MR. GRADY AND THE NEW SOUTH.

It has long been the annual custom of the descendants of the Pilgrims, who landed at Plymouth Rock, to unite round the festive board at Delmonicas and tell of glories of their ancestors.

Mr. Grady's response has gained for him a National reputation. When one reads the speech, when he remembers the fact that it came from a Georgian, a man born in a State which but a few years since was in arms against the Union, he is not surprised that such a speech should gain for the man a National reputation.

PURITAN AND CAVALIER HERE TOGETHER.

Pardon me one word, Mr. President, spoken for the purpose of getting into the volumes that go out annually freighted with the rich eloquence of your speakers—the fact that the Cavalier as well as the Puritan was on this continent in its early days, and that he was "up and able to be about."

With the Cavalier once established as a fact in your charming little books I shall let him work out his own salvation, as he has always done with engaging gallantry, and he will hold no controversy as to his merits. Why should we? Neither Puritan or Cavalier long survived as such. The virtues and traditions of both happily still live for the inspiration of their sons and saving of the old fashion.

Mr. Grady then gave the New Englanders some surprising information about the progress of the New South, and its wonderful development in the last few years. He leaves that portion of his speech with the following beautiful tribute to the man we suppose to be his father.

and to spare for your forefathers and for mine. [Renewed cheering.] The following picture of the soldier returning home will touch the heart of many an old "Reb" who used to wear the gray.

WHAT THE NEW SOUTH MEANS.

In speaking to the toast with which you have honored me I accept the term, "The New South" as in no sense disparaging to the Old. Dear to me, sir, is the home of my childhood and the traditions of my people. There is a New South, not through protest against the Old, but because of new conditions, new adjustments and, if you please, new ideas and aspirations. It is to this that I address myself.

What does he do—this hero in gray with a heart of gold—does he sit down in sullenness and despair? Not for a day. Surely God, who had scourged him in his prosperity, inspired him in his adversity! As ruin was never before so overwhelming, never was restoration swifter. The soldier stepped from the trenches into the furrow; horses that had charged Federal guns marched before the plough, and fields that ran red with human blood in April were green with the harvest in June!

There is a tendency in the rising generation to forget the prejudices of the war. This is naturally so, as they cannot feel its disastrous results as keenly as the generations before them. We have the utter contempt for the man who would check the growth of this sentiment and poison the mind with the bitter feelings which belong to the past.

The newspaper with such a purpose has a miserable mission. We understand the speech of Mr. Grady is to be published in pamphlet form, and we hope that pamphlet will be universally read.

The republican legislative caucus of Connecticut has nominated Senator Hawley as his own successor. The republicans have a majority in both houses and the majority on joint ballot is 31. So that his re-election is assured. The election will be held next Tuesday.

Judge Bennett's bill changing Chatham, Orange and Durham from the Western to the Eastern judicial district has passed the U. S. House. The Missouri legislature will be asked to appoint a committee to examine into the official character and accounts of State Auditor Walker, against whom charges have been brought. Charles B. Ferwell, of Chicago, has been nominated to succeed the late Senator Logan; Oglesby's name was not presented to the caucus. Governor Hamilton received the second highest vote on the first ballot 17; Congressman Payson, 12; Cannon, 11; Henderson, 10. The second ballot was a stampede to Farwell.

In the course of a speech in the House of Representatives Thursday Mr. Overman said he would much rather stand endorsed by his party than to have the speaker'ship a hundred times over. He was endorsed by his party now, was proud of it and would not occupy the position, it having been gotten by a trade between mugwumps, independents and republicans.
