Auxiliary 'Poppy Day' Slated Here On Friday

Volunteers from Unit 134, American Legion Auxiliary, Southern Pines will be on the downtown streets Friday, May 29 for their annual Poppy Day.

The poppy as the memorial flower for American war dead is a tradition which began in the first World War. Veterans returning to their homes in this country remembered the wild poppies which lined the devastated battlefields of France and Flanders. The soldiers of all nations came to look upon this flower as a living symbol of their dead comrades' sacrifice.

But many persons came home from wars disabled and they too made important sacrifices. These also are honored by the memorial poppy and the monies donated by an appreciative public are spent entirely for help to them and their families as well as for the families of deceased veterans.

The poppies themselves are made by disabled veterans confined to VA hospitals. These people are paid a small sum which they can use for personal needs.

The poppies are not sold; those who accept a poppy are invited to contribute whatever they feel they can. Poppy Day will begin about 8:30 a.m. and continue until 5 p.m.
