

WATER VISTAS — This is not a golf course but huge Lake Surf where many water sports take place while golfers play along the shoreline. The golf course was filled on Sunday afternoon.—(Photo by Glenn M. Sides).

Lakeview Group Voices Opposition To Industry Waste Disposal Plan

BY JENNIFER CALDWELL
Approximately 75 angry Lakeview residents, all in opposition to proposed waste-water disposal by Pride-Trimble into Crystal Lake, voiced their disapproval at a public hearing held at Sandhills Community College Monday night.

Citizens To Get Chance To Talk About Highways

A public meeting for comment and citizen involvement in the planning process for improvement of the state highway system will be held in Southern Pines on Wednesday, June 28.

Girl Killed In Wreck Of Auto

Susan Lynn Bailey, 18, of Rt. 1, Biscoe was fatally injured by an automobile accident that occurred at 12:32 a.m. on Saturday, May 13, on the Montgomery-Moore County line.

The other occupant of the car, Michael Dwayne Horton, 16, of Star, was not injured. State Highway Patrol Trooper Myron Gay reported that the vehicle, a 1971 Capri owned by Horton's mother, went around a curve at an excessive speed and

(Continued on Page 9-A)

ABSENTEES—The deadline for applying for an absentee ballot to vote in the May 30 Democratic second primary is Wednesday, May 24, the Moore County Board of Elections has announced.

There are 12,056 registered Democrats as of April 30, according to the board.

Mrs. Doris Fuquay of the Board of Elections said that as of Monday afternoon there have been 27 applications for absentee ballots.

McKNIGHT—David McKnight, who ran fifth in the eight-man race for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate in the primary on May 2, is now working in the Luther Hodges campaign in the runoff election determine whether a permit filed by the Yackin Road Company will be issued or denied. The permit in question would give Pride-Trimble the authority to develop and use its own $150,000 electroplating waste treatment facility, of which the residual water would flow into a tributary of McDeeds Creek. Opponents of this measure want the treated water to flow through the regional system. McDeeds Creek flows into an

The meeting here is one of 14 to be held across the state by the Secretary of Transportation Thomas W. Bradshaw Jr. The June 28 meeting will be for Division Eight of the Highway Division and will include representatives from the counties of Chatham, Hoke, Lee, Montgomery, Moore, Randolph, Richmond and Scotland counties.

Further details will be announced later. Bradshaw said that each of the meetings will seek to get local leaders involved in the annual update of the highway improvement program.

The Highway Improvement Program is a planned and programmed course for highway construction that balances anticipated revenue against estimated highway project costs for the next seven years.

The Highway Improvement Program is the department's basic planning document and includes projects on North Carolina's rural primary and on May 30. The Hodges headquarters announced that McKnight, a former Fayetteville newspaperman, is working full-time as a volunteer field coordinator.

(Continued on Page 12-A)

MORROW—Dr. Sarah Morrow, Secretary of the Department of Human Resources, paid a visit last week to the recently opened therapeutic wilderness camp near Candor.

The camp is on the site of the former Carolina Boys Camp, which was operated for several years by the Learning Institute of North Carolina but was forced to close when the state embarked on a similar program under reorganization.

(Continued on Page 12-A)

area that has often been concerned with the quality of water in the past — the community of Lakeview. The major lake in the community has been polluted by improper waste treatment in the past, it was reported.

McDeeds Creek and other tributaries flow into Crystal Lake in Lakeview. Citizens of that community and of other communities in Moore County are up in arms at the prospect of improperly treated metals appearing in their water.

Representatives from Pride-Trimble were at hand with statistics to alleviate the fears of Lakeview residents; but at the meeting's end many of those from Lakeview still felt the same as one man who said "It seems to me this water's almost good enough to drink. If it's so good,

Revenue Sharing Funds For Town Is $228,000

The Town of Southern Pines will receive $228,000 in Revenue Sharing funds during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1979, it was revealed at a public hearing Tuesday night.

The public hearing is required by the federal government before the town holds its budget hearing and is a chance for citizens to suggest uses for the Revenue Sharing funds.

This is the first year the federal government has placed no restrictions on the use of the funds.

The town is allowed to use the money for anything that the state would allow its public funds to be used for as long as it meets certain regular restrictions such as non-discrimination and minimum wage law. The town has made a practice of using the

Social Services--Too Much Paper Work

BY PATSY TUCKER
(This is the first in a series of stories on the workings of the Moore County Department of Social Services. As the department covers such a wide territory the stories have been broken down into three sections covering: general workings of the agency; child care services and services to the elderly).

This large county operated department employs 55 people who spend their entire working hours helping people with a variety of problems. The three social workers who are in direct contact with the people served by the department are Susan Dohrmann, Carol Busby, Supervisor of Service, why doesn't Pride-Trimble use it again?"

Why System Needed
Pride-Trimble is about to institute a new electroplating facility to their operation, that involves the elements nickel, chrome, and iron. In order to use these metals, Pride-Trimble must meet state and federal standards for treatment of their residual waste.

Regardless of whether Pride-Trimble sends the treated waste into McDeeds Creek or through the regional treatment system, the company is required to install its own treatment system for the metallic waste.

It will be a cost-saving measure to the company to send the treated water through McDeeds Creek.

Arson Case

The Sheriff's Department investigated an apparent arson May 11 at the home of Delmer D. Doerner of 47 Crane Creek Dr. in Riverview Acres, it was reported.

Approximately $16,000 worth of tools, a building and a boat were burned. The case is still under investigation.

Arson Case

The Sheriff's Department investigated an apparent arson May 11 at the home of Delmer D. Doerner of 47 Crane Creek Dr. in Riverview Acres, it was reported.

Social Services--Too Much Paper Work

BY PATSY TUCKER
(This is the first in a series of stories on the workings of the Moore County Department of Social Services. As the department covers such a wide territory the stories have been broken down into three sections covering: general workings of the agency; child care services and services to the elderly).

This large county operated department employs 55 people who spend their entire working hours helping people with a variety of problems. The three social workers who are in direct contact with the people served by the department are Susan Dohrmann, Carol Busby, Supervisor of Service,

Zoning Plan Delayed; Referendum Proposed

The Moore County Commissioners voted Monday night to postpone indefinitely any action on the zoning plan proposed by the Planning Board.

It was a 3-1 vote with Lee Williams, Carolyn Blue and Arthur Purvis voting for it and Tony Parker voting against it.

For the last five years, the Planning Board has been working on a proposal to zone 40,000 acres in the southwestern part of the county, but the proposal met with so much opposition at last Thursday night's public information session, the Commissioners decided to reject the proposal of the Planning Board.

In making the motion, Purvis mentioned that the proposed zoning concerns the area around Pinehurst and Foxfire and that since planning began on the zoning, Foxfire has incorporated, has its own zoning power and may extend its zoning one mile beyond its limits. He

(Continued on Page 9-A)

Foxfire Zoning

Following the public hearing last week the Foxfire Village Council met in special session Monday, May 15, and unanimously approved the Zoning Ordinance Amendments required to exercise zoning jurisdiction over the one mile extra-territorial area.

A meeting with the residents of the area is scheduled for Tuesday, May 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the Foxfire Country Club meeting room. This meeting is to acquaint residents with the provisions and effect of the Ordinance and to select a slate of extra-territorial candidates for membership on the Planning and Zoning Board and the Board of Adjustment.

Sandhills Awards Day Is Staged

The Awards Day at Sandhills Community College was held on the campus Monday, May 15, with Dr. Raymond A. Stone, Sandhills president presiding.

The annual event recognizes students for outstanding achievements with awards donated by friends of the college.

Dr. Stone paid tribute to the individuals and organizations who have given scholarships and prizes which serve as incentives to students to perform with honor in their academic work at the college.

The recipients of awards were as follows:

David L. Ingram, Southern Pines, first year student in medical laboratory technology, was the recipient of the Dr. Harold C. Steffee award established by Mrs. Steffee as a memorial to her husband, an adjunct professor at Sandhills for several years. It provides tuition for the second year of the

Social Services--Too Much Paper Work

BY PATSY TUCKER
(This is the first in a series of stories on the workings of the Moore County Department of Social Services. As the department covers such a wide territory the stories have been broken down into three sections covering: general workings of the agency; child care services and services to the elderly).

This large county operated department employs 55 people who spend their entire working hours helping people with a variety of problems. The three social workers who are in direct contact with the people served by the department are Susan Dohrmann, Carol Busby, Supervisor of Service,

Parents Can Get Results Of Tests

Parents in Moore County who have a child in grades 1, 2, 3, 6, or 9 will soon receive the results of their child's achievement on tests administered during April.

The testing was given as part of the statewide annual testing program. Individual student scores are being returned to schools between May 8 and 26 and parents should receive individual student scores between May 15 and 31.

Parent-teacher conferences will be held as well as other methods of communicating with parents about their child's achievement and progress or plans for remediation. Each local school system will release grade and school scores around July 24. State results are scheduled to be released at the August meeting of the State Board of Education.

Individual student scores will not be considered as public record, according to legislation and Chapter 132-1 of the General Statutes. Legislation goes further to state that the scores

Golf Vistas, Club In Civil Actions

Over $800,000 is involved in a suit brought against The Lawn and Tennis Club of North Carolina and Golf Vistas, Inc., by a lending agency based in Washington, D.C., that alleges the two corporations are in default on a note signed three and a half years ago.

Golf Vistas, Inc. and The Lawn and Tennis Club of N.C., Inc. are involved in a suit which was brought against them at the first of the year by the Mortgage Investors of Washington, with Mosley G. Boyette, Jr. of Southern Pines acting as substitute trustee. The case is now on appeal.

In November 1977, M.I.W. tried to foreclose a deed of trust, claiming that Golf Vistas and The Lawn and Tennis Club were in default on payment of a note.

Plaintiffs for this matter are the President of Golf Vista, Timothy O'Leary of Pinehurst and Sam Poole of Southern Pines, president of The Lawn and Tennis Club.

They are plaintiffs rather than defendants in most of the actions because they initiated several orders against M.I.W., according to Boyette and local attorney Vance Derby, also a defense attorney for the Washington-based investment firm, in a legal document on file in the Moore County Courthouse.

In a letter to Timothy O'Leary dated November 11, 1977, the investment firm asked that the remaining balance of the original loan be paid no later than the first of the year.

The original note was signed (Continued on Page 12-A)

Pros And Cons Of Zoning Plan Aired At Meeting In Carthage

BY ELLEN WELLES
Existing and proposed Moore County zoning was presented and discussed last Thursday night at a public information session held at the Court House in Carthage.

The county Planning and Zoning Administrator, Tony Carlyle, and the County Commissioners appeared before a packed courtroom for the two-hour session in which the majority of citizens attending

Parents Can Get Results Of Tests

Parents in Moore County who have a child in grades 1, 2, 3, 6, or 9 will soon receive the results of their child's achievement on tests administered during April.

The testing was given as part of the statewide annual testing program. Individual student scores are being returned to schools between May 8 and 26 and parents should receive individual student scores between May 15 and 31.

Parent-teacher conferences will be held as well as other methods of communicating with parents about their child's achievement and progress or plans for remediation. Each local school system will release grade and school scores around July 24. State results are scheduled to be released at the August meeting of the State Board of Education.

Individual student scores will not be considered as public record, according to legislation and Chapter 132-1 of the General Statutes. Legislation goes further to state that the scores

Golf Vistas, Club In Civil Actions

Over $800,000 is involved in a suit brought against The Lawn and Tennis Club of North Carolina and Golf Vistas, Inc., by a lending agency based in Washington, D.C., that alleges the two corporations are in default on a note signed three and a half years ago.

Golf Vistas, Inc. and The Lawn and Tennis Club of N.C., Inc. are involved in a suit which was brought against them at the first of the year by the Mortgage Investors of Washington, with Mosley G. Boyette, Jr. of Southern Pines acting as substitute trustee. The case is now on appeal.

In November 1977, M.I.W. tried to foreclose a deed of trust, claiming that Golf Vistas and The Lawn and Tennis Club were in default on payment of a note.

Plaintiffs for this matter are the President of Golf Vista, Timothy O'Leary of Pinehurst and Sam Poole of Southern Pines, president of The Lawn and Tennis Club.

They are plaintiffs rather than defendants in most of the actions because they initiated several orders against M.I.W., according to Boyette and local attorney Vance Derby, also a defense attorney for the Washington-based investment firm, in a legal document on file in the Moore County Courthouse.

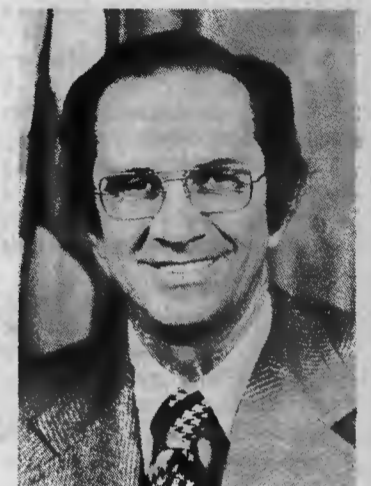

In a letter to Timothy O'Leary dated November 11, 1977, the investment firm asked that the remaining balance of the original loan be paid no later than the first of the year.

The original note was signed (Continued on Page 12-A)

Pros And Cons Of Zoning Plan Aired At Meeting In Carthage

BY ELLEN WELLES
Existing and proposed Moore County zoning was presented and discussed last Thursday night at a public information session held at the Court House in Carthage.

The county Planning and Zoning Administrator, Tony Carlyle, and the County Commissioners appeared before a packed courtroom for the two-hour session in which the majority of citizens attending

Rep. Bill Hefner

Hefner To Speak At Finals

Congressman W.G. (Bill) Hefner, Representative of the 8th Congressional District, will be the speaker for the Commencement ceremony at Sandhills Community College.

The service will be held at 8 o'clock in the evening on Friday, May 26, in the Fountain Courtyard on the Sandhills campus.

A total of 286 men and women will receive Associate Degrees and diplomas at the exercises, according to Dr. Raymond A. Stone, president of Sandhills. He noted the number of graduates

Rev. Deese Stricken, Dies at 40

The Rev. Philip Wayne Deese, 40, was dead on arrival at a Greensboro hospital Tuesday night after he was stricken by an apparent heart attack while playing at a church softball game, it was learned today.

The Rev. Mr. Deese was pastor at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Southern Pines until 1971, when he went to Greensboro as senior minister at the First Lutheran Church.

Funeral services are being arranged by Hanes-Lineberry (Continued on Page 12-A)

Pros And Cons Of Zoning Plan Aired At Meeting In Carthage

BY ELLEN WELLES
Existing and proposed Moore County zoning was presented and discussed last Thursday night at a public information session held at the Court House in Carthage.

The county Planning and Zoning Administrator, Tony Carlyle, and the County Commissioners appeared before a packed courtroom for the two-hour session in which the majority of citizens attending

Pros And Cons Of Zoning Plan Aired At Meeting In Carthage

BY ELLEN WELLES
Existing and proposed Moore County zoning was presented and discussed last Thursday night at a public information session held at the Court House in Carthage.

The county Planning and Zoning Administrator, Tony Carlyle, and the County Commissioners appeared before a packed courtroom for the two-hour session in which the majority of citizens attending BUTTERFLIES AGAIN — For a long time, because of increasing urbanization, there were few butterflies in the Sandhills. But now they are back, and Photographer Bob Rufa caught this one with his camera on a recent sunny day.

THE PILOT LIGHT

ABSENTEES--The deadline for applying for an absentee ballot to vote in the May 30 Democratic second primary is Wednesday, May 24, the Moore County Board of Elections has announced.