HOLD MEETING IN INTEREST SCHOOL

Churches Join In Union Service To Magnify Work of The School Teacher

MINISTERS MAKE TALKS

One of the most worth while meetings held in Smithfield was the union service at the Baptist church Sunday evening in the interest of the educational life of the town. Teachers of the graded school and members of the school board were invited to occupy reserved seats, and the ministers of the Methodist, Baptist, and Episcopal churches were on the platform and participated in the program of the evening. The Presbyterian church is without a pastor at present which accounts for the fact that this denomination was not represented on the program.

In spite of the inclement weather, the main part of the church was practically filled with friends and patrons of education, an illustration of Smithfield's interest along this line. A choir composed of singers from all the churches furnished unusually good music, two selections by a male quartette being especially enjoyed. Those composing the quartette were: Messrs. A. M. Calais, Paul Eason, S. L. Morgan, and W. C. Coates.

Rev. S. L. Morgan, pastor of the Baptist Church, was in charge of the meeting, and made the statement as to why such a meeting had been arranged. "To magnify the teacher and educational work in the community and to strengthen the relation between the home and the school was the purpose of the coming together," said Mr. Morgan and he talked briefly upon the position of the teacher in the life of the community declaring that unless the teacher was looked up to by the older folks of the community, he would not receive the respect that is his due from the pupils.

He called attention to the fact that teachers have a large influence upon our children. The Sunday school gets a chance at some of them for one hour a week, the church less often, but the school has their training in charge five or six hours five days in the week.

Mr. Morgan was followed by Rev. George M. Manley, rector of the Episcopal church, who spoke for a short time upon the "Importance of Education." He carried his message to his hearers by showing the handicaps of the ignorant man.

The ignorant man who cannot read and write must necessarily get his information second hand. He is naturally suspicious. His mind is fertile soil for anarchy and Bolshevism. The ignorant man is hampered in business. He is a prey to the dishonest. He is held back from rising in the world by lack of education. The ignorant man is hindered even in his religious life. The Bible is a closed book to him except as someone else gives out its truths. He cannot work efficiently in the Sunday school either as pupil or teacher.

The other side of the picture was presented by showing what education means. The word itself means "to lead out," and the educated man is trained to think and to think in straight lines. Education means progress. The speaker cited the building of the temple of worship as the product of education. The laying of concrete pavements requires a trained mind and hand. Education means usefulness and service. The more one knows the better service can he render.

"One and a half per cent of our incomes," said Mr. Manley, quoting figures recently published in "The Literary Digest," is spent each year in America for education; 8 1/4 per cent for crime; 14 per cent is wasted."

"May the time come," he said, "when men can realize the old axiom: An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure; when men will cease to spend so much for the punishment of crime; when so much that is wasted may be used for education in order that the children may grow into better citizens and worthier"

FLIERS COMPLETE HISTORICAL FLIGHT

Lieutenants Smith, Wade and Nelson Arrive At Seattle Flying Field

GREAT RECEPTION GIVEN

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 28.—The American round-the-world fliers completed the circuit of the globe this afternoon, landing at Sand Point Field at 1:36 p. m., Pacific Time.

Lieutenant Smith was the first to land. He was followed by Lieutenant Wade, then Lieutenant Nelson. The commander landed at 1:36, the others at 1:37:50 and 1:38:35, respectively. Flying conditions were ideal as the aviators made their last lap.

The weather here was warm, approaching sultriness. Sirens shrieked as the planes flew over the city. Thousands of voices roared a welcome at the field. Among the first to greet the fliers was Major Martin.

Lieutenant Leslie Arnold was hugged and kissed by his mother, Mrs. Cora Arnold, and his sister, Mrs. Francis Cole, of Spokane, Wash., when he alighted.

The fliers left Eugene, Ore., at 10:02 a. m., on their last leg.

They landed at Vancouver, B. C., a few minutes after leaving Portland to make adjustments to Lieutenant Wade's engine, hopping off from there at 11:57 a. m.

Ropes were strung around the famous machines and the reception committee gathered to greet the fliers. Lieutenant Smith stepped from the cockpit of his machine and made a short address to the assembled committee. The crowd that gathered around the roped-off airplanes was so great that the reception at the landing field was curtailed to merely a shaking of hands of the fliers and expressions from the reception committee of "glad you are here."

Each of the fliers received a large bouquet of dahlias, which they took with them to a private luncheon aboard a yacht.

A huge welcome sign 150 feet long spelled in letters 20 feet high greeted the aviators as they circled over Sand Point. As the planes flew over Seattle whistles and automobile horns sent up shrieking greetings. On the field hundreds of automobiles and cheers from the thousands of spectators contributed to the noisy return.

Among the vessels in the lake awaiting the fliers' arrival was the Canadian destroyer Patricia. The officers aboard had been delegated by Dominion officials to extend officially the greetings of the Canadian government.

Nine airplanes from Sand Point under the command of Major D. C. Emmons, commander of Crisy Field, San Francisco, left the field shortly before the fliers were expected to escort them.

The world circlers were accompanied on their flight from Eugene by Lieutenants J. A. Brockhurst and George W. Goddard, who made a photographic record of the flight across the country, and Lieutenant Burdette Wright and Sergeant J. F. Kennedy.

AUTO TURNS OVER

A Hadson touring car belonging to Mr. Hines of Kinston skidded and turned over Saturday night, about three miles from this city, on the Goldsboro road, Mr. Hines sustaining painful cuts on the face. He was accompanied by Mr. Nat Hill of Kinston, who sustained no serious injury. They were taken to the hospital but were able to leave Sunday.

Take Pictures of Johnston Farms

Mr. F. H. Jeter, Agricultural editor N. C. Extension Service, Raleigh, and Mr. Hanson of the Department of Agriculture of Washington, D. C. were in Johnston County last week making pictures of various farm enterprises and home experiments. Poultry, house and fall garden were taken at farm of Mr. T. W. Ives, Smithfield, Route one; Poultry, house and equipment, at the home of Rev. R. L. Gay in the same section; some laundry and improved fruit dryer at the home of Mr. T. E. Johnson of Elevation township; cotton and seed selection at home of Mr. Robert Johnson in Elevation; Home Demonstration Club in action at home of Mrs. A. J. Whitley, Jr., on Smithfield, Route 1, brood sows, barn, equipment, hogs on pastures, hogs on soy beans and self feeder, etc., at the farm of Mr. J. Lib Lee in Meadow Township.

Four other counties, Wayne, Wilson, Robeson and Cumberland, were visited by Mr. Hanson and Mr. Jeter. County Farm Agent N. B. Stevens, and County Home Agent, Miss Minnie Lee Garrison, accompanied these gentlemen on their itinerary in Johnston County. We hope to publish these pictures with accompanying articles in The Herald.

KIWANIANS DONATE PICTURE TO SCHOOL

One's education is incomplete until one has learned to appreciate the beautiful, not only the beautiful that is always so apparent but the beauty that is to be found in the simple walks of life.

It is the artist who has done more toward developing this type of beauty than anyone else. It is he who has taken the crude as well as the beautiful elements of life and helped to make us glad that we are alive, that we are a part of that beauty and can thus appreciate every station and walk of life.

The members of the Kiwanis Club have realized that there is no better way of instilling into each child a love for all that is beautiful in life than to have before them constantly the work of our greatest artists, thereby permitting them to grasp a portion of the depth of the spirit picture.

It is to the Kiwanians that we extend our hand in appreciation for the first picture to be given the boys and girls of the Smithfield schools. Many thanks to them for taking the lead in this picture campaign, which is being conducted by the Smithfield High School, and to other Clubs and citizens who may follow their leadership.

Education of the child—that is the purpose of having the Elson Art Exhibit at the school building for a four day study and for a public exhibit the afternoon and the evening of Oct. 10th; that is the purpose of the Soliciting Committee in soliciting, not that the artist has when he paints a picture, but a picture for every child.

If you have not been seen by this committee concerning the donation of a picture, but are interested in the training of the Smithfield boy and girl, see Miss Leonard, chairman of the Soliciting Committee or any member of the faculty of your schools.

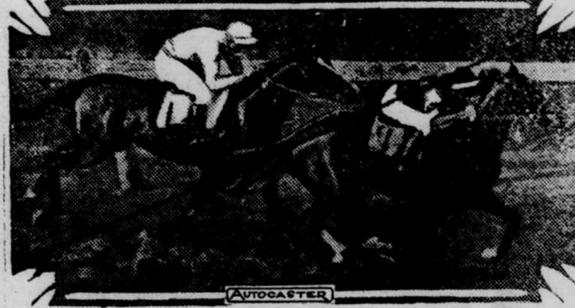

Every picture given to the school will have attached to the frame a brass plate with your name engraved upon it, standing as a memorial of your interest in the broader education of the child.

Should there be any who would like to purchase pictures for the home or public buildings, the same committee will be glad to take care of your orders. You will find them present at the Art Exhibit ready to serve you.

Besides an afternoon and evening spent in enjoying about 200 reproductions of the masterpieces of painting has been arranged a splendid program for you.

Watch The Herald for more news about this exhibit.

French Champion Loses First Race, But...

Epimard, four-year-old French champion, lost the first of his three scheduled races to the American horse, Wise Counsellor, but only by a half length, as shown in the picture of the finish. Carrying 180 pounds, the great horse outran Zev and the rest of the field, but could not hold a lead over Wise Counsellor.

DEMOCRATS FIGHT TO WIN IN OHIO

Leaders In Conference In Washington Decide On Drive In Ohio

TO WORK FOR NEW YORK

Washington, Sept. 27.—Democratic leaders in conference here today decided that they would have to win Ohio to carry the election. This means a hard fight, but they are going to try it. The big guns of the party are to be turned loose there next week and the weeks following up to the election.

Here is the way they dope out the situation now:

Davis cannot win with what he has now, but is gaining daily. Coolidge would not be elected if the ballots were cast today or tomorrow. LaFollette would have about 90 electoral votes in states heretofore republican.

Davis feels pretty certain of New Jersey, Nebraska and Missouri. These can be added to the solid south and border states. Now, if Ohio can be landed, the democrats will be able to sit pretty and see what New York will do. Party workers admitted that they have a hard task, and Davis must take the lead. The democratic organization is not functioning as it should.

Among the prominent party men here today were Senators Simmons, Harrison, Swanson and Pittman, and Cordell Hull, former national chairman; Finis Garrett, democratic lead-

Clayton Man Is Hurt In Accident

Mr. R. T. Brady, of Clayton, was right badly hurt in an automobile accident near Garner Monday afternoon, being badly cut about the face and head and possibly internal injuries. His young son was also injured, receiving a bad cut just under his chin.

The accident happened just this side of Garner. Mr. Brady driving a Ford touring car attempted to pass a school truck and collided with a Dodge coupe approaching from the direction of Smithfield. Both cars were badly damaged. The driver of the Dodge, W. L. Cope, a traveling salesman, was not badly injured.

Mr. Brady was returning to Clayton from Raleigh where his wife is critically ill when the accident happened. He and his son were brought to Clayton by Mr. Linnie Parrish and given medical attention at Dr. Houtt's office.—Clayton News.

Messrs. P. H. Ethredge and R. T. Fulghum, of Kenly, were in the city yesterday and gave this office a call.

er of the house; Representative Tom Connally, of Texas, and Chairman Shaver.

The democrats are very confident they will control the next Congress. New York is to be a real battle ground. Governor Smith is expected to carry it over Colonel Theodore Roosevelt. Some able republicans look for that result this does not mean Davis will get it. If there should be a republican landslide, Roosevelt might win.

JOHNSTON COUNTY CLUB GIRLS WIN

Jelly-making Team Will Represent Eastern District In Fair Contest

PENDER'S POULTRY WINS

Johnston County Club girls came out as winners in the Eastern District Contests held in Goldsboro Saturday. Fifteen counties comprise the Eastern District, and each year contests in Clothing, Jelly-making, Poultry, Bread-making, and Food Conservation are held to determine who shall represent the district in contests held at the State Fair.

Johnston county entered two teams the maximum allowed to one county, one team in Jelly-making, which won first place and will therefore go to Raleigh, and one team in Clothing, was declared second in the demonstration, Sampson's team winning first.

The young ladies who will represent the Eastern District at the State Fair are Misses Janie Edwards of Creech school, and Sallie Herring of Selma.

Those composing the team giving a demonstration in Clothing were Misses Pauline Barnes and Daisy Creech of Creech school.

Pender county won first place in the Poultry demonstration but the contest judging in Bread-making and food conservation will be deferred until the middle of the week owing to the illness of some of the teams.

Demonstrations in judging livestock, grain, etc., were put on for the club boys of the district but Johnston county did not enter any teams. However, several Johnston County club boys were on hand to observe the work being done and will enter the contests in Raleigh.

The hospitality accorded the club boys and girls by the people of Goldsboro was a very pleasant feature of the occasion, according to Miss Minnie Lee Garrison, Johnston County Home Agent, who accompanied her teams to the Wayne Capitol. The Merchant's Association and the Chamber of Commerce entertained the more than 50 club boys and girls present at dinner at the Kenyon Hotel. A unique thing about the dinner is that the menu included only Wayne County products. At the conclusion of the delightful repast, Mr. A. K. Robertson, County Farm Agent of Wayne, expressed the pleasure of having the young folks as guests. His words called forth a response from both groups, a young fellow from Wayne speaking for the boys and Miss Sallie Herring of Selma speaking for the girls.

Mr. M. G. Olive Dead

Mr. M. G. Olive, who lived near here, died at the Smithfield Memorial Hospital Friday night. He had been critically ill for several days. About a week before his death he was operated on for appendicitis and from that time there was little hope for his recovery, his appendix having ruptured before the operation was performed. He was sixty-nine years of age.

The funeral service was held at the home Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. R. L. Gay, and interment was made in the cemetery at Pisgah church. A large crowd of relatives and friends attended the funeral. The floral offering was beautiful.

He is survived by a wife and several children who have the sympathy of the community in this hour of bereavement.

SMITHFIELD HIGHS DEFEAT ELM CITY BY A 60-12 SCORE

Smithfield High gave all her gridiron warriors a chance in the first game of the season Friday, overwhelming Elm City by a 60 to 12 score. The locals scored in the first two minutes of play and were masters of the situation at all times.

The game was featured by the team work of the locals and the excellent generalship of a Capt. Jimmie Kirkman, while the long runs for touchdowns by Pittman and Capt. Batts of Elm City were thrillers.
