Company C Men Back Home From Training

The officers and enlisted men of the Southern Pines-based North Carolina National Guard company are back home again after two weeks of intensive training at Fort Bragg. The men of Company C, 252nd Armor, returned Sunday after participating in the series of 24-hour and 36-hour field problems on the reservation's pine and sand back country

Good Neighbor Council Thanks Its Ex-Chairman

The Southern Pines Good Neighbor Council last night adopted a resolution thanking Dr. Julian Lake for his years of service as chairman of the council. The action was taken at the council's organizational meeting for the new year at the Municipal Center. Dr. Lake, pastor of Brownson Memorial Presbyterian Church, was named chairman of the race-relations council when it was organized in June 1963. The appointment was made by Mayor Morris Johnson and approved by the Town

Telephone Firm Host To Public

United Telephone Company of the Carolinas, Inc., played host last Friday to many Moore County men, women and children in an "Open House" program at the company's building at 385 W. Pennsylvania Ave.

Miss Donna Bowman, 14, of Southern Pines was announced as the winner of the television set awarded as a door prize.

Hers was the second name drawn from the container—and it was drawn unseen by her sister, Debbie, 10. The first name Debbie drew was that of a telephone company employee, and consequently was rejected, since company employees were ineligible.

Fred Teeter, the company's marketing supervisor, served as official host representing the company, at the open

Girl Scout Camp Open For Visitors Friday

Open house will be held from 1:30 to 2:30 pm Friday at Camp Gertrude Tufts near Pinehurst where 100 Girl Scouts, with 27 leaders and senior Scouts, are having a "day camp" this week. Persons interested in seeing the camp and the numerous camping, crafts and other activities conducted there, are invited to visit at that time, said Mrs. Nancy Smith of Pinebluff, camp director.

AT MOORE MEMORIAL HOSPITAL Mental Health Center, Other Facilities To Be Constructed

The N. C. Medical Care Commission last Friday approved construction at Moore Memorial Hospital of a mental health center project which will provide 20 inpatient psychiatric beds and a psychiatric out-patient clinic and day-care unit. Also included in the project is a new cafeteria and 200-seat dining room to replace the existing cafeteria and dining facilities.

Duncan McGoogan, the hospital's administrator, announced that the commission has approved a total project cost of $542,968 to be financed as follows: Federal share, $342,070; State share, $50,000; and local share, $150,898. The new single-story structure, totalling approximately 17,800 square feet, will be connected to the existing hospital near the dietary department and will project towards the visitor's parking lot. The four basic elements of the new construction will be an inpatient unit, outpatient clinic, day care unit, and cafeteria.

The Sandhills Mental Health Center, presently occupying quarters in the Pinehurst Medical Center Building across the street from the hospital, will move into the new outpa-

Soldier Killed In Collision Of Car, Truck

A car-truck collision Friday about 2:30 pm on NC 705, seven miles north of Robbins, took the life of one Green Beret non-com and seriously injured another.

They were members of the 3rd Special Forces Group of Fort Bragg taking part in Cherokee Trail XII, a Special Warfare anti-guerrilla exercise, which had been underway in the area several days.

Staff Sgt. Dennis Esworthy, 26, of Fayetteville was killed when the car he was driving slid out of Rural Paved Road 1412 through a stop sign onto the highway, directly in front of a northbound truck of the Carthage Fabrics Corp., State Trooper W. M. Gay reported. His companion, SFC Billy Evans, 31, also of Fayetteville,

Dawson Program Slated July 14

A plaque will be unveiled and dedication program held, honoring Dr. Amos C. Dawson, Jr., former superintendent of Southern Pines schools, at the Southern Pines Rotary Club's luncheon meeting of Friday, July 14.

The plaque will be installed later in the East Southern Pines school gymnasium, which will be christened "Dawson Gymnasium" at the dedication program, said Schools Supt. Kirby Watson, who is in charge of the program. Details will be announced.

Dr. Dawson, who served a total of 22 years, from 1937 to 1959, with the local schools, has for the past eight years been executive secretary of the NCEA at Raleigh.

Man Fatally Hurt When Hit By Car Friday

Jim Leggett, 52, a Southern Pines town employee described by Town Manager F. F. Rainey as "one of our best workers," was injured fatally Friday at 11:14 pm when struck from the rear by a car as he was walking along the 800 block of West Pennsylvania Ave.

He died in Moore Memorial Hospital about an hour after he was admitted.

A companion, Mrs. Eunice Medlin, about 40, was knocked down by the car but suffered only bruises.

Police said Willie Thomas Ray, 29, of 460 W. New Hampshire Ave., driver of the car, was charged with manslaughter, also careless and reckless driving, and having no operator's license. Murray Young, 47, of 1190 W. Indiana Ave., the car's owner who was a passenger in it at the time, was charged with aiding and abetting on all counts, police said.

Preliminary hearings on the manslaughter count and trial on the misdemeanor counts were scheduled for Southern Pines Recorder's Court today (Wednesday).

There is no sidewalk on West Pennsylvania where the accident occurred and Leggett and Mrs. Medlin were walking on the extreme right edge of the area marked for car parking, near L. D. Hancock's Taxi stand and about 50 feet from Mrs. Medlin's home at 818 W. Pennsylvania Ave.

Police Sgt. Charles Wilson, who investigated with Patrolman J. F. Davis, said the car swerved to the right from the traffic lane and, after striking the two people, plunged forward 279 feet, past a street intersection before stopping, dragging Leggett's body part

LIFE-LINE — The beginning (top) and end (below) of a 5,000-foot-long emergency fire hose water line set up last week to feed Southern Pines water into the depleted Aberdeen municipal water system are shown here. Locations of the hydrants are recognizable from the Holiday Inn sign, above, and the Pinehurst Motor Lodge sign, below, both on No. 1 highway, south. Photographer John Hemmer accompanied the Pinehurst Fire Department, one of several in the area donating hose for the line, to the scene of action and made these pictures, before water began to flow.

School Bill Backing Is Recorded By 3-1

A 3-1 favorable majority vote of Moore County commissioners last Thursday adopted a motion supporting the State Rep. T. Clyde Auman's bill providing for a new system of electing members of the county school board.

The dissenting vote was cast by Commissioner Robert S. Ewing of Southern Pines.

Zoning Okayed For New Area Of The County

A new area of Moore County came under jurisdiction of the county zoning law last Thursday.

The commissioners approved a County Planning Board proposal to add the area to the previously zoned section. The action was taken after a public hearing in which no opposition was expressed. The hearing was held during a special meeting of the commissioners at the courthouse in Carthage. The meeting had been set to hold the hearing and for continuing work on the county budget for 1967-68. The addition to the zoned area runs from US 15-501 on

Camp Easter Visitors: Check Before Arriving

Visitors to Camp Easter in the Pines near Southern Pines, which opened its first two-week session Sunday, are welcome, but they should check in advance with Mrs. Mark Liddell, coordinator, or Lou Manning, director, it was announced this week.

This applies to visitors to the camp for handicapped children, the campers or the counselors, Mrs. Liddell said today. The board of directors of the North Carolina Society for Crippled Children and Adults and the Camp Easter camp committee will meet at the camp Sunday, she said. The camp is owned by the Society.

Wells Will Ease Aberdeen's Water Shortage Crisis

With one new well completed Tuesday and ready for testing, the Aberdeen town board in emergency session Tuesday night decided to have another one dug, starting today, Wednesday. This is expected to tide the town over a water crisis and provide protection from a similar happening for some time to come. Temporary measures taken

Emergency Pipe Ready If Needed To Replace Hose

Pipe seen piled along No. 1 highway between Southern Pines and Aberdeen may or may not be used to replace the fire hose emergency water line that now connects the Southern Pines and Aberdeen water systems in that area, Aberdeen officials said today.

The pipe, borrowed from the US Army Engineers, was brought to the site from Fort Bragg by J. P. Stevens & Co. trucks, for use in case Aberdeen's new wells (one completed and another being drilled) don't produce enough water soon enough.

Officials said they hope the pipe will not be needed, but the hose, they explained, can't hold up indefinitely and, in any case, must be returned to the several fire departments donating it for Aberdeen's use. Aberdeen volunteer firemen again pumped water from Southern Pines through the hose for about three hours in the early morning hours today (Wednesday).

Stockholders Approve Merger Of Local Bank

Stockholders of The Citizens Bank and Trust Company of Southern Pines at a special meeting Monday approved the proposed merger with First Union National Bank of Charlotte.

Final certification of the merger will be subject to the approval of the US Comptroller of the Currency and is expected around August 1.

Approximately 85 per cent of the stock of The Citizens Bank and Trust Company was represented at the meeting either in person or by proxy and all was voted in favor of the merger. A two-thirds majority vote for the merger was required.

N. L. Hodgkins, Sr., chairman of the board and president of The Citizens Bank and Trust Company, presided over the meeting. Officers of First Union National Bank are listed on page 2.

KILLED IN VIETNAM CONFLICT West Point Services Set Monday For 1st Lt. Charles L. Hemmingway

Army First Lt. Charles L. Hemmingway, 24, was killed in action June 13 in South Vietnam, while on a patrol mission, according to information received here last week by his wife from the Defense Department.

Mrs. Hemmingway has been with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Siege of Canterbury Road, since shortly after her husband's departure for Vietnam, January 14. Dr. Siege is the Moore County director of public health. Canterbury Road is in the Sandhills development, off E. Indiana Ave. extension.

Lieutenant Hemmingway and his wife, the former Judith Ann Siege, were married last November 23 at Monterey, Calif., where he was attending the Army Language School prior to his assignment overseas, as an advisor to a Vietnamese airborne division. Following his departure she visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hemmingway, at Dodge City, Kan., before coming to last week, when the town's water shortage was acute, included use of a portable filtration plant borrowed from the State Department of Public Health, and pumping of water from the Southern Pines system via nearly a mile of fire hose hastily laid between the two towns.

A contract for $7,100 for a new well was let last Tuesday by the town, and Water Commissioner E. O. Freeman told the board that the well diggers had said they could drill a test well Wednesday and probably have the second well in operation within another week.

Each one, when it gets into full production, is expected to add 100,000 gallons per day to the normal production of some 400,000 from a spring-fed reservoir with gravity line, and one open well which has been in longtime use.

"We still can't be sure this will be enough and must plan long-range measures to meet the needs of our growing town," said Freeman, president in the absence of Mayor J. M. Taylor, who is on an extended trip abroad.

Meeting with the board were Charles Jones and Ed Powell, engineers with the firm of William F. Freeman Associates of High Point, water consultants for the town since 1948; also Daniel E. McDonald, chief of the water management division of the State Department of Water Resources at Raleigh.

It was determined that the portable filtration plant, pumping some 6,000 gallons per hour from its truck at Aberdeen Lake, was not designed for long-term use and would have to be returned before too long to the State Department of Health. It is of a type long in use by the Army, for emergency use only, and the only one the State possesses.

Also, said Freeman, "We can't ask the firemen to continue to stay up nights to pump water through the hose. They are doing a wonderful job but they are volunteers,"

National Honor Is Presented To Marie Hurst

Miss Marie Hurst of Southern Pines, who lost her legs just below the knees to blood poisoning 11 years ago, was presented a Golden Plate by the American Academy of Achievement last Saturday.

It was her 20th birthday and she is a student nurse at Mercy Hospital in Charlotte. She is scheduled to join the staff of Camp Easter in the Pines near here, a camp for crippled children, June 30, working under supervision of Mrs. Mark Liddell, a registered nurse.

Miss Hurst is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Hurst of 360 E. New Jersey Ave.

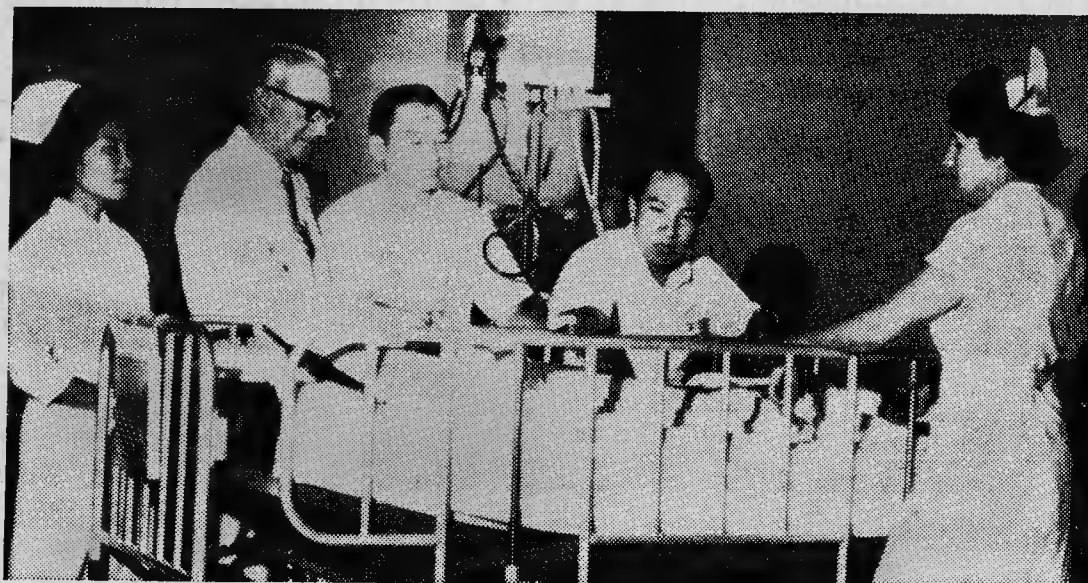

She was one of 50 Americans awarded the Academy of Achievement honor and received it in Dallas, Texas. The awards are made to Americans who are distinguished "as representatives of the many who excel in the great fields of endeavor."

Among the others who were honored were David Lawrence, founder and editor of US News and World Report; and Allen Drury, author of "Advise and Consent."

AT SANDHILLS COLLEGE, HOSPITALS Vietnamese Nurses Studying Here

The Associate Degree Nurses Education Program at Sandhills Community College and the nursing departments at Moore Memorial Hospital, Pinehurst, and at St. Joseph of the Pines Hospital, Southern Pines, are giving special instruction to a group of South Vietnamese nurses during the month of June. The visiting group is sponsored by the U. S. State Department's Agency for International Development.

Miss Anita Smith, chairman of the Sandhills College nursing education program, said that one man and two women are assigned to the college. Nguyen Khoi Phung, a graduate of the Hue Nursing School in South Vietnam was one of Miss Smith's students
