Ruth Inez Pate Dead.

On Saturday night, October 23, the Death Angel came into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Pate and claimed the spirit of their only child, Ruth Inez. She was only seven weeks old and was so bright and healthy looking that father and mother thought her to be in the best of health until they waked up on the 23rd to find their precious little darling sweetly sleeping the sleep that none can wake.

We know that such precious little ones are so happy but, oh, how hard to part with one we loved and cherished so much!

She was buried in Rains X Roads cemetery Sunday, October 24, amid a crowd of sorrowing relatives and friends who came to pay the last tribute of respect to one so dear to them. Weep not, father and mother, your darling is not dead but sleeping in the arms of Jesus.

Ruth, we are lonely, how we miss your dear little face, But you left us to remember that none on earth can take your place.

In that bright eternal city, death and sorrow never come.

In His good time he will call us from earth to home sweet home.

In that lonely little church ground Where the many dear ones dwell, Where the little marble slabs are standing

Sleeps the one we loved so well.

She leaves a broken-hearted mother, father and numbers of relatives and friends to mourn their loss. It is true we cannot call little Ruth back to us, but we can be faithful and try by the mighty help of God to meet her in that home where sorrow and heart-aches never come.

Written by one who loved her, MRS. WM. MASSENGILL, Princeton, N. C.

Book Club Entertained.

Selma, Nov. 10.—The Friday Afternoon Book Club was entertained last week by Mrs. Mamie

T. Candier. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Person presided over a short business session. The literary program was a study of Edgar Allen Poe.

Mrs. Person gave a very interesting description of Poe's life.

Mrs. Call's paper gave Poe as a writer of tales, and Mrs. E. V. Woodard presented Poe, the poet, reading also the lovely poem, "Annabelle Lee."

Refreshments consisting of chicken salad, potato chips, cheese straws, hot rolls, coffee and salted nuts were served.

Besides the club members, guests included Mesdames W. T. Woodard, C. A. Jacobs, F. M. Waters, R. A. Ashworth, W. H. Etheridge and Mrs. Walter Moore Noble, of California.

Weiner Roast.

Selma, Nov. 10.—The Selma Girls' Athletic Club gave a very enjoyable weiner roast Monday afternoon, each member inviting a school boy. The merry party hiked to the clump of pines near the overhead bridge on Highway 22. Fires were soon kindled and the fun began. Weiners were roasted and served with the usual appetizing accompaniments and topped off with toasted marshmallows. The girls and boys were chaperoned by Miss Ruth Phillips, director of physical education, and Miss Laurie Smith, teacher in the seventh grade.

Family Reunion

Selma, Nov. 10.—Dr. R. J. Noble was host to the members of his immediate family and near of kin on Sunday, November 7. Those present to enjoy the hospitality of the genial doctor were: Dr. and Mrs. R. P. Noble and son, Robert Jr., of Raleigh; Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Noble and three children, of Smithfield; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Moore Noble and two children, of California; Miss Annie Noble, Prof. M. C. S. Noble, of Chapel Hill, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Winston, of Oxford.

This was the first time in twenty years they had all been together.

Woman's Club Meets.

Mrs. A. H. Rose, who attended the District Meeting of Federated Clubs at Pikeville in October as a representative of the Smithfield Club, gave a very delightful report at the regular meeting held Wednesday afternoon at the club room. After Mrs. Rose's talk, the business session was held presided over by the president Mrs. W. N. Holt. The outstanding report of the afternoon was given by Mrs. N. M. Lawrence, chairman of the Library Department. Her report was to the effect that new books will be added to the library at an early date. A committee was appointed to have charge of the tuberculosis seal sale, this committee being Mrs. Thel Hooks, Mrs. W. H. Lyon and Mrs. J. W. Whitehead.

Five new members have joined the club since the October meeting.

Entertains Philatheas

Tuesday evening Mrs. M. A. Wallace was hostess to the members of the Philatheas class of the Baptist Sunday school at her home on South Second street. Miss Annie Myatt, president of the class, presided over the devotional period and the business session. Much interest and enthusiasm were shown in the discussion of plans for the betterment of the class. After a delightful social hour, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. D. Carlton Stephenson, served sandwiches, pickles, hot coffee and wafers.

Those present were: Mesdames A. M. Calais, T. C. Henry, G. W. Hicks, C. D. Little, W. H. Lassiter, Layton McGugan, W. T. Dantz, S. T. Price, J. D. Richardson, D. W. Peterson, P. V. Brown, V. V. Hunter, H. B. Herndon, Misses Luna Pearson, Annie Myatt and Lallah Kookh Stephenson.

Revival at Trinity

A revival meeting will begin at Trinity Baptist church on the 3rd Sunday night, November 21. Rev. Jones E. Kirk, of Benson, will assist the pastor, Rev. Geo. P. Laniel, in this meeting. The revival will continue a week or ten days. The public is invited to attend all services.

Ogburn-Stephenson

Willow Springs, Nov. 9.—Elder L. H. Stephenson announces the marriage of his daughter, Ava, to Mr. Alton Brooks Ogburn. The wedding took place at the home on October 31 at 9:30 a. m. Elder Jno. P. Tingle, of Raleigh, officiated.

Mrs. Ogburn is a lovely woman, a member of the Primitive Baptist church in Johnston county, with her father, and has many friends throughout the eastern part of the State where she has made several visits with him among the churches and associations of his faith. She received her education at Pineland School for Girls and Junior College at Salemburg, having stopped before her graduation on account of the death of her mother two years ago.

Mr. Ogburn is a son of the late Charles B. and Mary Ogburn, of Johnston county. He is very highly esteemed and of promising ability. After spending the day with their friends they left Raleigh Sunday night for Trenton, N. J., where Mr. Ogburn is making his home, holding a responsible position with the State Hospital there.

Sardis Baptist Church.

Regular monthly services at the Sardis Baptist church next Sunday morning and Saturday night before.

At the Sunday morning service the right hand of fellowship will be given to the new members that were recently baptized.

JAS. W. ROSE, Pastor.

B. & P. CLUB UNDERTAKE HEALTH PROGRAM

With plans under way for a physical culture class, a walking club already formed, and the presentation of a diet play at its recent banquet meeting, the health program of the Business and Professional Women's Club bids fair to make its members more efficient workers.

The regular November meeting was held Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the club room with nineteen present. A palatable and healthful menu in two courses was served by the Woman's Club, after which the business session was held. The program concluded with a striking playlet in which it was shown what foods are good for keeping one in good health. Miss Lissie Pearce, of the Four Oaks school faculty, assisted in presenting the play. Others taking part were Miss Vara Sanders, Mrs. Bessie Scher, Miss Effie May Jones, and Mrs. Joe Davis.

A part of the business session was devoted to a discussion of the organization of a physical culture class which, it is hoped, will be arranged at an early date.

Those present agreed on a walking club each member to walk a mile in the open each day as a minimum.

During the next week, an effort will be made for new members, each one of the present members trying to secure at least one new one. There are now twenty-one on the roll.
