Serving Two Masters.

One of the ablest men in North Carolina, in a private letter received yesterday, said: "No railroad attorney ought to be permitted to be a member of the General Assembly." Correct. In a long experience, this writer has known just three out of over a hundred Legislators who were railroad lawyers who did not always vote for the railroads when the interest of the people and the railroads conflicted. "Ye cannot serve God and Mammon."—News and Observer.

When you have rheumatism in your foot or instep apply Chamberlain's Liniment and you will get quick relief. It costs but a quarter. Why suffer? For sale by All Dealers.

Nell—That was a frightfully long sermon the minister preached this morning.

Bella—Why, I didn't notice it was unusually long.

Nell—Of course not; you had on a new hat.—Philadelphia Record.

A PREACHER GONE TO HIS REWARD.

In the death of Rev. Worley Creech, which occurred a few days ago, Johnston County loses one of her best citizens, and Christianity loses one of its best witnesses. He lived to a ripe old age, having done his work well. He was a man in whom the people had utmost confidence. His daily walk was an example of genuine active Christianity. He impressed those who met him as one walking and living in the spirit of the Master. Well do we remember our first visit to his home. Every hospitality was shown us. Before retiring for the night, Scripture reading and singing, all the family joining in the songs, and then the prayer—all added to the spiritual atmosphere of the place. At church, as well as at home, he carried with him that same spiritual power. He was a preacher considerably above the average, notwithstanding his limited education. He made good use of his opportunities to study God's Word and learn of Him in every way possible.

He was pastor of several churches, all along from the time he entered the ministry until his death, and received quite a large number of people into his churches. He labored in a hard field, but did not let anything discourage him. He was a pioneer missionary in his section of the county. He was a missionary when there was no other preacher to be had for his territory and no funds to support one. He labored on his farm during the week and preached to the people on Sundays. He left his impress on all the northern part of this county. No other man wielded such an influence in that section as did he. He loved the work and stayed with it and did it. He was a path finder and a way opener. His successors will not find the work so hard since he prepared the people for the religious advancement, which is sure to come to this county, as it has come to other parts of the state. We need him still in our midst. We need his advice and encouragement, his presence and his help. We do not feel that we can spare him. We shall miss him greatly. But he has gone to his reward. It is better for him to be with the Master. We can see him and be with him again, by crossing the river, as he has done. His work is done, his hardships are over and he is at rest. J. M. B.

Too Many Lawyers.

The Durham Herald evidently knew what it was talking about when it said, one day last week: "There are entirely too many lawyers in the Legislature for any one to hope that the bill to reduce the number of challenges in criminal cases would be seriously considered." Wake's lawyer member, Hon. Richard H. Battle, introduced a bill for this and other reforms, but most of the lawyers marked it for slaughter.—News and Observer.

If you have trouble in getting rid of your cold you may know that you are not treating it properly. There is no reason why a cold should hang on for weeks and it will not if you take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For sale by All Dealers.

One Way of Saving a Baby—Free to Try

The mother does not live who would not do all in her power to keep her child healthy, but often she does not know how. So when a doctor of standing points the way all can afford to listen. It is an accepted fact that nine out of ten of the troubles of infants and children is intestinal. You notice it by the fact that the child is constipated, it belches, is peevish and cries. Don't give a remedy that contains an opiate, because the child will get in the habit of needing it, and don't become alarmed and run at once for a doctor. Try a scientific laxative first. Give a small dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the remedy that is intended for the use of children. It is mild, gentle and non-gripping. The remedy is absolutely pure and is guaranteed in every particular. Mrs. Toomey of Emingsville, Pa., and

Mrs. Fred Crows of Alanson, Mich., never give their children anything else. These are only a few among thousands of women. You can buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of any nearby druggist, for they have all sold it for a generation, but if you want to test it on your child first send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will cheerfully send you a free sample bottle. Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. R. Caldwell, 402 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

A Mistake of The Legislature.

Referring to the defeat of the State primary act, the Fayetteville Observer says: "We regard the result as extremely unfortunate for the State and for the Democratic party. It marks a distinct retrogression from the advance step towards representative Democracy which the November elections recorded. We shall be agreeably disappointed if it does not increase the Republican vote in the western part of the State."—News and Observer.
