Drexel To Teach Scouting Course In Puerto Rico

David A. Drexel of Southern Pines left today for Puerto Rico where he will be instructor in a two weeks "Wood Badge" course for training adult leaders in Boy Scouting. The course is part of the National Boy Scout training program. Mr. Drexel took part as instructor in a similar course in Puerto Rico two years ago. Long active in Scouting, he holds posts in the local council and national Scout organizations. His wife, Mrs. Joan Drexel, and his sister, Mrs. Harry M. Vale, Jr., will join him in Puerto Rico, at the conclusion of the course, and they expect to spend about two more weeks there, before returning to Southern Pines.

On September 2, 1940, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, during ceremonies at Newfound Gap, dedicated Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

Jr. Woman's Club Assists In Varied Projects

Dr. Clifton Davenport spoke to the Junior Woman's Club Tuesday night on "Causes of Birth Defects," a subject in which the club members have a special interest. The March of Dimes Foundations is continuing research into causes of birth defects, the speaker noted.

From surplus funds from the Polio Clinic held in Moore County last spring, in which the Junior Woman's Club shared with other organizations, the club plans to donate $200 to Moore Memorial Hospital, to be used in the purchase of an outside water fountain. They also will give $25 to Camp Easter in the Pines, the Summer camp for crippled children outside Southern Pines.

An art contest for East Southern Pines Schools will be sponsored by the club, it was announced. The club will also enter contestants in the District Music Contest to be held at St. Andrews College, Laurinburg.

A report from the Public Affairs committee included information on the Bloodmobile visit, and lists were distributed to members with names of persons to call who have pledged to replace blood donations.

On February 18, the club members will meet with W. E. Samuels, Jr., to prepare envelopes for the N. C. Society of Crippled Children and Adults, to be mailed to local residents.

A report from the International Affairs committee head noted that bracelets have been ordered for members to buy or to sell. The money from the sale of these will be sent by the club to aid in the construction of rural schools in Mexico—a National and State project adopted by the Junior Women's Club of North Carolina.

Application blanks were given members, to be passed on to prospective students interested in attending the Adult Basic Education program of the Sandhills Community College.

day, February 13 and 14, in the Youth Association Center, Inc. Greenwich Drive, will be open to the public from 3-9 pm February 14.

Carolina Orchids To Have Display In Southeastern Flower & Garden Show

A large array of exotic orchids by a tropical waterfall will be one of the outstanding displays in the Southeastern Flower and Garden Show at the Charlotte Merchandise Mart March 6-14. Mrs. Karl Bridges of Carolina Orchids, Inc., Southern Pines, said this week. Hours for the show are from 11 a.m. - 9:30 p.m. daily except Sunday, when they will be 12 noon to 8 p.m.

Mrs. Bridges is chairman of the North Carolina Orchid Society, which will create the garden. This will be one of 18 beautifully landscaped gardens at the big outdoor-indoor living event.

The huge Mart will be filled with top flight ornamental horticulture displays, combining indoor-outdoor living at its best. The show has grown to a major southeastern educational event which stimulates and increases public understanding of the importance of ornamental horticulture to the individual, community, state and our entire southeastern region.

Special features will be: Fashion shows for the whole family held around the pool of the Main Feature Garden each night at 8 o'clock, except Sunday.

The Avenues of States will feature horticulture and travel information on Southeastern states.

A.I.D. Clinics (11 a.m. and 2 p.m., March 9, 10, 11) on use of carpeting, painting, color, lighting and other aspects of decor. A question and answer period will follow.

Green Thumb Booth staffed by garden experts of The Charlotte Observer, and members of the nurserymen's and flower growers' associations.

Demonstrations on pruning plants and shrubs, March 8 (11 a.m. and 2 p.m.), and on flower arranging March 12, (11 am and 2 p.m.)

Tickets bought in advance in lots of ten are $1 for adults and 25c for students, at the door they are $1.50 adults and 50c children. Tickets may be ordered from Southeastern Shows, Inc., Charlotte Merchandise Mart, 2500 East Independence Blvd., Charlotte, N. C. 28205, Telephone (704) 334-9293.

Contact Mrs. Jean Hubbard, Home Economics Agent, for further information.

Girl Scout Troop 621 Gives Valentine Party

Girl Scout Troop 621 gave a Mother and Daughter Valentine party on Tuesday at Brownson Memorial Presbyterian Church. The troop, in conjunction with their work on their hospitality badge, planned all phases of the party including making valentine decorations, cookies, and serving punch.

They presented a skit, read a Valentine poem, and sang "Getting To Know You," the theme of this year's program during Girl Scout week, March 7-13.

The girls received their hospitality badges at an informal ceremony. Their leaders are: Mrs. Vance Derby, Mrs. Harry Fullenwider and Mrs. Richard Taylor.

MRS. JOSEPH N. STEED III

Bride's Brother Performs Ceremony Uniting Miss Hovis And Mr. Steed

The Rev. Hal R. Hovis of Belton, S. C., officiated at the Saturday wedding of his sister, Miss Elizabeth Ann Hovis and Joseph Newton Steed III. He was assisted by Dr. Julian Lake, pastor of Brownson Memorial Presbyterian Church, where the wedding was held. Haskell Duncan was the soloist and William Stokes was organist.

A reception, given by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garland F. Hovis of Route 1, Dallas, N. C., followed at the Southern Pines Country Club.

The bride, who is music teacher at Aberdeen District Schools, is a graduate of Lincolnton High School and Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S. C. Both she and her husband have done graduate work at UNC, Chapel Hill.

Mr. Steed, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph N. Steed, Jr.

of Dogwood Lane, Southern Pines, attended the Southern Pines High School, and graduated from Carlisle Military Academy and The Citadel in Charleston, S. C. He is employed by Gullistan Carpet, a division of J. P. Stevens, at Aberdeen.

Given by her father in marriage, the bride wore a gown of pearl appliques, the skirt terminating in a chapel train. Her scalloped flowing illusion veil was secured to a rosette crown of satin sprinkled with pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses and variegated ivy centered with a white orchid.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Buck Adams of Pinehurst, and bridesmaids, the bridegroom's sister, Miss Suzanne Steed of Aberdeen and Miss Johnnie Seymour of Raleigh, wore floor length gowns of pink crepe with empire waistlines, the bodices of white lace over pink crepe joined by a pink satin rose. Their headpieces were pink satin rosettes with matching veils and they carried deep pink roses with variegated ivy.

Ushers were Charles Bracey and William Russell, both of Aberdeen; James H. Menzel of Mebane and Russell Carter of Pinebluff.

After a wedding trip to Blowing Rock, the couple will live at 940 N. May St., Southern Pines.

Reception Serving punch at the reception at the country club were Miss Connie Wells of Burlington, Betty Siviter of Aberdeen and Gay Whitlow of Southern Pines, and Mrs. Vesta Funderburk of Aberdeen.

Civic Club Members Hear Talk On Foods

Jane Struthers, dietician and Home Service representative of the Carolina Power & Light Company, gave an interesting talk to a large and responsive audience Monday at the meeting of the East Southern Pines Civic Club.

She told of new, prepared foods that are obtainable, making housekeeping simpler, saving much time and labor, and enabling inexperienced cooks to have fancy foods with a small amount of time and effort.

The speaker was introduced by Miss Doris Swett, program chairman.

Tea, sandwiches and cookies were served by the hostesses, Mrs. W. L. Baker, Mrs. T. H. Dahn, Mrs. George Adams, Mrs. J. George Hohman and Mrs. Dewey Floyd. Mrs. E. W. Muller poured.

Attractive flower and Valentine decorations around the room were arranged by Mrs. Dean Dorman, Mrs. J. D. Sitterson and Mrs. Walter Sargeant.
