

County Correspondence

Pine Level

Pine Level, March 24.—Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Woodard and little son, Herman, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Malton Baker of Princeton.

Mrs. J. M. Potter, of Smithfield, visited Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Wiggs the past week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Brown and little daughter, Doris Mae, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Brown in Smithfield Sunday.

Miss Johnnie Watson, who is in college at Greenville, spent the week end in town with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Gerald.

Mrs. Mattie Leonetti, of Salem, Mass., visited Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Wiggs for the week end.

Miss Alice Hinant, of Massey, spent Saturday night with Miss Rachel Watson.

Miss Nelle Wilks visited relatives in Raleigh the past week end.

Mr. Stewart Vann, of Simms, was in town Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Peedin and children spent Sunday with relatives at Rains Cross Roads.

Mrs. Lora Massengill and Miss Lucile Worley, of Princeton, visited at Mrs. M. G. Peedin's last Wednesday.

Messrs. Joe Carr and Floyd Dixon, of Micro, were visitors in town Sunday.

Messdames W. H. Woodard and Alex Wiggs spent Sunday with Mrs. Arthur Edwards near Micro.

Miss Mildred Peedin, who is in training at Rex hospital, Raleigh, spent a few days at home last week.

Mr. J. P. Wiggs and family, of Massey, visited Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Crocker Sunday.

We are sorry to note that Miss Velma Stout has been very sick for the past week and is still confined to her bed.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Peedin spent the week end in Kenly with their daughter, Mrs. Alvin Stancil.

Mr. Noble Peedin is improving rapidly from an attack of rheumatism.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Batten and family visited their parents near Selma Friday night.

Little Miss Myrtle Barnes spent Saturday night in Selma with relatives.

Mr. Henry Crumpler, of Fitzgerald, was a visitor in the Pine Level section Sunday afternoon.

Miss Lucile Evans spent Saturday night in Selma with friend.

Little Misses Maude and Wilhelmina Dupree visited in Selma Saturday night.

Mrs. Maude Hales, of Raleigh is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. B. Godwin, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Crocker spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. A. Jones near Selma Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Pilkington, of Selma, visited Mr. and Mrs. Joe Crocker Sunday.

Mr. J. C. Strickland made a business trip to Selma today.

Messrs. Stephenson and Stancil, of Selma, visited Master N. B. Dupree Saturday night.

Miss Daisy Crocker was in town Saturday night the guest of Miss Hattie Edwards.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Batten and children spent Sunday with relatives and friends in Middlesex.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Strickland and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Thomas of Fitzgerald.

Miss Leone Sanders spent the past week end at her home near Sanders Chapel.

Mr. Erwin Pittman, of Raleigh, called in town Friday night.

Misses Clara Hales, Linda Davis and Mr. James Woodard shopped in Goldsboro Friday afternoon.

Mr. M. G. Futrell went to Smithfield on business Wednesday.

Mrs. N. B. Hales, of Raleigh, made a short call at Mrs. W. B. Godwin's Friday afternoon.

Mr. Luther Davis, of Dunn, was in town Thursday.

Misses Irene Parker, Thelma Creech and Mrs. H. C. Brown spent Friday afternoon in Smithfield shopping.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Goodwin and little daughter, of Smithfield, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Creech for a few hours Sunday afternoon.

Messdames W. B. Oliver, W. A. Herring and Mr. W. B. Oliver motored to Smithfield Friday afternoon.

Little Miss Millie Lee Strickland visited Ethel Thompson, of Fitzgerald, Sunday.

The Women's Missionary Society held its monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. B. L. Strickland in Stevens Chapel section Sunday.

Mrs. Leonard Brown and children have returned to their home in Selma after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Will Eason.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Oliver, of Royal school section, visited Mr. Joe Daughtry's family Sunday evening.

Some of our neighbors are planning to attend quarterly conference at Corinth Saturday.

Mr. Simon Godwin, of Selma, has gone in to the bee business extensively.

Last week he took a few hives down near the low grounds and Mr. Adell Hodge who lives on Mr. Tom Hill's farm, is attending them.

Mr. Tom George Strickland, of Brogden, has his tractor up at Mr. J. Rufus Creech's cutting some ground.

From there he will go to Mrs. Sarah Lawhon's to cut her two acre new ground.

These two farmers believe it pays to prepare land properly before planting.

Mr. Jessie Whitley, of Yelvington's Grove, and Mr. Edd Eason, of this community spent the week end with friends near Benson.

Mr. and Mrs. Waylan Daughtry, of Smithfield, spent Sunday with Mr. Grip Daughtry's family.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thompson, of Stevens Chapel, spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Joe Daughtry.

Mr. and Mrs. John Strickland and children spent Sunday with Mrs. Strickland sister, Mrs. Fate Southerland, of Creech's section.

Mrs. Nancy A. Creech, of Stevens Chapel section, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Fred Sasser, of Rocky Mount.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Rufus Creech and Billie and Dorothy, visited Miss Rachel Creech, who is a student at Louisburg College, Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Graham and daughters, Mildred, Jessie, Pearl and Gladys, spent the week end in Stevens Chapel with Mr. London Thompson's family.

Jessie Price, son of Mr. Emmet Price of Pine Level and grandson of Mr. Bob Hill of this community, had the misfortune to get his foot badly mashed by some timber falling on it recently.

This accident occurred at his home where a new barn was being built.

Mr. Herman Williams' children were sent home again last week from school on account of some of them having chicken pox.

Mr. Leonard Brown, who has recently accepted a position at Palmetto, Fla., returned to Selma Saturday preparatory to moving his family.

They left for Florida early Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Edd Game accompanied by her son, Willie, went to Pine Level Tuesday to see her little grandchild, Mozell, who had fallen on Monday morning with a pair of scissors in her hand, cutting her tongue almost off.

She is the daughter of Mr. Richard Game.

We are sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Howard Oliver's sister, Miss Leone Blackman, who was fatally hurt in an automobile accident in Selma Sunday evening.

Mrs. Reid Hodgkin, principal of Pomona school, has moved her boarding place to Mrs. J. D. Spiers in Smithfield.

She formerly boarded with Mrs. Thelma Woodard of this community. She comes and goes with Mrs. Gillikan, primary teacher, who lives in Smithfield.

Misses Jessie Daughtry and Mrs. Richard Thompson.

Clara Hamilton spent Wednesday night with Cora Thompson of Stevens Chapel.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Eason and family and Mr. and Mrs. James Hamilton went to Selma Tuesday night to bid their daughter and family good-bye.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown left Wednesday for Florida to make it their home.

Mr. J. Rufus Creech made a business trip to Wilson's Mills, Selma, and Princeton Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Hill and family from near Harrison's Lake, spent Saturday night with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Denning, of Pine Level, visited relatives in this section Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Baker, of near Four Oaks, spent the week end with Mr. Rawden Hill's family.

Misses Louise Quinn, Ina Walker, and Lela Aycok, of Princeton, spent one night last week at the Brogden teaching.

Mr. Willie Lee and family, of Brogden, visited in this community Sunday.

Mr. George Howell, of near Smithfield, was a business visitor here Thursday.

Mrs. Leone Brown and children, of Selma, spent last Thursday night with her sister, Mrs. James Hamilton.

One day last week, Otto and Avery Eason together with their dog, Brownie, were riding in a wagon drawn by two mules.

The boys were playing with the dog which began barking so loudly the mules became frightened and began running, throwing the boys out, one against each mule, though not hurting them badly.

The dog was thrown out the wagon ran over his neck, adding and scaring him so he ran through the woods howling.

They did not find their dog until that night, they heard him howling below Mr. Guy Powell's near the low grounds.

They went in search of him and found him hung in a wire fence.

Miss Cleo Howell, of Brogden section, spent Thursday night with Miss Renie Hill.

Ione Powell spent Thursday night with Miss Myra Gardner, of Brogden.

Mrs. Laura Hamilton has returned from a week's visit to her daughter, Mrs. Pharoah Kornegay, of Progress section.

Mr. and Mrs. Jodie Hill spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Baker near Four Oaks.

Misses Lola and Elizabeth Hill Wednesday night.

Mr. J. J. Eason was a business visitor in Princeton Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Rowe, of Raines Cross Roads, spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Creech.

Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Booker, of near Smithfield, visited Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Stevens Sunday evening.

Mrs. Will H. Creech and son, Raiford, visited relatives in Pine Level Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Creech, of Creech's school section, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Creech.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lynn and Olivia, visited their daughter, Cornelia, who is attending Mount Olive high school, Sunday.

Messrs. Jesse Whitley and Edd Eason were callers in Princeton Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Britton, of Georgia, have returned home after a prolonged visit with relatives in this section.

Mr. R. C. Youngblood, of Wilson's Mills, spent a few hours in this community Thursday night.

Mr. Sidney Barbour, of Benson, was a visitor here Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Wright Creech, of Yelvington Grove section, has been visiting relatives in this community recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Creech visited Mr. Charlie Lassiter's family in Four Oaks Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Herring, of near Micro, visited Mr. and Mrs. Tom Creech Tuesday night.

Mr. Ray Johnson and Misses Alice Pansy and Mabel Barbour visited Miss Alma Creech Sunday.

Mr. Leonard Woodard left last Friday to visit friends in Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnston, of Hopeville spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Stevens.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Creech spent Saturday night with their sister, Mrs. Henry Jart Thompson, in Stevens Chapel.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Whitley, of Yelvington's Grove, visited in this section Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Herring, of near Micro, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Creech Wednesday night.

Mrs. Percy Barnes was called to her old home in Kodak, Tenn., on account of her father's serious illness.

Saturday night about sunset while J. K. Sanders and Harvey Starling were feeding the stock a wild duck came walking out from under the barn but on seeing them it flew, circling around a few times, then flew southward.

The girls in the third, fourth and fifth grades are still beating the boys spelling, of which they are very proud.

Sarah Eason made 100 on a geography test and Elsie Smith 100 on history.

Mr. Leonard Brown while in Selma reported that his railroad motor truck, near Gillette, Fla., ran over a huge rattlesnake that was lying across the track, which seemed to slightly addle it.

The men got off the truck and with some spikes managed to kill it.

He said the snake had 27 rattlers and several buttons.

He said this kind of snake was very plentiful in that part of Florida.

Mr. Leonard Woodard returned from Virginia Wednesday.

Mrs. J. Ransome Creech, of Brogden, Miss Mildred and Mr. Alton Creech visited relatives here Wednesday night.

The school truck got stuck on Tuesday morning near Mr. Luke Barnes and was delayed for some time.

Mr. Richard Daughtry, Mr. Edd Game and Mr. Richard Game went shadding in Neuse River on Wednesday night and caught six hickory shad.

Mrs. Pauline Barnes Crocker, of Lakeland, Fla., and Mrs. John K. Talton, of St. Petersburg, Fla., arrived here Wednesday to spend some time with relatives.

Mrs. W. S. Smith, of Smithfield, was a visitor in this community Wednesday.

The young people of the community meet at the Methodist church almost every night to practice for Easter services.

A business meeting pertaining to school matters was held at the school house Wednesday night.

STONE MOUNTAIN

As the Pyramids are monuments to the Pharaohs to succeeding ages, so will Stone Mountain be a grander monument to the soldiers of the Confederate Army.

The Federal Army recognized the fact that the Southern Soldiers were foemen "worthy of their steel"—and now the whole North, by their representatives in Congress recognize the valor of the Southern Soldier by coining and issuing 2,000,000 Stone Mountain

Dr. J. H. Fitzgerald

Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat

SMITHFIELD, N. C.

V. J. UNDERWOOD

SMITHFIELD

HEALTH and ACCIDENT INSURANCE

Wishes to announce the opening of an exclusive optometrical office in the post office building, Smithfield, and will make his regular visits every second Friday in each month. Hours 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Make a note of the date and see him if your eyes are weak or if you have headache regularly. His next visit will be Friday, April 9th

Advertisement for Dr. J. C. Mann, Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist, featuring an illustration of an eye.

Advertisement for N. L. Perkins Insurance, Special Agent, Aetna Life Ins. Co.

Advertisement for Hall's Catarrh Medicine, claiming to rid your system of Catarrh or Deafness.

Advertisement for Ladies and Gentlemen, City Dry Cleaning Co., featuring an illustration of a hat.

Advertisement for Crumpler-Jones Fur Co., South Third Street, Smithfield, N. C.

Memorial Coins, to be sold and applied to the carving of the statuary and Memorial Chambers of this most grand and famous monument in all the world.

This superb work will perpetuate Southern Valor to all the coming ages. 150,000 of these coins is North Carolina's quota.

The great state whose brave soldiers were "First at Big Bethel, went farthest to the front at Gettysburg and Chickamauga, and last at Appomattox" will surely go "over the top" purchasing these coins.

Every child in the State should have one of these coins, a precious inspiring memorial. The patriotic sons and daughters who love and venerate their fathers and their enduring, unconquered mothers, will not fail to purchase these 150,000 coins.

Somehow, I feel that Robert E. Lee is looking down at his soldiers who loved him and affectionately called him "Marse Robert" and I hear him saying, "Let us rise to this opportunity—Men do your Duty." Let us meet his approbation and hear him repeat, "God Bless North Carolina!"

Every child in the State should have one of these coins, a precious inspiring memorial. The patriotic sons and daughters who love and venerate their fathers and their enduring, unconquered mothers, will not fail to purchase these 150,000 coins.

Somehow, I feel that Robert E. Lee is looking down at his soldiers who loved him and affectionately called him "Marse Robert" and I hear him saying, "Let us rise to this opportunity—Men do your Duty." Let us meet his approbation and hear him repeat, "God Bless North Carolina!"

Every child in the State should have one of these coins, a precious inspiring memorial. The patriotic sons and daughters who love and venerate their fathers and their enduring, unconquered mothers, will not fail to purchase these 150,000 coins.

Somehow, I feel that Robert E. Lee is looking down at his soldiers who loved him and affectionately called him "Marse Robert" and I hear him saying, "Let us rise to this opportunity—Men do your Duty." Let us meet his approbation and hear him repeat, "God Bless North Carolina!"

Every child in the State should have one of these coins, a precious inspiring memorial. The patriotic sons and daughters who love and venerate their fathers and their enduring, unconquered mothers, will not fail to purchase these 150,000 coins.

Somehow, I feel that Robert E. Lee is looking down at his soldiers who loved him and affectionately called him "Marse Robert" and I hear him saying, "Let us rise to this opportunity—Men do your Duty." Let us meet his approbation and hear him repeat, "God Bless North Carolina!"

Every child in the State should have one of these coins, a precious inspiring memorial. The patriotic sons and daughters who love and venerate their fathers and their enduring, unconquered mothers, will not fail to purchase these 150,000 coins.

Somehow, I feel that Robert E. Lee is looking down at his soldiers who loved him and affectionately called him "Marse Robert" and I hear him saying, "Let us rise to this opportunity—Men do your Duty." Let us meet his approbation and hear him repeat, "God Bless North Carolina!"

Every child in the State should have one of these coins, a precious inspiring memorial. The patriotic sons and daughters who love and venerate their fathers and their enduring, unconquered mothers, will not fail to purchase these 150,000 coins.

Somehow, I feel that Robert E. Lee is looking down at his soldiers who loved him and affectionately called him "Marse Robert" and I hear him saying, "Let us rise to this opportunity—Men do your Duty." Let us meet his approbation and hear him repeat, "God Bless North Carolina!"

Every child in the State should have one of these coins, a precious inspiring memorial. The patriotic sons and daughters who love and venerate their fathers and their enduring, unconquered mothers, will not fail to purchase these 150,000 coins.

Somehow, I feel that Robert E. Lee is looking down at his soldiers who loved him and affectionately called him "Marse Robert" and I hear him saying, "Let us rise to this opportunity—Men do your Duty." Let us meet his approbation and hear him repeat, "God Bless North Carolina!"

Every child in the State should have one of these coins, a precious inspiring memorial. The patriotic sons and daughters who love and venerate their fathers and their enduring, unconquered mothers, will not fail to purchase these 150,000 coins.

Somehow, I feel that Robert E. Lee is looking down at his soldiers who loved him and affectionately called him "Marse Robert" and I hear him saying, "Let us rise to this opportunity—Men do your Duty." Let us meet his approbation and hear him repeat, "God Bless North Carolina!"

Every child in the State should have one of these coins, a precious inspiring memorial. The patriotic sons and daughters who love and venerate their fathers and their enduring, unconquered mothers, will not fail to purchase these 150,000 coins.

Somehow, I feel that Robert E. Lee is looking down at his soldiers who loved him and affectionately called him "Marse Robert" and I hear him saying, "Let us rise to this opportunity—Men do your Duty." Let us meet his approbation and hear him repeat, "God Bless North Carolina!"

Every child in the State should have one of these coins, a precious inspiring memorial. The patriotic sons and daughters who love and venerate their fathers and their enduring, unconquered mothers, will not fail to purchase these 150,000 coins.

Somehow, I feel that Robert E. Lee is looking down at his soldiers who loved him and affectionately called him "Marse Robert" and I hear him saying, "Let us rise to this opportunity—Men do your Duty." Let us meet his approbation and hear him repeat, "God Bless North Carolina!"

Every child in the State should have one of these coins, a precious inspiring memorial. The patriotic sons and daughters who love and venerate their fathers and their enduring, unconquered mothers, will not fail to purchase these 150,000 coins.

Somehow, I feel that Robert E. Lee is looking down at his soldiers who loved him and affectionately called him "Marse Robert" and I hear him saying, "Let us rise to this opportunity—Men do your Duty." Let us meet his approbation and hear him repeat, "God Bless North Carolina!"

Every child in the State should have one of these coins, a precious inspiring memorial. The patriotic sons and daughters who love and venerate their fathers and their enduring, unconquered mothers, will not fail to purchase these 150,000 coins.

Somehow, I feel that Robert E. Lee is looking down at his soldiers who loved him and affectionately called him "Marse Robert" and I hear him saying, "Let us rise to this opportunity—Men do your Duty." Let us meet his approbation and hear him repeat, "God Bless North Carolina!"

Every child in the State should have one of these coins, a precious inspiring memorial. The patriotic sons and daughters who love and venerate their fathers and their enduring, unconquered mothers, will not fail to purchase these 150,000 coins.

Somehow, I feel that Robert E. Lee is looking down at his soldiers who loved him and affectionately called him "Marse Robert" and I hear him saying, "Let us rise to this opportunity—Men do your Duty." Let us meet his approbation and hear him repeat, "God Bless North Carolina!"

Every child in the State should have one of these coins, a precious inspiring memorial. The patriotic sons and daughters who love and venerate their fathers and their enduring, unconquered mothers, will not fail to purchase these 150,000 coins.

Somehow, I feel that Robert E. Lee is looking down at his soldiers who loved him and affectionately called him "Marse Robert" and I hear him saying, "Let us rise to this opportunity—Men do your Duty." Let us meet his approbation and hear him repeat, "God Bless North Carolina!"

Every child in the State should have one of these coins, a precious inspiring memorial. The patriotic sons and daughters who love and venerate their fathers and their enduring, unconquered mothers, will not fail to purchase these 150,000 coins.

Somehow, I feel that Robert E. Lee is looking down at his soldiers who loved him and affectionately called him "Marse Robert" and I hear him saying, "Let us rise to this opportunity—Men do your Duty." Let us meet his approbation and hear him repeat, "God Bless North Carolina!"

Every child in the State should have one of these coins, a precious inspiring memorial. The patriotic sons and daughters who love and venerate their fathers and their enduring, unconquered mothers, will not fail to purchase these 150,000 coins.

Somehow, I feel that Robert E. Lee is looking down at his soldiers who loved him and affectionately called him "Marse Robert" and I hear him saying, "Let us rise to this opportunity—Men do your Duty." Let us meet his approbation and hear him repeat, "God Bless North Carolina!"

Every child in the State should have one of these coins, a precious inspiring memorial. The patriotic sons and daughters who love and venerate their fathers and their enduring, unconquered mothers, will not fail to purchase these 150,000 coins.

Somehow, I feel that Robert E. Lee is looking down at his soldiers who loved him and affectionately called him "Marse Robert" and I hear him saying, "Let us rise to this opportunity—Men do your Duty." Let us meet his approbation and hear him repeat, "God Bless North Carolina!"

Every child in the State should have one of these coins, a precious inspiring memorial. The patriotic sons and daughters who love and venerate their fathers and their enduring, unconquered mothers, will not fail to purchase these 150,000 coins.

Somehow, I feel that Robert E. Lee is looking down at his soldiers who loved him and affectionately called him "Marse Robert" and I hear him saying, "Let us rise to this opportunity—Men do your Duty." Let us meet his approbation and hear him repeat, "God Bless North Carolina!"

Every child in the State should have one of these coins, a precious inspiring memorial. The patriotic sons and daughters who love and venerate their fathers and their enduring, unconquered mothers, will not fail to purchase these 150,000 coins.

Somehow, I feel that Robert E. Lee is looking down at his soldiers who loved him and affectionately called him "Marse Robert" and I hear him saying, "Let us rise to this opportunity—Men do your Duty." Let us meet his approbation and hear him repeat, "God Bless North Carolina!"

Every child in the State should have one of these coins, a precious inspiring memorial. The patriotic sons and daughters who love and venerate their fathers and their enduring, unconquered mothers, will not fail to purchase these 150,000 coins.

Somehow, I feel that Robert E. Lee is looking down at his soldiers who loved him and affectionately called him "Marse Robert" and I hear him saying, "Let us rise to this opportunity—Men do your Duty." Let us meet his approbation and hear him repeat, "God Bless North Carolina!"

Every child in the State should have one of these coins, a precious inspiring memorial. The patriotic sons and daughters who love and venerate their fathers and their enduring, unconquered mothers, will not fail to purchase these 150,000 coins.

Somehow, I feel that Robert E. Lee is looking down at his soldiers who loved him and affectionately called him "Marse Robert" and I hear him saying, "Let us rise to this opportunity—Men do your Duty." Let us meet his approbation and hear him repeat, "God Bless North Carolina!"

Honeycutt, of Baptist Center; Mrs. J. W. Jones and Mrs. Fell Benson, of the Polenta section, and Mr. J. L. Godwin, of Clayton.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon and interment made at Baptist Center church. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Jenkins of the Baptist church, and Rev. M. Y. Self, pastor of the Methodist church of Clayton.

Mrs. R. E. Massengill Dead