ever, disembarked one afternoon from the ship which carried it from Ceylon to Perth, Australia (on the west Australian coast) and was on its way early the next morning for Melbourne nearly 2500 miles away on the east coast. Across the mountains and the Great Victorian desert it held to its schedule and arrived on the dot in Melbourne, there it took ship for Hawaii.

Although the schedule laid down for the complete trip sometimes called for an average speed of 40 miles an hour in order to catch a sailing date and so arrive home in record time, it is worthy of note that the world-girdling Buick arrived on time in every instance.

In its great circle the Buick passed through England, the European Continent, Egypt, the Syrian Desert, India, Ceylon, Australia and the Great Victorian Desert, Hawaii, Canada and the United States.

Some idea of the type of going encountered by the Buick traveler may be gained from a portion of this letter written by the Buick dealer in Beirut who drove the car through the Syrian Desert from Beirut to Damascus and Bagdad.

"The road was terrible in places, being nothing more than a cart track strewn with large boulders. In the run over the Lebanon Mountains the car climbed to a height of more than a mile. After spending the night at Damascus the 540 mile run to Bagdad was made at an average speed of 35 miles an hour."

At the completion of the Globe Journey the Round-the-World Buick was met by thousands of Buick owners in New York City where it headed a triumphant parade down Fifth Avenue and was welcomed home by Mayor Hylan on the steps of the City Hall.

Still unaccompanied, this famous Buick is now visiting every one of the several thousand Buick dealers in the United States.

The car will have approximately 100,000 miles on its speedometer when it arrives in Smithfield on Tuesday, the 23. And another 50,000 miles will probably be added to this figure before its present tour of the United States is ended.

This car will be in front of the Sundry Shoppe at 9 a. m. on Tuesday of the 23rd.

The Baptist Column

Edited by S. L. MORGAN

A rally meeting of the Johnston association will be held in the Smithfield Baptist church next Tuesday, March 23. It will be an all-day meeting, beginning at 10 o'clock, the women of the Smithfield church serving lunch at the noon hour. It is expected that Dr. Maddy and perhaps some others of our State leaders will be present. Invitations are going out from the Raleigh office, to all pastors in the association and to other representatives in the churches urging that each church see to it that a good delegation shall attend the rally. It is greatly desired that leading members of the W. M. U. groups, as well as of the church as a whole, will be in attendance. Let the reader see to it that his own church or organization is represented.

The Johnston pastors heard with much regret in their monthly conference last Monday the farewell words of Pastor R. C. White, of Clayton, who offered his resignation as president of the body, and announced that he will leave April 1 for his new field, Jellico, Tenn. The Clayton church has extended a call to Rev. Ira E. D. Andrews, of Washington, S. C., but he has not as yet announced his decision.

It was a happy experience of the pastors conference to welcome a new member, Rev. J. E. Kirk, who has accepted the Benson church and is already on the field. He is a man of fine ability, and fine spirit, and will prove a worthy successor of Brother Keller. He has held in-

A few billion dollars in war debts will be too insignificant to worry about a hundred years or so from now, says the American Exchange National Bank, referring to the funding of indebtedness of foreign nations in its review. It states that the next hundred years will be better than the last hundred years; in fact, "there is nothing in the present to lead us to believe that the world of 2025 will not be as far ahead of the world today as 1925 is ahead of 1825."

"During the last hundred years we have been busy applying engineering to industry during the next hundred years the world will devote itself increasingly to the application of science to industry, to the evolving of less wasteful and more productive economic machines. Against the billions now wasted that will be saved in this way, the few hundred millions that annually must be paid upon war debt will appear too tiny to worry about."

"Debts must be paid in goods, of course, and some goods may be tendered in payment that the creditor nations do not want to receive, but time will also show us the way to adjust these difficulties. It may be that the necessity of overcoming the difficulties will lead us to a solution of the world's most dangerous problem, that of the correlation and co-ordination of world production."—Commercial Financial World.
