MISS WILLIE VENICHOLAS SMALL
West Southern Pines Commencement Speaker

Miss Small To Deliver Address

(Continued from Page 1) and a graduate of the school where she will be speaking, Miss Small is director of social work for Children's Service, Inc., of Philadelphia. She has a B. S. degree in Elementary Education from Fayetteville State College at Fayetteville and a Master of Social Work degree from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

The Baccalaureate service will be held Sunday, June 1, at 4 p.m. also in the auditorium, with a sermon by the Rev. Joseph Johnson, pastor of Trinity A. M. E. Zion Church here.

West Southern Pines Principal H. A. Wilson will introduce the speakers at both the graduation events. The High School Glee Club will perform on both occasions, and there will also be instrumental music.

Albert Lutz, member of the Moore County Schools Area III Advisory Council and former Southern Pines City School Board member, will present diplomas to the graduates at the Thursday exercises next week and will also be guest soloist with the Glee Club during the Baccalaureate program on Sunday.

Miss Small taught school and did social work in North Carolina, 1942-1954, including six years with the Morrison

Training School at Hoffman. She joined Children's Service at Philadelphia in 1954 and became its director of Social Work in 1957. In 1964 and 1965 she served as director of Lisle Fellowship Summer Program at Copenhagen, Denmark.

She is a member of numerous professional and civil rights groups and has received several awards for social and church work. She retains her membership in Trinity A. M. E. Zion Church here and is active in church work in Philadelphia. She is listed in Who's Who of American Women.

"My chief concern," she said in a recent statement, "is that young people have more opportunity to develop their full human potential."

The Rev. Joseph Johnson, Baccalaureate preacher, is a native of Florida, who served as assistant pastor and pastor of Fayetteville churches before coming to his post in Southern Pines.

He entered the ministry after serving more than 14 years with Army Airborne units, in Medical Corps and Chaplain's sections, in Europe and South America and at many U. S. bases. He is currently taking courses at N. C. State University, in addition to his work with the local church.

The pastor is married to the former Dorothy Sharpe of Wilson and they have two sons, Timothy and Anthony.

The members of the graduating class will be named and pictured in next week's Pilot.

Cerebral Palsy Drive Continues; Need Is Great

Mrs. Charles Rose, general chairman of Moore County United Cerebral Palsy Fund Drive announced yesterday that this year's drive has passed last year's fund collection of $1,157. Funds are steadily continuing to be received toward the goal of $3,000.

She said she has $242.75 from Mrs. A. B. Hardee, Whispering Pines chairman, whose "53-Minute Marchers" consisted of Mesdames Raymond Chuzes, Howard King, Don Russell, Carlton Biggs, Cliff Dawson, Tuby Goughnow, Tom Ardes, Joe Iseman and Joe Callicott.

Mrs. Rose reported that treatment of cerebral palsy is complex because the condition, caused by brain damage occurring usually at birth produces a multiplicity of handicaps. These range from an inability to use the muscles to handicaps in speech, vision, hearing and intelligence.

Much money is needed to continue a 12-year, $10,000,000 research and training program, she noted.

With the fund drive in the last two weeks, marchers who have not completed their assigned territories still have plenty of time before the report day which will be Sunday, June 8. Volunteers who have completed their work should send all folders to Mrs. Charles Rose, 435 Orchard Rd., Southern Pines, or call 692-2853 to have them picked up.

Other contributions can be sent to Mrs. Vivian McKenzie, Treasurer of UCP, Pinehurst, N. C.

Mrs. Taws told the commissioners she considered it "very undemocratic" that Southern Pines people, wanting to pay more toward their children's education, and in a public rather than a private school, should not be allowed to do so. She said, "We are looking for someone who will stand up for us and say that education is the most important thing and so for we have not heard that. It has really made me sick the number of people I have heard who are talking of moving away if you don't give the schools more consideration. These things are not to be ignored and our children are not to be ignored."

To Chairman John M. Currie's insistence that, if they felt that way about it, they should get the board of education to call for a vote, Mrs. Jackson spoke up—"If President Johnson had asked everybody here to vote on the surtax, nobody would have been for it, but we are paying it, because the nation's leaders thought it was important. Our children are the most important product we have in the

Lynn Daeke To Finish At Air Force Academy

Lynn E. Daeke, 1965 graduate of East Southern Pines High School, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Daeke of Southern Pines, is one of more than 600 cadets in this year's US Air Force Academy graduating class. He will receive his bachelor of science degree and be commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Force, June 5.

Cadet Daeke majored in philosophy and was named to the Dean's List for his academic excellence.

He also received special recognition at the Academy by his appointment as flight commander with the rank of cadet captain.

The cadet has been selected for pilot training at Randolph AFB, Tex.

Taylor Given Post At Carolina Academy

MAXTON — A new appointment on the administrative level at Carolina Military Academy was announced this week by Colonel Leslie C. Blankinship, president of the school.

Lacy H. Taylor, presently serving as the Commandant of Cadets has been named to the newly created position of director of development and admissions. The new director has a notable background in public relations, and during his graduate study at Western Carolina University last year filled the position for that institution.

In connection with his responsibility as director of admissions, Taylor is currently setting up plans for the solicitation of young men for C.M.A.'s first regular session day student program beginning in September.

Taylor is a Lumberton native and received his B.S. degree from Appalachian State University and the M.A. degree from Western Carolina University. He is a veteran of the Korean Conflict and taught in the Red Springs Schools before coming to Carolina Military Academy upon its opening in 1962.

Finals Set Friday At Central Carolina

Dr. Neill Rosser, Professor of Education at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, will be the commencement speaker. Dr. Rosser, a Harnett County native, recently served as chairman of the Governor's Study Commission on Education.

Mrs. Audrey McCaskill, Moore County register of deeds, is a patient at Moore Memorial Hospital, where she underwent surgery last Thursday. She is recuperating satisfactorily and is now having visitors.

(Continued from Page 1) sion of intent, not final until the commissioners adopt their full budget by resolution in June. However, they made it plain that this was their unalterable decision.

Appearing for the board, Mrs. John L. Frye, chairman, W. H. Matthews, Jack Reid, Dr. David H. Bruton and Jere McKeithen, with Supt. Robert E. Lee and Associate Supt. C. E. Powers, did not carry the fight to any great lengths, since they had already had word from the individual commissioners that a majority couldn't be mustered.

But the patrons—Mrs. Edward Taws, Mrs. E. Nolley Jackson, Mrs. William R. Bond III, Mrs. C. R. VanderVoort and Mrs. James Baynard—were something else again.

Mrs. Taws told the commissioners she considered it "very undemocratic" that Southern Pines people, wanting to pay more toward their children's education, and in a public rather than a private school, should not be allowed to do so. She said, "We are looking for someone who will stand up for us and say that education is the most important thing and so for we have not heard that.
