

to was made prosecuting attorney for Knox County in 1852. He held the position until 1855, when he removed to Minnesota. Soon after his ar-rival in that State he decided to mix politics with his law business, and very soon became a prominent figure in the Republican ranks, and in 1859 his party sent him to Congress. He served fro. a 1859 to 1869, two terms as Chairman of the Committee on Indian Affairs.

In 1870 he was appointed to the United States Senate to fill the unexpired term of Daniel S. Norton, deceased, and subsequently was chosen for the term that ended in 1877. He was again elected for the term that closed in 1883, but resigned in 1881 to enter the Cabinet of President Garfield as Secretary of the Treasury.

Upon the accession of President Arthur in the same year Secretary Windom retired from the Cabinet. Upon his return to Min-nesota the Legislature of that State elected him to serve the remainder of his term in the Senate. In that body Mr. Windom acted as Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, Foreign Affairs and Transportation. Within the past few years ex-Senator Windom has made New York city his headquarters, being engaged in the promotion of railway and financial schemes.

Secretary of War.

Redfield Proctor, who, it is said, has been given the portifollo of the War Department, a native of Vermont and was at one time Governor of the State. Among the reasons given for the recognition by the new President of the Green Mountain State in Cabinet counsels are, first, the eminence of Ex-Gov ernor Froctor in his party, it being in real estate increased this amount to $3000, stated that he virtually controls the party in his own State, and, second, the fact that he, as the chairman of the Vermont delegation to the Chicago Convention, last year, was head of the only delegation in the whole body which voted solidly for Harrison first, last and all the time. Ex-Governor Proctor has all his life been engaged in "trade," being in every sense a self-made man, who has managed to get together a respectable fortune in a State that is not noted for being burdened He lives at Proctor, with wealth. a town founded by him, and which is situated a few miles from Rutland. He is in practical control of the whole output of the Vermont marble quarries, and is one of the largest dealers in that commodity in the United States.

At his home at Proctor he is a farmer on a large scale, where he owns one of the finest flocks of Winkley merino rams and ewes in the world. Throughout the State of Vermont Mr. Proctor is highly respected, and has the reputation of being a "square man."

Secretary of the Navy.

General Benjamin F. Tracy, who, it is thought, will be the new Secretary of the Navy, is about fifty-nine years old. He was born in Oswego, N. Y., and secured his edu-cation in the common school of his native town. After leaving the Oswego Academy he entered the law office of Nathaniel W. Davis, where he remained engaged in the study of law until 1851, when he was admitted to the bar and soon made a mark in his profession. In 1853 he became been seen to loss the cool dignity which he learned so well to control during the years of army service.

Mrs. Noble was a Miss Halstead, from Rochester, N. Y., and was married to the General at Northanton, Mass. They cele-brated their silver wedding on the 6th day of February last. Mrs. Nob'e's life has been one of energy thoughout. She has frequently brought out and developed home literary talent. Shortly before Professor W. T. Har-ris left the West he was associated with her in establishing classes for thorough study of Mrs. Noble's salon has Mrs. Noble's salon has frequented by talent of the highest order. While not fond of society, as the word goes, she entertains a great deal, and as a hostess is unequaled in grace and hospitable manner. She has no children living; her two sitters make their home with her, the Misses Lily and Leonora Halstead.

The Postmaster-General.

John Wanamaker, the Postmaster-General, is now in his fifty-second year, having been born' in Philadelphia, July 11, 1837. Mr. Wanamaker is of German stock on his father's side and a descendant of the Hugue-nots in his mother's line. He was fashioned for a business career by an inexorable law of circumstances. His education was, therefore, not elaborate. He began work early and from his meagre earnings managed a ways to save something each week, fill at the age of twenty-three he had $100 to his credit. A lucky investment thus enabling him to start a clothing store on his own account. He soon rose to be one of the leading clothiers in this country, and afterward gradually converted the business into the drygoods line.

His appearance in business was almost imultaneous with his advent into public life. He became identified with every popular movement, and when the Centennial Celebration Commission was created his was one of the first names mentioned. He was also prominently identified with the movement for the correction of the abuses in the muni-cipal government of Philadelphia. Mr. Wanamaker is a man of very chari-table instincts and dispenses his bounty with a free and unstinted hand. He has established several institutions for the benefit the poor in Philadelphia. Although Mr. Wanamaker has always taken a commend-able interest in public affairs he has never held any office. He has been frequently so-licited to permit the use of his name for Congress and Mayor of Philadelphia, but has never been induced to yield.

In religious movements Mr. Wanamaker takes a lively interest. He is an active mem ber of a Presbyterian community and often speaks at church gatherings. Beside the interest derived from his vast business, Mr. Wanamaker owns $8,000,000 worth of real estate. He was an earnest pleader in the cause of Protection during the last campaign and contributed largely to the election ex penses.

The Attorney-General. William Henry Harrison Miller is a typi-

Mr. Rusk was elected Bank Comptroller of Wisconsin in 1833, which post he held till 1870, in which year he was elected a member Oxford man, he has at various times fill ed the post of dry goods clerk, bill colof Congress by the Republicans. He served three terms, and as Chairman on pensions lector and bartender. performed important services in readjusting the pension rates. President Garfield offered him the post of Charge d'Affaires in Paraguay and Uraguay, also chief of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, both of which offers he declined. In 1882 he was elected Governor of Wisconsin and served three terms.

NEWS FROM EACH STATE.

Farmer's Alliance Active -- Notes of Accidents Ete, Classified.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The project of building a light house on the Diamond Shoal of Hatteras, eleven miles out at sca, has taken definite shape.

Last Thursday two boys aged six and eight years, childred of John Cottle, of Richlands, Onslow county, were lost in the snow storm and two days after were found lying close together frozen to death.

Howard Anderson, white, was hanged at Goldsboro Thursday for the murder of William Porter at Goldsboro in July last. Anderson is the third man who has been hanged in Goldsboro in the last 80 days.

Several hundred more negroes have left Wayne add surrounding counties for Kansas, and it is learned that there are three hundred at Goldsboro awaiting transportation. Four hundred have left Durham county. Three hundred have left Wake county, and several hundred more are preparing to leave in a few days. Some are going to Kansas. A colored minister named Hayes, now in Kausas, is writing urgent letters to all his church folks here to sell everything and go there. This is causing a great stir among the negroes.

SOUTH CAROLINA. The Court House at Kingstree barned

Friday, involning a loss of $10,000 to the county, there being no insurance. The "Three Dollar Pants Company has been chartered by the Legislature and will begin business st Charleston.

The secretary of the treasury has awarded the contract for the excavation for the foundation of the Charleston public building to McCarthy & Baldwin for $15,204. FLORIDA.

everywhere and in every form, but their portraits carved in blood and tallow on the backs of two butchered sheep hanging at Solaris's door, just above Willard's Hotel, attracted more attention than the most seull circular scace in front of the platform finished productions of less original artists. President-elect. Nearly all the decorations were confined to Pennsylvania avenue and that portion of the There was a disastrous fire at Roanoke | interesting streets in sight from the line of Filday morning. Several buildings march of the inaugural procession. were burned involving a loss of $16,000.

THE WEATHER AND CROWDS.

All Sunday night the rain fell as it had been falling since Saturday afternoon. Spe-cial trains with exoursionists arrived at in-tervals of a few minutes throughout the night, and the music of water-soaked bands seemed to keep all Washington awake as they paraded the wet streets to their quar-

Rev. Robert Coles (colored), Methodist preacher of North Danville, was ar-The front of the Capitol had been festooned in red, white and blue, and the platrested Friday for stealing coal. He form erected on which General Harrison was confessed his guilt and was sent to the to take the oath of office and receive from Grover Cleveland the trust which he has had in his keeping for four years. Monday morning these colors of the nation were be-draggled and limp, like everything else, from the constant flow of rain since Saturday The Chattanooga Coal, Iron and Railway Company, owners of 25,000 acres of morning valuable land on the north side of the

But despite the weather there were river from Chattanooga, closed a deal thronged thousands of strangers in the city, most of them decked out in military or gala with eastern capitalists, headed by Hon. J W Chandler and Judge Hodder, of invested at once in the development of One of the most notable features of the the property. This means the construcvast gathering was the prevalence of the simple uniform of the Pennsylvania National tion of two bridges across the Tennessee river, the building of the (hattanooga Guards, of which 133 companies of infantry in 16 regiments, 51 light batteries and three Western Railroad and the building of companies of artillary, under command of General John F. Hartranft, took pare in the the bvilding of the two larger furnaces the construction of a dummy line twelve parade, as they did at the inauguration of miles long. The fa dummy line twelve

Every train brought a crowd, and the streets and avenues were moving masses of humanity.

Huge stands were erected at every place of miles long. The company owns twelve vantage along the routs of the parade, and despite the drizeling rain which was falling miles of the river frontage Their lands at an early hour these stands had already begun to fil up with people who cared to se

By 9 o'clock there were thousands of peoremained standing with uncovered heads during this ceremony. As the President crowd cheered again and again. Turnies, from the Chief Justice to the little routries that had been erected in front of the stand. President Harrison began the delivery of his clerks. In the center of this space were placed the seats to be occupied by the President and Between the chairs usually occupied by members of the Senate had been placed other seats, and directly behind the last of the Senator's desks nad been placed a number of couches and chairs. Before eleven o'clock, the hour when the Senate doors were thrown open, the public galleries were nearly full. There were a number of visitors in the diplomatic gallery, and the only gallery which was empty was the one just west of the diplomatic gallery and almost directly opposite the presiding officer, which had been reserved for the families of the Fresident and the Fresident pro tem. of the Senate, the President-elect and the Vice-President-elect, and of the ex-President and ex-Vice-Presidents of the United States.

The regular business of the Senate proceeded without much show of interest. Meantime the members of the Diplomatic Corps had assembled in the marble room, and at fifteen minutes past eleven the Senate was called to order by Senator Ingalis, and the Senators rose as the diplomats entered. Many of them were in military attire-the Chinese in their silken robes and the Coreans with their funny, bird cage hats.

The members of the corps were shown to the seats in the first two rows on the west side of the chamber. Shortly after they companied by the retired General of the Army, the Major General of the Army com-manding and the Admiral of the Navy, entered. They were received by the Senators standing, and were shown to seats arranged in the semi-circle in front and to the presiding officer and the Committee of Ar-rangements sat on the left. Shortly before

Secretary and members of the Senate on the

On the left sat the members of the Diplo matic Corps, the heads of departments, and others, in the rear the members and mem-bers elect of the House, and behind them those persons who had occupied places in the

The great crowd on the platform ' rose and bowed his head and kissel the open book the distinct to the Internetice occupied by the presiding officer and the tude.

PRIVATE SECRETARY ELLIAR W. HALFORN. Chief Justice Fuller stood beside the President and hold an umbrella over hive while be spoke.

Those on the outskirts of the crowd, when could not hear, created a little disturbance by rushing away to select advantageous positions along the line of march.

The President completed his address at 1 -----P. M. At its conclusion the great crowd cheered vociferously. The President bowshis acknowledgments.

The oath was taken, the speech was and a and it was time to go home to the Wh House. Great was the cheering of the air fused din of conflicting bands a the the air and above all there thundered. non's proclamation that President Harris had turned his face westward toward the White House.

Instantly the army of escort fell inte-marching order. Down the hill came t -President attended by his troops, and as and reached the plain the great escort fell inte-line behind him.

THE PARADE TO THE WHITE HOUSE.

The parade was divided into five divisions General James A. Beaver in command. Chief Marshal. The second division en prised the Pennsylvania militia under G. ral Hartranft.

The third division halled from Ohio sate other States. Governor John B. Foraker an a big black charger commanded. He was under escort of Georgin cadets. General William Warner marshaled the fourth division, and the lifth division will under command of Colonel Myrom M public, old saflors and sons of vatorans. The fifth division was composed of ois.

Parker The fourth division was made entirely of veterans of the Grand Army of the R-

The members of the Supreme Court, clad in their black silk robes and led by Chief Justice Fuller, took the corresponding seats on the opposite side of the Chamber. The venerable Hannibal Hamlin, the only living ex-Vice President, occupied a seat on the right of the are probably the most valuable gelar body of land in the South The deal has been on hand for several months and ours seats thereon at from 50 cens to $3 the announcement that all the papers had been signed caused much rejoicing. ple perched on these rough pedestals, and the

DIRECT TAX BILL VETOED

VIRGINIA.

Ex-Senator John W Johnston died

Wednesday morning at his residence in Richmond, in the 71st year of his age

He was a nephew of Gen. James E.

TENNESSEE.

New York, by which $1,800,000 is to be chain-gang for fifteer days.

Johnston.

On the Cround that It is Without Constitutional Warrant.

The President returned to the Senate. without approval, the measure known as the direct tax bill, which contemplated the return of the moneyes collected from the several States and territories under the act of August, 1861.

In his message of transmittal the President says: "It is my belief that this appropriation of the public funds is not within the constitutional power of the Congress, I am constrained, upon the consideration herein presented, to withhold my assent from the bill herewith returned, because I believe it to be without constitutional warrant, because I am of the opinion that there exists no adequate reason either in right or equity for the return of the tax in said bill mentioned, and because I believe its execution would cause actual injustice and unfairness.

the Republican candidate for District-Attorney of Tioga County, and though it was a Democratic stronghold he was elected. Two years later he was again elected to the He was elected to the Assembly in 1901 and a year later he recruited the 109th and 137th Regiments and received his commission as Colonal of the former regiment from Governor Morgan. He subsequently was tendered and accepted the command of the 127th United States Colored Troops.

After the war General Tracy settled in New York and resumed his practice of the law as one of the firm of Benedict, Tracy & Benedict. He was one of the counsel for the defense in the celebrated Beecher trial. In 1836 General Tracy was made United States District-Attorney for the Eastern District of New York, which posi-tion he held mitij 1873, when he was forced to resign because of the growth of his private practice. In 1851 he was appointed Judge of the Court of Appeals and served one year. General Tracy is a well-known breeder of trotters and with his son owns the Marshland stud, at Apalachin, Tioga County, N. Y.

Secretary of the Interior. General John W. Noble, the Secretary of the Interior, is a St. Louis lawyer. He was a general in the army and was honored on several occasions for bravery. Mr. Noble has done a great deal of traveling during the past ten years of his life, and has a wide knowledge of people and things. His man-cal Indiana lawyer of high standing. He if fifty years of age. and member of General Harrison's law firm in Indianapolis for about ten years, having left a large practice at Fort Wayne, Ind., to join it. He is a mar on whom the President has been accustomed to rely in important cases.

Mr. Miller has never hell a prominant public office, and enters upon an entirely new experience in Washington. He is rather under the medium height, of average build and is in the full vigor of his mental powers. He is a Western man by birth and education. Though he is named after the first President Harrison, the grandfather of his

Chief, it is nowhere stated that there is any family connection between th

Secretary of Agriculture.

Jeremiah McLain Rusk, who has been appointed Secretary of the newly created Department of Agriculture, is from Ohio, hav-ing been born in Morgan County, in that State, in 1830. His early life was spent in farm work, and upon attaining his majority in 1853 he moved to Wisconsin and engaged in agriculture in Vernon County. In 1862, during the war, he entered the Union Army and was commissioned Major of the 25th Wisconsin Regiment, rose to the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel and served with General William T. Sherman from the siege of Uisbehurg till the state of the second of Vicksburg till the close of the war. In 1865 he received the brevet of Brigadier-General of Volunteers for maritorious service at the battle of Salkebatchie.

The Key West tobacco strike ended in the cigar manufacturers paying the advance in wages.

The first week of the Florida Chautauqua at De Funick Springs was closed with an illumination, which was of marvellous beauty. A grand chorus was sung by the visitors with joined hands sround the main spring over a mile in circumference.

A prominent Englishman, who after being financially shipwrecked in the old country, made his way across the water to the United States and is fibting a hand to hand battle with fate and great privation, is the brother of the Right Hoa Sir Henry Drummond Wolff, K C B her Britannics Majesty's minister plenipotentiary at the Court of Teheran. Mr Wolff, whose mother was a daughter of the great Earl of Clarendon, is at present in Jacksonville, acting as a porter in a wholesale grocery store. Although an [Signed]. "GROVER CLEVELAND. "Executive Mansion, March 2, 1889."

Gold Excitement in California.

There is much excitement over the gold discoveries in lower California. A special dispatch from Ensenada says reports are in circulation there that mines are averaging $1 to $2.50 per pan. A | the vicinity of the Capitol. number of persons have arrived there the day: General David Hastings, his Chief of Staff, and a number of special aids were with large nuggets in their possession. One man named Gaskill had one nurget valued at $250. A great outpouring of word of command was given and the first the residents of Ensenada for the latest division, the military escort, began its march diggings is in progress. The neighboring towns are also being rapidly derserted for the gold fields. A large number | Committee, occupied the leading carriage. of gold hunters will leave San Diego for the new Eldorado.

MRS. BENJAMIN HARRISON. fitful rainfall seemed to have no dampening effect upon them. They were regaled during the morning hours by the constant moving of the bodies of paraders and by the discordand which was to escort the retiring Chief

Capitol, was in line and waiting on Pennsylvania avenue, in the vicinity of the Executive Mansion; while the other five divisions consisting of the various State militia and civic organizations were rendezvousing in General James A. Beaver, Chief Marshal of

on hand, and about a quarter to eleven the President Cleveland, President-elect Harrison, and Senators Hoar and Cockrell, of the toward the Capitol.

Registrate and the President-elect to the twelve o'clock the members of the House of Representatives and members-elect, led by Speaker Carlisle, entered the Senate Chamber ant intermingling of the notes of the many by the main entrance and took seats on the bands accompanying the paraders. right of the Chair, next to the Diplomatic

THE PROCESSION TO THE CAPITOL. The Governors of the States, ex-Senators of the United States, Judges of the Court of Claums and the Supreme Court of the Dis-trict and the Commissioners of the District At half-past ten A. M. the first division, General Gibson commanding, consisting of about 4000 troops of the regular army-cavalry, infantry and artillery-and the National Guard of the District of Columbia, of Columbia were assigned to seats on the east side of the chamber, behind those oc-cupied by members of the Senate. Among the familiar faces were those of ex-Senator Windom, of Minnesota: ex-Senator Ferry, of Michigan; Governor Rusk, of Wisconsin, and Governor Foraker, of Ohio.

A few minutes before twelve o'clock the President of the United States was an-nonnced. He entered by the door at the right of the presiding officer, escorted by Senator Cockrell, of Missouri. A moment later the President-elect was announced. He entered with Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts. Both President Cleveland and the President-elect were greeted with ap-plause from the galleries and the floor. They were taken to seats directly in front of the presiding officer. As the hands of the Senate clock reached the hour of noon the Vice-Fresident-elect was announced He was escorted to the platform of the presiding offi-our by Senstor Culicon, of Illinois. Everyone in the chamber arose and remained standing

The paravis moved at 1 o'clock down Fam. sylvania avenue, between long lines of spec-tators and to the delight of the crowd and the music of a hundred bands. When the White House was reached, as the line of march passed down the avenue. with colors droopsd in salute, President Harrison reviewed them from a stand erors. ed in the grounds of the Presidential man-

SLOTL.

An Adaptation to Rum Ethios. The runsellers are overthrown and are

The tender mercles of rumsellers are order He that follows after runnellers is void of

The rumseller desires the net of evil men. The way of the runseller is right in his own

The version of the runseller is becoming known

Deceit is in the heart of runsellers that devise evil.

The rumsellers shall be filled with will The hearts of runsellers procia m foolish-

The way of rumsellers causes them to are The rumseller roasts not that which he took in hunting.

The rumseller hears no rebuke. The soul of the runseller is for violence. The runseller causes shame and brings ra-proach. -Cliston (N. J.) Home Visitor.

On either side of General Harrison's carriage were rows of brown bearded and stalwart men, whose raiment bespoke their