AT CHRISTMAS TIME

Fanny Runnells Poole

I LOVE to think at holy Christmas-time
 The patient kine may share our joy's increase;
 Oxen and cow, with eyes of a deep peace,
 So reminiscent of that Night sublime

When near them lay the Child in manger rude,
 With Maid Divine who pondered in her heart
 The voices and the glory, all a part
 Of the eternal bliss each year renewed.

I love to think the sheep have memories
 Of when the glory fell upon their sight,
 With that shepherds, on first Christmas night—
 Visions—for such do throng their tender eyes.

Comfort to all God's creatures, least of them
 As greatest, comfort we will vow to bring,
 Henceforth, anew, the while we Noel sing,
 And claim heaven's peace, our spirit's diadem.

What Poor Coal is to your Furnace Low Grade Gasoline is to your Motor

ANY experienced oil refiner can make a gasoline which will develop maximum power, or give maximum economy, or easy starting; that will enable a motor to idle well and run smoothly at a low throttle; or that will give small carbon deposit. But to perfect a balanced gasoline combining all the desirable properties in proper proportion took years of careful experimentation by our chemists and engineers.

Crudes from practically every producing field, improved refining processes, delicate chemical determinations, tests for flame speed, pressure, residue; tests in every type of internal combustion engine, both in the laboratory and in actual service; these were some of the factors which led to the development of our improved "Standard" Motor Gasoline.

It is particularly desirable in cold weather when less perfectly conditioned gasoline makes motors sluggish even with a rich, wasteful, carbon-making mixture.

Next time you need gasoline drive in where you see the familiar "S. O." sign. Get a tankful of balanced "Standard" Motor Gasoline. See what remarkable pulling power you get on the hills, how quickly your motor "snaps in." Keep tabs on the mileage you get. One quality wherever you buy it. At service stations and garages everywhere.

This balanced "Standard" Motor Gasoline equals or excels other motor gasolines in pep, power and economy. It keeps fuel and upkeep costs down the year around.

Refiners of POLARINE for all kinds of internal combustion engines.
