KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

REMOVAL.

I have moved my Drug business from my old stand on Main street to corner of Main and Railroad streets in the Benson block. The building has recently been remodeled and I now have the handsomest and most conveniently arranged room in town. Having more room I have enlarged my stock of drugs, patent medicines, candies, cigars, cigarettes, Toilet articles &c. Call on me for high-test lamp oils. I now have the largest stock of jewelry ever exhibited in Benson. also have just received a large supply of Blair's Keystone Stationery in the shape of writing tablets, pencil tablets, Box Paper, writing paper, envelopes of all styles, quality and prices. I have added to my stock a nicely assorted line of chewing tobacco and snuff. I have a full stock of such goods as are kept in a first class Drugstore. Prescriptions carefully prepared by a registered pharmacist.

Call and see me. Your patronage is always appreciated and no matter how small your purchases you may rest assured it will be our constant aim to sell you the best goods that can be obtained and at reasonable prices.

Statistics of Farms.

Ohio has the greatest number of farms, 251,430, having 23,352,408 acres; Illinois is second with 240,681 farms and 30,498,277 acres; Missouri being third, with 238,043 farms and 30,780,200 acres.

After the Wicked of Winston.

Winston, N. C., Sept. 12—Evangelist Sam Jones and Geo Stuart began an eight day's meeting here to-day. The introductory sermon was preached today. The introductory sermon was preached by Mr. Jones at 12 o'clock to a large congregation. Mr. Stuart conducted the afternoon service, and Mr. Jones preached to-night. Four services will be held each day—8 and 11 a. m., 3 and 7:30 p. m. The meeting is the talk of the town.

A BOY'S HEROISM.

Sacrificed His Life to Save His Sister

Atlanta, Ga., Sept 12—Geo Adams, aged 11 years, was run over and instantly killed on the Rhodes street trestle this afternoon by a wild car. His little sister, Nora Kate, aged nine, had her right leg nearly severed from her body at the same time, and but for her brother's heroism would have undoubtedly have been killed. The children were returning from school when the accident occurred. They were half way across the trestle when they heard the car coming behind them. The boy turned and seeing no hope of escape, tried to save his sister. He seized her and attempted to swing her to one side. He was too late and was caught and dragged beneath the car. The wheels passed over his head, cutting it almost from his body. The little girl was thrown down and her right leg nearly severed from her body. But for the boy's efforts to save her she would undoubtedly have been killed outright. She is in a critical condition. The car ran seven miles before it stopped. It was an oil tank car and had no brake chains.

DR CHARLES H. HALL DEAD

Rev Dr. Chas H Hall, rector of Holy Trinity church, Brooklyn, N. Y., died yesterday. He was a native of Augusta, Ga., and was well known in North Carolina. He was a warm friend of Henry Ward Beecher and in 1884 they spoke from the same platform in advocacy of the election of Mr Cleveland. When Mr Beecher died, Dr. Hall delivered the oration at his funeral and also at the unvailing of Mr Beecher's statue in front of the city hall. He was a park commissioner, a civil service commissioner, and took a more prominent part in public affairs than any other Episcopal clergyman in the country. He was built on a broad guage and was deeply interested in whatever made for the betterment of the people.—Exchange.

Barnes' Unfair History Exposed.

The papers are ripping up Barnes' so called History of the United States. It is a poor, one sided thing, and yet it dared to say a kind, proper thing of Gen. Robert E. Lee, and several Grand Army Posts flare up and "cuss it out" in fine rabid style. The so called history said this, and it makes the fellows up North fighting mad:

"Gen. Lee was handsome in face and figure, a graceful rider, grave and silent in deportment—just the bearing to captivate a soldier; while his deep piety, truth, sincerity and honor won the hearts of all."

What a rebuke Gen. U. S. Grant would administer to those fire-eaters if he were living. Said he, "let us have peace," and he said it nigh unto twenty years ago.—Wilmington Messenger.

Charlotte Young Ladies to go on the Stage.

Charlotte society is to lose, at least for the winter, three of its most charming members—Misses Connie, Lila and Saida Jones. They leave next Tuesday, Misses Connie and Lila for New York, Miss Saida for Washington. Miss Connie goes abroad about the middle of the month to continue her studies in voice culture, with grand opera as her ambition. Miss Lila, who, as Charlotte people know, is wonderfully gifted with histrionic talent, is to go on the stage. She has been fortunate enough to secure a position with Daly, and will make her bow on the professional stage under his management. Miss Jones is fine in any role, but especially that of soubrette. With her talent and pretty looks and ways, her friends are confident of her success.

Miss Saida Jones goes to Washington to complete her education. Some very bright stars will have to rise to take the place of those disappearing.—Charlotte Observer, Sept. 10.

A Postoffice at the Exposition.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9—Acting Postmaster General Jones has taken steps to establish a substation of the postoffice at Atlanta, Ga., on the exposition grounds, to facilitate the mail of the visitors to the exposition. A full station will be located on the grounds and a postal car will be run alongside of it to show its workings.

Don't Use Big Words.

In promulgating your esoteric cogitations, and articulating your superficial sentimentalities and amicable philosophical or psychological observations, beware of platitudinous ponderosity. Let your conversational communications possess a clarified conciseness, a compacted comprehensibleness, a coalescent cogency. Eschew all conglomerations of flatulent garrulity, jejune babblement, and asinine affectations, extemporaneous descantings and unpremeditated expectations have intelligibility and veracious vivacity, without rhodomontade or thrasonical bombast. Sedulously avoid all polysyllabic profundity, pompous prolixity, psittaceous vacuity, ventriloquial verbosity, and vaniloquent vapidity. Shun double ententes, prurient jocosity, and pestiferous profanity, obscurant or apparent. In other words talk plainly, briefly, naturally, sensibly, purely, and truthfully. Keep from slang; don't put on airs; say what you mean; mean what you say; and don't use big words.—Philadelphia Press.

Sent it to his Mother in Germany.

Mr. Jacob Febensen, who is in the employ of the Chicago Lumber Co., at Des Moines, Iowa, says: I have just sent some medicine back to my mother in the old country, that I know from personal use to be the best medicine in the world for rheumatism, having used it in my family for several years. It is called Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It always does the work." 50 cent bottles for sale by Hood Bros., Smithfield, J. W. Benson, Benson, N. C.

American Men Polite.

"I'm glad I live in America," said a pretty young woman, talking to a Philadelphia Inquirer reporter, "because I am never afraid to travel by myself. Last year I was in London, and went around with a friend who was married, and we were spoken to in an insulting manner every time we went out. Paris was worse. People speak of the French politeness, but it is only a veneer. The men would get in front of us on every street corner and smirk and ogle and chatter like monkeys. I'm glad I didn't understand anything they said. There are no men like the American men and I never was so fully able to appreciate it as I am now that I have seen those of other nations in their own lands. Besides, the girls are treated better here than anywhere on earth, and I don't want to cross the ocean any more."

STATE NEWS ITEMS.

Oliver H. Dockery is for Allison for president; Pritchard for McKinley; and Settle for Reed.

The Wilmington Review recalls the interesting fact that every Secretary of State since the Democrats regained North Carolina in 1876 has died in office—Englehard, Saunders and Coke.

The primary steps of opening the famous magnetic iron mines at Cranberry, N. C., which have been idle two years, are being taken, and in less than a week three or four hundred hands will be put to work.

The next annual fair at Rocky Mount will embrace November 6th and 8th, inclusive. Mr. Jesse Brake, one of the best and wisest farmers in the State, is President of the fair, and has as his associates the most influential and capable men and women in that section of the State.

Carlotte OBSERVER: Mr. John H. Gaddy, who lives about six miles from Wadesboro, came to town this morning feeling as well as usual, though his usual health was not very good, having suffered for some time with dropsy, and as he was finishing his dinner he dropped dead. He was found kneeling at the fore part of his wagon with his hand lying over on the body of the wagon, stiff and dead.

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS.

Secretary Carlisle in spite of his great learning never attended either academy or college.

An exchange says that the faces of the Kentucky goldbugs are so long now that the barbers refuse to shave them for a dime.

Fifteen years ago Roanoke, Va., was a railroad station, with a few scattered houses. Now it is a city of 20,000 people, humming with industries.

Allen Toes, of York, Ala., heard his window blinds rattle late at night and concluding that it was a burglar projecting with them, reached out for his old blunderbus, which he kept handy for emergencies, and sent a handful of buckshot through the window. He then went out to look for the burglar and found a dead son who had come home late and shook the blinds to get the old man to open the door.

RALEIGH, Sept. 16—The State weekly crop report, issued to day says: Universally warm weather has prevailed, with little rain, save immediately upon the coast. Conditions were favorable for saving fodder and late hay and for cotton, which is opening well. Tobacco curing is finished in the east. The weather is too dry for fall crops and for fall plowing. Both early and late corn are safe. Some winter oats have been sown. There are a few complaints of boll worms in cotton. The sorghum crop is large and fine. There is a little firing of corn and tobacco in the Central district. Tobacco cures in the Central district are better than usual.

A Great Opening Day.

The Exposition will Open the 18th with a Large Crowd.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 10.—Great preparations are in progress to make the opening day at the Cotton States and International Exposition, Sept. 18th, a tremendous success. Atlanta is already filled with strangers. The Governors of half a dozen States will be present, there will be an imposing military parade, and addresses will be made by distinguished gentlemen, the opening address will be delivered by Judge Emery Speer, of Georgia. The business houses of the city will close from 12 until 4 o'clock, and the whole city will go en masse to Piedmont Park. At night the principal attractions will be the electic fountain and Pain's pyrotechnic display on the lake of the storming of the Chinese fortress at Wei-Hai-Wei by the Japanese. This is being widely advertised and thousands of people from the surrounding country will come to witness it.

Saturday the 21st will be Blue and Gray Day, and it is expected that one hundred thousand, people will enter the gates on that day. Thousands of veterans from both armies will attend. Every thing will be done to make the opening a brilliant success.

VOICE OF THE PRESS.

THOU DEMAGOGUE.

Senator Marion Butler says it is now time for the white men of the South to get together. He never said a word about that when he orderderd the Pops to lay aside their principles, join with and vote for negroes in order to beat the Democrats. Mary Ann continues to be a demagogue if he has succeeded in reforming his pockets with spoils of office.—Oxford Ledger.

THE COURSE OF EMPIRE.

The course of empire is not, after all, taking its way Westward. It is moving Southward. Farmers from Nebraska and other western States are said to be turning their noses, in no small number, from the arid wilds of that section to the more favored clime of Virginia and North Carolina. There is always room for them there, and plenty of good, genial, law-abiding society into the bargain.—Philadelphia Record, Dem.

THE EXPENSE OF TOURISTS.

And now Secretary Carlisle puts his imprimatur on the allegation that over 100,000 American tourists have been abroad this summer, and that the aggregate of their expenditures is $100,000,000.

CROKER'S VIEW.

Richard Croker has been interviewed in London. He says: "I understand that business looks bright across the water, which makes me think that Cleveland or any other Democrat—but Cleveland in particular if he is nominated—will be elected with a rush. Cleveland's outspoken attitude against the silver men will do him good all over the country. The great business interests of the United States can only stand firm on a gold basis, and gold must be an inviolate plank in the Democratic platform."

Notes and Gleanings.

The yield of cotton per acre will be less this year than last, and as many farmers will hold their cotton for high prices those who sell early are likely to realize the best prices.—Patron and Gleaner.

Mrs. Alva E Vanderbilt, the divorced wife of William K. Vanderbilt, has concluded the purchase of a fine residence property, corner of Madison avenue and Seventy-second street, New York, the price paid was $250,000.

The surest indication that the war is over," says an exchange, is the fact that old Judge Lynch has left the barbarous South and gone North, where he is being well and cordially received.

Simon Cross, of Cartersville, S. C., eloped with Mrs. Alice Hudson and Mrs. Minnie Marshall. The trio were en route to Salt Lake when overtaken by the husbands of the women, and they announced that it was their intention to be married on reaching that land of bliss. Simon had persuaded both women, to accompany him with the understanding that both should become Mrs. Cross when the city of refuge was reached.

Out in San Francisco, where a man is charged with the brutal murder of two young girls in a church belfry, women attend the trial in crowds, listen unabashed to the most repulsive details of the crime and decorate the dock in which the accused young man sits with flowers.—Boston Herald.

Colonel Morrison, with "a war record full of bullets," a tariff record full of a gallantry and heroic as his soldier's deeds and a manhood record full of honest consistency, has the only solid, tangible Presidential support that has yet been tendered to any man."—Ex.

The Rev. Thomas Dixon, Jr., of New York, has begun a series of sermons on "The Failure of Protestantism in New York City and its Causes." In the opening sermon he dealt with "The Facts of the Failure." "I state them with a sad heart," said he. "New York City is the metropolis of the nation—it is, in addition to this, the ground of Protestantism, but New York is, without exception, the most godless city on the American continent."

ADVERSITY.

Sweet are the uses of adversity;
Which like the toad, ugly and venomous,
Wears yet a precious jewel in his head.
—Shakespeare.

In this wide world the fondest and the best
Are the most tried, most troubled, and distressed.
—Crabbe.

BOASTING.

We rise in Glory, as we sink in Pride
Where boasting ends, there dignity begins.
—Young.

Too light winning
Makes the prize light.
—Shakespeare.

HOLD YOUR TONGUE.

Give every man thine ear, but few thy voice
Take each man's censure, but reserve thy judgment.
—Shakespeare.

LOVE.

Love is blind, and lovers cannot see
The pretty follies that themselves commit.
—Shakespeare.

Breast the Tide.

When the storms of life o'er take you,
Let not courage e'er forsake you;
Yield not to the tempest tamely,
Battle with it firmly, gamely—
Breast the tide.

What a spectacle ignoble
Is the man who when in trouble,
Folds his hands with looks despairing,
When he should, with high-souled daring,
Breast the tide.

Though the winds should fiercely bluster,
Clouds of inky blackness muster,
Winds ere long will be declining
Clouds display a silv'ry lining.
Breast the tide.

Courage only can avail you
When the winds and waves assail you.
Onward! Onward! or be driven
On the rocks your boat all riven!
Breast the tide.
—W. R. Barber, in N. Y. Ledger.

Virtue itself offends, when coupled with forbidding manners.—Middleton.

First get an absolute conquest over thyself, and then thou art a man.—Fuller.

Who waits until circumstances completely favor his undertaking will never accomplish anything.—Luther.

It is one of the most engaging qualities of human nature that there is an exceptional value to everything which is hard to get.—New York Sun.

RELIGION.

Men will wrangle for religion; write for it; fight for it; anything but—live for it.—Colton.

Villany that is vigilant, will be an overmatch for virtue, if she slumber on her post; and hence it is that a bad cause has often triumphed over a good one.—Colton.

A LOVER'S GUSHINGS

It matters not not where I may now be a rover,
I care not how many bright
eyes I may see;
Should Venus herself come and ask me to love her,
I'd tell her I couldn't; my heart is with thee.
—Selected.

AN OLD MAN BEMOANING.

My May of life
Is fallen into the sear, the yellow leaf:
And that which should accompany old age,
As Honor, Love, Obedience, troops of Friends,
I must not look to have.
—Shakespeare.

Villany that is vigilant, will be an overmatch for Virtue, if she slumber on her post; and hence it is that a bad cause has often triumphed over a good one.—Colton.

Henry Ward Beecher never uttered a greater truth than when he said: "It is not what we read, but what we remember, that makes us learned. It is not what we intend but what we do that makes us useful. It is not a few faint wishes, but a life long struggle that makes us valiant."

Do you remember when September came
In those dim, shadowy days before you knew
The weight of life? How with reluctance you
Dragged to the school and answered to your name,
And all the while your thoughts were on the game
You left; and though conforming to the rule
Your mind dwelt in that playtime after school?
Well, life's September finds us much the same;
Like foolish little children we are slow
To do the daily task the Master sets,
But idly spend our hours in vain regrets
For games that were, and promise we shall go
To loll by babbling stream and shady pool,
And have an endless playtime after school.
—Marco Morrow

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Caillouette, Druggist, Beaversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. A REMARKABLE PIG.

A newly married lady who recently graduated from Vassar college is not well posted about household matters. She said to her grocer not long since:

"I bought three or four hams here a couple of months ago and they were very fine. Have you any more like them?" "Yes, ma'am," said the grocer, "there are ten of those hams hanging up there."

"Are you sure they are all off the same pig?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Then I'll take three of them.—Texas Siftings.
