POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE MARRIED

Miss Sally May Tuttle Weds Mr. Ryal Woodall; Beautiful Church Wedding

Centenary Methodist church was the scene of a simple, impressive marriage Wednesday evening when Miss Sally May Tuttle became the bride of Mr. Ryal Woodall.

Skillful hands under the direction of Mrs. A. S. Johnston and Mrs. E. F. Ward had converted the chancel of the church into a beautiful green and white bower, southern smilax, ferns, and a baskets of white roses being used and numbers of candles furnishing a tableau effect upon the wedding picture. No cards had been sent in the city and the church was crowded with friends of the contracting parties to witness the interesting event.

Promptly at the appointed hour, Mr. John Josie of Scotland Neck, took his place at the organ and delighted the audience with an appropriate musical program before the advent of the bridal party. Mrs. Troy Myatt sang in a charming manner "O, Fair, Sweet and Holy." Mrs. Myatt wore a satin costume with corsage of pink roses. After her solo, Misses Nell Grantham and Margaret Holt lighted the candles. The notes of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin then sounded, and the bridal party entered the church as follows: Messrs H. C. Woodall and William Wellons, ushers; Messrs Mark Tuttle of Wilmington and W. M. Sanders, Jr., groomsmen; Miss Margaret Moore, wearing a charming frock of turquoise blue taffeta and Miss Eleanor Berry of Washington, seated in gold chiffon, bridesmaids. The bridesmaids both carried bouquets of pink roses and freesias. Following the bridesmaids the of-honor Miss Emeth Tuttle, of Raleigh, sister of the bride, entered. She wore lavender crepe satin and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas and lilies of the valley. The bride-groom with his best man, Mr. E. L. Woodall and the bride on the arm of her brother, Mr. Herndon Tuttle, of Goldsboro, advanced down opposite aisles and met at the altar where Rev. D. H. Tuttle, father of the bride pronounced the marriage ceremony, using the beautiful ring service.

The bride always attractive, never appeared to better advantage than in her wedding gown of white crepe satin entrain with long tulle veil. She carried a handsome bouquet of white roses, orchids and lilies of the valley.

As the minister pronounced the benediction the organist played Mendelssohn's wedding march which was used as a recessional.

Owing to the death of the bride's mother a few months ago, no reception was held. The bridal party, however was entertained after the ceremony by Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Ward.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodall left immediately for Raleigh where they boarded a train for New York City and other points.

Mrs. Woodall is the youngest daughter of Rev. D. H. Tuttle, pastor of the Methodist church here. She was educated at Trinity College and after her graduation taught in the schools of Washington and this city. She has a wide circle of friends over the state who will learn with interest of her marriage.

Mr. Woodall is the only son of Mrs. W. L. Woodall. He was reared in this city where he graduated from the high school. He later attended the University. He now holds a position with the First and Citizens National Bank. A young man of fine character, he numbers his friends by his acquaintances. THE HERALD extends best wishes to the happy couple.

Surprise Kitchen Shower

Monday evening a group of girl friends of Miss Sally May Tuttle met at the home of Mrs. Hal C. Hood laden with numerous kitchen utensils for the bride-to-be. After all had assembled, they repaired to the parsonage where the bride-to-be was taken completely by surprise. After enjoying the appreciation shown by the recipient of the useful gifts, the party dispersed with the best wishes for the young couple.

RALEIGH NOSES OUT SMITHFIELD GIRLS

Game of Thrills as Teams Lead Alternately; Final Score 25-21; Patterson and Mallory Star

(By Donnell Wharton)

Accurate goal shooting in the last few seconds of each quarter caused the Raleigh girls quintet to nose out by a 25-21 score over the Smithfield basketball passers here Tuesday night. Thrilling from the first blast of the referee's whistle to the final toot of the timekeepers, the game was beyond a doubt the classic of female basketball productions yet shown in the city.

Starting with a flying attack the locals soon chalked up an 8-2 score when the Raleigh team strengthened itself by a substitution at centre. Coming back in the second quarter the visitors advanced the score to 14-12, scoring two fields goals in the last 30 seconds of play.

Beginning the second half with the score at 14-12 the two aggregations soon were locked at 17-17 but with six seconds to play Mallory for Raleigh dropped a net shot into the basket and broke the tie. In the third period Raleigh ran it on up to 21-17 and it looked like they had the game on ice. But here the locals staged a whirlwind offense and caging two field goals in rapid succession only to have their hopes blasted when the same Miss Mallory shot again from the field with 15 seconds of playing time left.

Sarah Patterson lead the scoring of both teams with 16 points, two from the charity line while Sue Mallory followed close with seven field goals and one foul.

Line-up and summary:
Smithfield (21) Raleigh (25)
Wellons rf Mallory
Patterson if Scott

Substitutions: for Smithfield:
Maude Mecham for Avera; Woody for Wellons; for Raleigh: Blank for Wamble.

Bridal Party Entertained

The Woodall-Tuttle wedding party was delightfully entertained Tuesday evening after the rehearsal at the church at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. W. L. Woodall.

Pink peach blossoms gave an artistic touch to the living-room and drawing room and pink shaded lights shed a brilliance over the happy group assembled. The decorations were white and green.

The guests were received at the door by Mrs. W. L. Woodall, Misses Ora and Rebecca Poole directed the way upstairs where the guests divested themselves of wraps and receiving upstairs was Mrs. E. O. Aycock.

After enjoying pleasant intercourse for a time, the guests were invited to the dining room where a delicious salad course with hot coffee was served. The wedding cake which formed the centerpiece for the table was cut and served. The drawing of the ring, penny, button and thimble, proved to be quite interesting. Mrs. Troy Myatt receiving the ring, Mr. Ryal Woodall, the penny, Mrs. H. C. Woodall, the button and Miss Emeth Tuttle, the thimble.

AUTOMOBILE HIT BY A. C. L. ENGINE

Rev. Fred T. Collins, Wife, Two Children and His Mother In Accident

The town was thrown into a state of excitement and gloom when it became known yesterday afternoon about four o'clock that the car in which Rev. Fred T. Collins, pastor of the Baptist church here, his wife and two small children, and his mother, Mrs. Britt, had been struck by the train at the railroad crossing at the station here and three of the occupants seriously hurt.

Mr. Collins was taking his family for a drive and was going toward Goldsboro. According to an eye witness, the automobile ran upon the south bound track and stopped. An engine pulling two other engines was coming on the north bound track. It is supposed that Mr. Collins intended to back off the track but instead unwittingly shot the car forward immediately in front of the coming engine.

The automobile was entirely demolished and it is the wonder of those viewing the wreck that any of the occupants survived. Mr. Collins and his three year old son were practically unharmed save for the terrific shock. One foot of the eleven months old baby boy was cut off by the train. Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Britt were both rendered unconscious and though at this writing Mrs. Britt has regained consciousness, the extent of their injuries is not known.

As soon as the accident occurred the injured were placed upon a truck standing near by and rushed to the Smithfield Memorial hospital, where everything possible is being done.

The town is shocked beyond expression at the untoward event and deep sympathy is felt for the family.

BIG COUNTERFEIT PLOT UNCOVERED

Secret Service Arrests 64 Millions Dumped Through The World

New York, Feb. 21.—Secret service operatives today rounded up 64 counterfeiters involved in a plot of international scope whereby between $1,000,000 and $10,000,000 in spurious money has been dumped into the trading marts of a score of nations.

A nation-wide hunt is being carried on, it was discovered, for the capture of 1,000 members of a gang which maintained its headquarters in a basement in the Italian quarter of New York.

Government operatives in Detroit, Chicago, San Francisco and other large cities, with the details of the elaborate plot at their finger tips, are prepared to raid counterfeiters' dens in the foreign quarters of their cities. Police of South and Central America and western European nations have been informed of the haunts of the foreign agents of the gigantic crime ring.

The plot was bared after the capture last night of three men alleged by the authorities to be the leaders of an organization with international ramifications and the discovery of the printing presses which turned out hundreds of thousands of United States $2, $5, $10 and $20 bills, American silver quarters, gold pieces, Austrian kronen, Italian lire, internal revenue stamps and certificates, postage stamps, water-marked prohibition papers, whiskey and champagne bottle labels, and bogus drug and liquor permits.

Raids in Manhattan, Brooklyn, Long Island City and New Jersey resulted in 28 arrests in the last 24 hours and ended successfully an eight months' search for the international gang leaders, Joseph A. Palma, chief of the special service squad of the internal revenue department, announced. Thirty-six prisoners had been taken in secret raids during the last two weeks, bringing the total to 64.—Associated Press.

No Service at Community Church

There will be no preaching services at Community Presbyterian church Sunday morning. Mr. McInnis will be away.

EDUCATION BILL IN GOOD SHAPE

Restrict Power of County Boards; Mandamus Procedure Eliminated

Restriction of the power of the county board of education to contract debt beyond the budget agreed upon in joint session with the county commissioners and removal of the mandamus procedure to compel the commissioners to levy taxes in accordance with the demands of the board of education are written into the Brooks codification of the school laws of the State adopted by the Joint Education committee yesterday.

Action by the committee was unanimous. Three weeks of daily conferences between Dr. E. C. Brooks and the members of the two committees have ironed out the last of the points of disagreement, and the bill as reported yesterday meets the full approval of both. The bitter fight that promised to develop early in the session has disappeared, and little prospect remains for the delay of the passage of the bill.

Settlement agreed upon in points of widest divergence follows:

County boards of education may consist of either three or five members, to be elected by the General Assembly for a term of two years only, unless representatives nominate for two, four and six years. The provision does not interfere with the right of any county to nominate members by primary.

County superintendents are elected by the Board of Education as before, with the provision that 15 days before the election due notice by publication shall be given, and applicants for the place be required to file written statement of qualifications.

County boards of education may borrow against the budget, but may not incur beyond the total of the budget, without becoming personally liable for such debt. Boards must sit with the County Commissioners in preparing the budget.

In case of disagreement between the Board of Education and the Board of Commissioners as to the amount of the budget, appeal may be taken to the clerk of the superior court. Each board shall have one vote, and the vote of the clerk shall decide.

In the event that either Board is unwilling to abide by the vote of the clerk, appeal may be taken to the Superior court, and the presiding judge may determine the issue, or a jury may be had. Under the discarded mandamus law only the Board of Education had the right of appeal to the courts.

The question of free text books is left to each county to determine. If the County Board of Education and the Commissioners agree, a tax may be levied, or the question may be submitted to a direct vote.

These are the main issues of disagreement. The question of electing the county boards by direct vote, and of electing the superintendent by direct vote is left out of the bill. The features providing for the local boards to determine salary schedules either higher or lower than the State schedule is left in the bill. Other major provisions are left substantially as they were written in the initial draft of the law.—News and Observer, 22.

Sewing Club Entertains

POPULAR SPRINGS, Feb. 20.—The ladies of the sewing club of Popular Springs very delightfully entertained their husbands at a 6 o'clock dinner Feb. 17 at the home of Miss Jannita Jeffreys. Business was dispensed with, but there were many pleasing features provided for the entertainment of the guests. Miss Alger Murphrey and Mr. Perry sang several numbers after which they were invited into the dining room by Mrs. W. B. Murphrey. The tables were beautiful with their decorations and a delicious three course menu was served by Miss Ella May Murphrey and others.

There was quite a number of invited guests present, and the husbands suggested that they be entertained weekly instead of annually. As the guests departed they expressed many good wishes and congratulations to the hostess and the members of the club.

SELMA, Feb. 21.—On last Friday afternoon about 3:30 Mrs. W. H. Poole discovered that her home was full of smoke. Mr. Poole happened to be at home and on examination found that the heating plant which had been recently installed had caused a fire.

The fire company was on the spot in a few moments and never did men work more heroically but the fire had gained such headway before it was discovered that much of the interior of the home was burned and the furniture ruined. The windows were broken out in order for the men to save what they could. They battled with the smoke and flames and managed at last to get the trunks of the four teachers out, but not until their clothing was wet, smoked and ruined. The sympathy of the people goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Poole in their loss, also to the teachers, Misses Farrier, Branham, Stoneham and Martin. Mr. Poole's loss was partly covered by insurance.

WILSON'S MILLS SCHOOL ELECTION

Twenty-five Thousand Dollar Bond Issue Carried; Vote 148 to 37

The election Tuesday, Feb. 20, to provide for a new brick school building to be located at Wilson's Mills, carried by a good majority, 148 votes being cast for bonds and 37 votes against. This election authorizes the issuance of $25,000 worth of bonds which together with $25,000 secured from the state building fund will provide adequate school facilities for a consolidated school in that section. A truck has carried the school children from the old Pimple Hill district for sometime and the new building will make it possible to combine further. According to information furnished us, the issuing of $25,000 worth of bonds will mean only a slight increase if any of the school tax for the district, the special tax already voted being sufficient to take care of the bonds.

Mr. C. C. Hook, architect of Charlotte is now at work on plans for the new building which will contain from fourteen to sixteen rooms. The County Superintendent proposes letting the contract at an early date and at the same time the contract for a new school building at Micro will be let. The building at Micro will contain about 12 rooms.

SENATE COMMITTEE REJECTS THE MILLIKEN KLAN MEASURE

With one dissenting vote, the Senate committee on secret organizations yesterday substituted for the Milliken anti-Ku Klux bill, which was passed by the House, the Armfield substitute which was approved by official representatives of the Klan before the committee Tuesday.

The substitute, on the proposition to adopt a measure, which was urged by spokesmen for the Klan as protection to that order in place of the Milliken bill, bitterly denounced by the same spokesmen was cast by Senator Heath. The other members of the committee are Senators Varser, chairman; Armfield, Baggett, Hicks, Harrison, Hargett, Ray, Tapp and Johnson, of Duplin. Senator Heath did not file a minority report when the bill was reported out but stated last night he intended to do so.

Only slight changes were made in the Armfield substitute as reported by the subcommittee appointed Tuesday by Senator Varser from the terms of the bill as drawn by Senator Armfield. The bill as drawn was outlined by chairman Varser to E. F. Randolph, of Warsaw, personal representative of the Imperial Kizard, and approved by that functionary. The changes are regarded as making the measure even more favorable to the Klan.

The Armfield bill, prohibits masking without the registration feature of the Milliken bill providing for registration of members which is vigorously opposed by the Klan. The original bill exempting Klansmen when on parades and the only changes made yesterday by the sub-committee were to also exempt attendance upon funerals and trips to and from making a specific charitable donation.

The anti-masking feature of the bill, which spokesmen for the Klan stated they desired as "protection against imposters, is filled with 'teeth.' The measure makes it a misdemeanor for any person to appear off his premises disguised for the purpose of committing a crime and makes the mask prima facie evidence of intent. Any citizen is given the right to summon any other male person of lawful age, in person, by telephone or by messenger, to aid in removing the disguise. Failure to respond to such a summons makes the person summoned liable to a penalty of $250, to be imposed by the Superior court for the benefit of the person calling for assistance.—News and Observer.

Colored Man Kills Big Hog

That some of the colored people have caught the idea of living at home is shown by one of Smithfield's colored citizens, Tom Bryant, who killed a hog Tuesday which tipped the scales at 700 pounds. The hog was a year, 5 months and 10 days old, and was Berkshire and Poland China mixed.
