A friend handed us the Brandon Republican, of Brandon, Miss., from which we clip the following:

L. L. Polk, the great Alliance leader of North Carolina, made a two-hour address at the Alliance convention of Mississippi which recently met at Starkville. His speech is reported as having been very eloquent and interesting, but in our opinion it was very unwise, un-democratic, and opposed to the best interests of our farmers and people generally, and in conflict with the constitution of the United States. He told the farmers that they held the reins of the Government in their own hands, and that the time had come for the few political demagogues who claimed to constitute the democratic party, to stand aside and give place to the new regime.

While claiming that the Alliance in the South is made up almost entirely of Democrats, Mr. Polk would destroy that grand old party to make room for a secret oath bound party to which one-half the people of the country are excluded, and which has no strength to contend against Radicalism; or to fight the hosts of a protective tariff. That there are demagogues in the Democratic party we do not deny, but we know a very large number of them have joined the Alliance for office.

Mr. Polk also favors the anti-Treasurer bill, which in our opinion, is one of the very worst bills ever introduced into the United States Congress. It is too utterly impracticable, and, if passed, it would result in much more harm than good to the agricultural community. There is nothing in it for anybody except the office-seeking followers of the party in power.

The destruction of the Democratic party at this time would be the utter ruin of the people of the South. It embraces the farmer, the mechanic, the merchant, the professional man and the manufacturer—nearly all men of all vocations, and yet Mr. Polk would have it "stand aside" and let the Alliance, composed of one calling only, run the whole political machinery.

Without further comment the above is passed upon as a "true bill." Others beside a "subsidized" North Carolina press are seeing "Farmer" Polk in his true roll. And yet he claims to be the friend of the party (Democratic) that is right.

The Signal, the Republican organ at Raleigh is said to have re-appeared.

The Oxford Orphan's Friend has entered its seventeenth year. It has done a good work in a better cause and should be read in every home.

A few days ago, the Suffolk Daily Progress, addressed to the Tarboro Journal, King City, Tarboro, N. C., found its way to the BANNER'S box. This is a strange address to us.

Knowledge, John B. Aaklen's encyclopaedia weekly Magazine is a useful little publication. It contains varied information. At $1.00 a year, it gives much more than its money value. A little better classification of its matter might be an improvement.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. J. Zander has returned from New York. J. T. Deans, of Williamston, attended the Union Meeting. Mrs. Hattie Mahn, of Wilmington, is visiting Miss Julia Gathin. Mrs. Sue Chisman and family, of Memphis, are visiting Mrs. C. J. Austin. Don Gilliam, J. J. Martin and G. M. T. Fountain attended Wilmington court this week. De R. H. Stancil of Margarettsville was in town yesterday. There is said to be great attraction near here for him. Dr. E. D. Barnes went to Raleigh this week to see his family. He placed his daughter at St. Mary's School and his wife will remain at Raleigh. R. E. Jones, who spent a few days with his wife and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Wilkinson, returned to Suffolk Monday.

At the Agricultural building yesterday the News & Observer found Secretary Bruner and his assistants very busy at work finishing up the August bulletin which is the largest and most important one issued during the year. In addition to the regular monthly crop statistics, it contains a full list of all the cotton and woolen mills in the State, and also a miscellaneous list of other mills, showing by comparison with last year how many new manufacturing plants have been established. Last year there were in the State 114 cotton and woolen mills. This year there are 128. The increase in tobacco factories, tanneries, silk factories and other miscellaneous industries has been far greater than this. The list has not yet been accurately made up, but Mr. Bruner says that it will cover twice as much space as it did last year.

The catalogue of blooded horses and cows also shows up well, and indicates a big increase in raising them. An important fact which the bulletin will show this year that there are no less than twenty seven annual fairs held in the State regularly, all under the auspices of permanent organizations. Thus our manifold products and industries are thoroughly advertised to the world.

Population and Railroads. The Manufacturer's Record gives the following as the population and railroad mileage of the South, viz:

Rad Nominations. The Republican convention at Raleigh on the 29th got out the following ticket: Chas. Price, of Rowan, for Chief Justice; U. S. Lusk, of Buncombe, for Associate.

Girls in This. From the Raleigh Chronicle we learn that a man sent to Rocky Mount by the Raleigh Cotton Mills to take some girls, who were out of employment, to the Raleigh Mills, was arrested and had to bond in the sum of $200, we suppose for enticing labor. The facts given were: that the girls had been employed by the Rocky Mount Mills, but were out of employment and wanted to go to Raleigh to work. They were unable to pay their way. A man was sent to pay their way and take them to Raleigh. He was arrested. He finally bonded and succeeded in getting the girls to Raleigh. His case will be heard at next term of court. It is also stated that the girls were under contract and could not leave.
