

May Travel Events

The travel season really swings into high gear in May with a widely diverse calendar of events highlighted by the World 600 auto race at Charlotte Motor Speedway on May 24. This event, which attracts more people than any other sports event in the state, will share the spotlight in May with another race—one which will be a bit slower—on May 9. The Tanglewood Steeplechase will be run over the course at Clemmons. It was originally reported to have been scheduled in April but the date this year was changed to May 9. Among the other activities highlighting the May calendar are a Brick Festival at Sanford May 9-17 noting the fact that North Carolina is the leading brick manufacturer in the United States, a hang gliding spectacular at Jockey's Ridge State Park at Nags Head featuring competition among pilots from all over the United States, and the Big Ivy Ramp Festival at Barnardsville in Buncombe County north of Asheville. There will be patriotic celebrations in May including a Memorial Day observance at the USS North Carolina Battleship Memorial at Wilmington May 25.

Moore Schools Groups To Perform In Raleigh

Three Moore County middle school musical groups are scheduled to perform at the Capital Square Arts Festival in Raleigh during the three week celebration May 4-22. Pinehurst Middle School band and chorus will perform May 5, with the band playing at noon, followed by the chorus at 12:30. Southern Pines Middle School band is scheduled to play Monday, May 11 at noon. More than 50 musical groups from elementary and high schools throughout the state will hold lunch hour performances each weekday during the festival, as part of the annual event sponsored by the Division of Cultural Arts of the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction.

In addition, during the festival, student art work will be on display, at the Superintendents' Choice Art Exhibit, held in the Old Capital Building.

An ink portrait drawn by Marcia Williams, a 11th grader at Pinecrest High School, will be displayed at the art show. The drawing won honorable mention at the art show at Town and Country Shopping Center last week, and was chosen as the piece to represent Moore County schools in the festival.

Bookmobile Schedule

Tuesday, May 12—Wedgewood, Mrs. McCaskill's, 9-9:15; Hunter's Glen, 9:20-9:40; Southern Pines Social Service Bldg., 9:50-10; Penick Home, 10:10-10:25; 300 Block E. Pennsylvania Ave., 10:35-10:45; Mary Dennis Manor, 10:55-11:25; 500 Block W. Vermont Ave., 11:30-12:10; lunch 12:10-12:40; Highland Trails, 12:55-1:30; Bethesda Farm, Devonshire Dr., 1:45-2:15; Bethesda Rd.-Mrs. Peacock's, 2:20-2:30; Rehabilitation Center, Pine St., 2:35-2:50; Crestline-Raeferd Rd., 3:05-3:35; County Line Road, 3:45-4:15. Wednesday, May 13—S.E. Hannon, 9-9:15; Sara Dunlap, 9:30-9:45; Big Oak Church, 10:10-10:30; Eagle Springs P.O., 10:45-11:15; West End Nutrition Site, 11:30-12; lunch 12-12:30; Sandhills Mental Health Seven Lakes, 12:40-1:05; Seven Lakes North Clubhouse, 1:15-2; Foxfire Swimming Pool, 2:30-3. Thursday, May 14—Carthage Nutrition Site, 12:15-12:45; lunch 12:45-1:15; Open Door Day Care Center, 1:30-2:10; Mrs. Monroe-Murdocksville, 2:20-2:30; Mrs. Neff-Eastwood, 2:40-2:50. Friday, May 15—Kiddie Korner Day Nursery, 9-10; 6th & Crest, 10:10-10:35; North Poplar Street, 10:40-10:50; Sandhills Montessori School, 11-11:50; lunch 12-12:30; Piggly Wiggly, 12:30-1; Moore Memorial Hospital, 1:30-2:30; Manor Care, 2:40-3; Mrs. Milliken's Nursery, 3:15-4.

AT MAGIC SHOW—Children at the magic show presented by Magic Time USA, buy puzzles from members of the tour group. The show, presented at the Southern Pines Middle School Monday evening, raised over $1,500 for the Southern Pines Rescue Squad.—(Photo by Liz Huskey).

Anne Frank Film Slated At Library

Southern Pines Library will present "The Diary of Anne Frank" Saturday, May 9. Showtime is 2 p.m. with free admission. Produced in 1959, "The Diary of Anne Frank," adapted from the book, "Diary of A Young Girl," is the story of the Frank family, Amsterdam Jews, who hid in an attic from the Nazis for two years, in company with another family of friends. The film captures the book's terse, claustrophobic suspense and the ingrown drama of the two families' enforced togetherness. Their courage is here along with their sufferings, caught in this small piece of brutal history.

Starring are Millie Perkins Joseph Schildkraut, and Shelley Winters in roles that are surprisingly well acted and totally believable. George Stevens directed the film, openly copying the Broadway hit in his sets and scene divisions.

This story has been told as a book, a play, a film, and in several versions on television. Still, its impact is not dulled by the repetition. It remains a stark, touching drama of personal triumph and family love.

On May 16, the library will feature the 1938 suspense hit, "Night Must Fall," starring Robert Montgomery in one of his most engaging roles.

Union Pines Band Starts Activities

BY BARBARA DANLEY As the crowd watches in awe, the band strikes up a tune. The music inspires various feelings and reactions—happiness, sadness, smiles and sighs, snapping fingers, patting feet and even quiet tears. However, Union Pines Band Director David Seiberling says, "people don't see the hours and weeks of performance and practice" which goes into the fifteen or twenty minutes of musical delight or countless other duties which are a must to a successful band.

Sandwiching money making projects between parades and football field show performances, the Union Pines Band and Band Boosters worked especially hard funding a trip to Ft. Meyers, Florida in February, where Union Pines participated in the Edison Pageant of Light, one of the largest and most outstanding tributes to any single American—Thomas Alva Edison.

With these activities behind them, the Union Pines Band begins preparations for the coming year, and according to Seiberling they are busy doing those thousands of things "that people never see."

In an effort to pull together talented students for the coming year, recruiting and auditions for Flag and Rifle Corps have topped the list of necessary duties, which began more than a month ago.

Two or three members of the Auxiliary Corps or Color Guard, as it is known to many, were sent to each of the four "feeder schools," Cameron, Carthage, Sandhills Farm Life and Vass Lakeview, to work with interested girls. From the sixty girls auditioning thirty-two were chosen to serve as next year's Color Guards.

Last week, recruiting programs began for prospective fifth grade band students and high school drum majors. Four or five were expected to try out for Drum Major during the audition period, which will be held two days each week for three weeks.

In Seiberling's three years at Union Pines he says he cannot remember ever having a band as large as this one, which is shaping up for next year.

"I know it's been over seventy, and I think, it's been over eighty, but to the best of my knowledge, never over ninety," he commented as to the size of combined playing and non-playing band members.

Next year the Union Pines Band is expected to be composed of more than sixty playing members, whereas this year's record was forty-six. The Auxiliary Corps will increase from nine to thirty-two members; while two or three Drum Majors will be added to the past year's total of two.

Not only is the Union Pines Band growing by leaps and bounds so are the Junior High Bands. According to Seiberling, "students are picking up on band at the sixth grade level and sticking with it."

Junior High Band students from the four schools meet bi-monthly to play together. Both Union Pines and the Junior High Bands have consumed much time recently practicing their parts in preparation for the annual Spring Concert scheduled for Sunday, May 17, in the Union Pines High School auditorium.

The hardest work is performed during the quietest times. Thus we might conclude, in any group, organization or profession good people make a task look easy; but seldom is the hard work behind such tasks seen.

Show Repeat

The "North Carolina People" television program featuring interviews by Dr. William Friday with James Tufts of Pinehurst and Sam Ragan of Southern Pines will be repeated Sunday at 6 p.m. on Channel 4. The first showing of the program in which old and present-day life in the Sandhills is discussed was on Tuesday night.

HALIFAX AUDITIONS

Robert Caprio, Director of "The First For Freedom" outdoor drama, staged in Halifax, announces that open auditions will be held on May 17 at 2 p.m. in the Joseph Montford Amphitheater in Halifax. The cast of approximately 30 includes mostly men who will be portraying historic characters in our Revolutionary War. Reading material will be furnished. The drama season opens June 25 at 8:30 p.m. and plays Wednesday through Saturday evenings, closing on August 1.

VIEW OF PRESS "Inside Story," the first nationally televised examination of press performance, will premiere Thursday, May 7 at 8 p.m. on center Channel 4. This series of eight weekly half-hour magazines will feature Hodding Carter, former Assistant Secretary of State for Public Affairs, as its anchorman and chief correspondent. "Inside Story" will utilize film, tape and commentary to illustrate and examine how the press—including television and radio news, newspapers and news magazines—handle developments in the news. Each program will concentrate on how well the news consumer was served by press coverage.

WRITING WORKSHOPS

Writing is a skill that everyone has and yet everyone can improve. A series of three-hour workshops offered by Duke University Office of Continuing Education is designed to help people in a variety of careers to write concisely, attractively, and efficiently. The instructor is Lucy Knight, a freelance writer who now works as Coordinator of Research Support at Duke. Individual sessions will meet from 6 to 9 p.m. in the Vivins Building on Duke's East Campus, beginning June 23.

CHAPEL HILL EXHIBIT

The work of New York artist Lloyd Goldsmith is now on view through May 31 at the Ackland Art Museum at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. The exhibition of Goldsmith's four, large graphite drawings is part of the Ackland's mini-series "Facets," created to explore the widest possible variety of work being done by contemporary artists.

THEATER ON TV

Masterpiece Theater will celebrate its 10th anniversary with a 22-week "Festival of Favorites," a selection of highlights of a decade of programming which will air, beginning May 3, at 9 p.m. On the retrospective schedule is Balzac's "Cousin Bette" (1972), the story of a woman's revenge that is generally considered the first of the naturalistic French novels.

YOUTH CONCERT

A showcase of young musical talent was featured during a free Greensboro Symphony Youth Orchestra concert on Tuesday, May 5, 8:15 p.m., at Weaver Education Center, 300 S. Spring St. Joining the Greensboro Symphony Youth Orchestra was the 50-member Chapel Hill Young Peoples Orchestra, the 50-member Page High School Choir directed by Sam Doyle, four UNC-G vocalists, and pianist Bill Dameron, winner of the Symphony Guild-sponsored 1981 Young Artist Competition.

FINAL CONCERT

The Youth Symphony of the Carolinas will give its final concert of the season on Sunday, May 17, at 3 p.m. in Dana Auditorium on the campus of Queens College. The winners of the Young Artist Competition—Gary Chapin, Stefan Gabriel, and Dale Jarrett—will be the soloists for this program.

NCSU Finals Set On May 16

North Carolina State University will hold its 1981 commencement Saturday, May 16, as thousands of students, faculty, relatives and other friends fill the William Neal Reynolds Coliseum. Although definite totals cannot be given until after exams, NCSU officials estimate more than 3,000 men and women will be awarded their degrees during the ceremony which will start with the academic procession at 9:15 a.m. Dr. Frank Rhodes, president of Cornell University, will deliver the principal address. UNC President William C. Friday, NCSU Chancellor Joab L. Thomas and representatives of the graduating class also will give brief remarks. Chancellor and Mrs. Thomas will open the commencement weekend with an open house from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday, May 15, for the degree-winners and their families at the chancellor's residence.

Using too much dishwasher detergent may cause a film on stainless steel tableware. This film can be removed with silver polish.

CONTEST WINNERS — Winners of the McDonald's Day contest held last week are: (L to R) John Ebbert, third; Keith Vest, first; Betsy Tate, second; and Tony Oxendine, manager of McDonald's; (back row) Sally Hyde and Allison Crumpler, honorable mention. Not pictured are Wendy Webster and Anthony Floyd.

The LOB STEER

Has A Deal You Can't Refuse!

SHISH KE-BAB
Beef Tips, Onions, Mushrooms, Peppers, All Roasted On A Skewer To Perfection.

starring the most unbelievable DINNER SPECIAL in town!

SHISH KE-BAB FOR TWO

A trip to the Salad Bar. Our Own Hot Buttered Bread. Served with a special beverage.

ALL FOR ONLY $9.95 TOTAL

IT OUGHTA BE AGAINST THE LAW!

This Special Good Thursday Only!
(from 6 PM to 11 PM) U.S. Hwy. No. 1 Southern Pines, N.C. (919) 692-3503

We Offer All Types of Catering To Your Home Or Office Call 692-3503

NOW PICKING!!

GROWN ON STRAW MULCH

STRAWBERRIES

PICK-YOUR-OWN BRING-OWN-CONTAINERS
Open At 7:00 A.M.

—Centrally Located—
5 Miles From Southern Pines, 6 Miles From Pinehurst,
1 Mile From Whispering Pines, 7 Miles From Carthage

Located on Highway 22, 2 Miles North of Southern Pines Airport (Towards Carthage). Look For Sign.

MAC FARMS PHONE 949-2730 ROBERT McLEOD, OWNER

THE FRENCH CONNECTION

Paris Or Bust!

Chevette Scooter Hatchback Coupe

$4589⁰⁰ Stk. #453

Mike McBrayer Can Win A Trip To Paris, France If we Can Sell 50 New Chevrolets By May 24th!

Mike Says To Sell Them, So Any Reasonable Offer Will Not Be Refused!

He's So Set On Going We're Counting Them Down On The Showroom Window, So Hurry & Help Us Get The Boss Out Of Town...Oui Oui!

McBRAYER

HWY. 15-501 & 1 N. ABERDEEN, N. C. 944-2111