Presbyterian, and with cooperation of the pastor, Dr. W. C. Neill.

"Outstanding" Scouters

Certificates as "outstanding" Scouters in various categories went to a husband and wife, W. E. Samuels, Jr. cubmaster, and Mrs. Samuels, den mother, of Pack 73, Southern Pines; also to Dr. Bruce Warlick, scoutmaster (Troop 223, Southern Pines); Harvey Scheer, Explorer Post advisor (Post 889, Southern Pines); O. B. Israel, commissioner (working with 11 units at McCain); and J. Kimball Watson, executive committee member. A resident of Southern Pines, Watson is finance chairman on the district executive committee and general chairman of the annual fund drive now under way.

Pack 73 and Troop 223 are sponsored by the Brownson Memorial Presbyterian church of Southern Pines. Explorer Post 889 by the Southern Pines Rotary club.

Robert Henderson, cubmaster of Pack 876, sponsored by Southern Pines' United Church of Christ, received the Scouters Key, a special award for "most outstanding."

Training Awards

Training awards, recognizing training taken and also given to others, went to Mrs. Bruce Warlick, Mrs. W. E. Samuels, Jr., and Mrs. Harry Herendeen; also to Cubmaster Samuels, Scoutmaster Warlick and Robert B. Lamb, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 223. All are from Southern Pines.

Making the awards, in addition to Blue, and with appropriate speeches, were Lamont Brown, program chairman, who presided over the affair; C. C. Thompson, advancement chairman, and Roy McCollum.

A special award to Edward T. Taws, who is completing his second year as district chairman, was presented by Wallace Wood, Occaneechee Council executive.

He handed Taws a special Boy Scout tie clasp, with praise for his leadership.

Year of Progress

This leadership, McCollum reported, has been exemplified in the district's two year existence by a 30 per cent increase in membership, a 20 per cent increase in number of units. The district, comprising Southern Pines, Pinehurst, Aberdeen, Pinebluff and McCain, includes 13 Cub Packs, 21 Scout troops and 14 Explorer units serving some 1,100 boys, with about 300 adult Scouters working in the program. There are about 35 sponsoring institutions.

This accorded well with growth of the Occaneechee Council during the year just past, McCollum said. Now ninth largest in the nation, the Council now numbers some 31,000 Scouts and Scouters in 1,238 units in the 12-county area. New units formed within the year just past numbered 101. As for the potential of both Council and district, the sky's the limit, he declared.

Nat Gregory of Durham, Council vice-president, brought greetings from President Nello Teer of Durham. A special guest, who spoke briefly in congratulation was Barrett Beard of Sanford, incoming Council president, present with his wife.

Special reports were made on the progress of the fund drive, with recognition for its leaders. Attracting much interest was a display of Scoutcraft, for which appreciation was expressed to David Drexler, scoutmaster of Troop 873 of St. Anthony's church, Southern Pines. Mark Liddell announced awards for attendance (won by the newest troop, No. 861) and best table decorations (blue ribbons to Troops 88, 800, 873 and 206; Packs 876 and 73, and Post 889).

Opening ceremony was put on by Troop 223 of Southern Pines, and closing ceremony by Troop 68 of Aberdeen.

College Staffers Plan Program For Superintendents

A presentation and program on the growth and development of the Community College program in the nation and State, highlighting the Sandhills Community College, will be made at a meeting of Sandhills Superintendents of Schools, to be held in the Southern Pines High School library next Wednesday at 4 pm.

Heading the program will be Dr. Raymond A. Stone, president of the Sandhills Community College, assisted by staff members Dr. William F. Banaghan, dean of the college; D. F. Furches, director of adult education, and Sidney G. Chappell, director of student personnel.

Composing the Sandhills Superintendents group are superintendents from Whiteville, Pinehurst, Lumberton, Raleigh, Laurinburg, Rockingham, Hamlet, Sanford, Maxton, Clinton, Chapel Hill, Wadesboro, Fairmont, Scotland County, Red Springs, Fayetteville, Fort Bragg, Hoke County, Sampson County, St. Pauls and Southern Pines.

Achievement Night Program Friday, 13th

The annual Achievement Night program of the Moore County Community 4-H and Home Demonstration Clubs will be held Friday at 7:30 pm at the courthouse in Carthage.

R. E. Jones, State Extension Agent, A & T College, Greensboro, will be the guest speaker. Exhibits by members and non-members will portray some of the 1964 home economics programs, according to Mrs. Amelia S. Capehart, home economics extension agent.

CLASS A PLAYOFF

The Devils of Aberdeen High School will meet the Bulldogs of Liberty High school Friday night at Southern Pines' Memorial Field. The game will be a Class A Playoff contest to decide which team goes to the district finals. Admission is $1.50 for Adults and $1 for children. Kick-off is 8 pm.

"MOST OUTSTANDING" — Receiving special honors Monday night were the Scouters above, from left: O. B. Israel, judged most outstanding commissioner in Sandhills district in 1964; Dr. Bruce Warlick, best scoutmaster; J. Kimball Watson, best executive committeeman; Ted Taws, completing second term as district chairman; Mrs. Bill Samuels, Jr., best den mother, and Bill Samuels, best cubmaster. Not in photo, Harvey Scheer, best Explorer advisor, and Robert Henderson, recipient of Scouters Key as most outstanding Scouter over all.

FOR TROOP EXCELLENCE—Bobby Willard, right, scoutmaster of Aberdeen Troop 68, which received the Storey Cup some months ago for top excellence in 1963, is handed it again in symbolic reenactment and recognition of more recent achievement—his troop produced all of this year's Eagle Scouts and For God and Country Award winners in the district. Making the presentation is C. C. Thompson, advancement chairman, while in background Roy McCollum, acting district executive, looks on.
