

Veasey-Bagnall Wedding Held May 30 In Columbia

Miss Sandra Barnett Bagnall of Florence, S.C., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mallard Ralph Bagnall, Jr. of Columbia, S.C. became the bride of Robert Thomas Veasey, Jr. of Florence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomas Veasey of Aberdeen, at a candlelight wedding on Saturday, May 30 at 6:30 p.m. in First Baptist Church, Columbia, S.C. The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Ralph Barnett Hollingsworth of Columbia and the late Mr. Hollingsworth and the late Mr. and Mrs. Mallard Ralph Bagnall of Columbia. She was graduated from James H. Hammond Academy; attended Converse College and graduated from Clemson University with a B.S. degree in economics, with honors. She was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity. She was presented at the 1976 Camellia Ball. She is presently employed as a branch manager for the South Carolina National Bank in Florence, S.C.

The fitted bodice was finished with a wedding band binding over the hipline which accented the shirred hip puffs that fell into a cathedral train.

Her veil of French illusion was worn in double tiers with a French bonnet halo appliqued in embroidery that matched that on her gown and which continued into a border edging her veil. She carried a semi-cascade bouquet of gardenias, stephanotis, and ivy which was attached to a mother-of-pearl Bible, a gift of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Lucas, her aunt and uncle. She carried a handkerchief made for her by her late great-grandmother. The bride wore a strand of pearls, a wedding gift from the bridegroom. The gown worn by the bride has been worn by five others members of her family: her mother, her sister, her aunt and aunt's two daughters.

Mrs. Albert Sidney Miller, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a floor length gown of Melon voile over taffeta. The dress was fashioned with tiny spaghetti straps, an inset of ivory schiffi lace on the bodice and a voile jacket that tied at the waist and had matching lace insets on the sleeves. She wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the bride. She carried a semi-cascade bouquet of orange glow roses, Sonja gerber daisies, miniature carnations and baby's breath.

Moore GOP Women Now Third Largest In NC

Although the Moore Republican Women's Club is only the third most recently organized in North Carolina, it is already the third largest, and the local club did not organize until last October—and did not receive its charter until less than three months ago.

Its number now totals over 120. The club's rapid growth was recognized this past weekend by out-going president of the North Carolina Federation of Republican Women, Vivian Harris, at the Federation's annual convention in Fayetteville. Only two other such local clubs in the state are larger: Buncombe and Charlotte-Mecklenburg.

The Moore Republican Club was represented by the maximum number of delegates allowed at the convention, which was held at the Bordeaux Convention Center in Fayetteville May 28, 29, and 30. The gathering was hosted by the Fayetteville Republican Women's Club and was presided over by President Harris. The Moore delegates were President Anne Frye; President Dr. Suzanne Watkins; Linda Boles; Margaret DeVolt; Virginia Grimm; Elizabeth Parrish; Esther Schaefer; and Trudie Skinta.

Guest speakers at the President's luncheon on Friday, May 29 included David Flaherty, chairman of the North Carolina Republican Party, and Fred T. Morgan, award-winning author and journalist and editor of the Stanly News and Press in Albemarle. Seminars were held Friday afternoon, and reports and awards were presented on Saturday morning, May 30. The installation luncheon was held on Saturday also, and among the officers for the coming term is the new president, Marie Ledbetter of Asheville.

The Moore Republican Women's Club will hold its June meeting as usual on the fourth Monday, June 22 at a time and place to be announced in the immediate future. Anyone interested in the club's programs and activities is urged to call President Frye at 949-2688.
