HURT STEPPING FROM AUTOMOBILE

Able to go to work next day after simple home treatment

As William H. Avey of Rutland, Vermont, stepped from his car about three o'clock in the afternoon, his left foot felt sore, and by five o'clock he could not step on it. "I sent for a bottle of Sloan's Liniment," he writes, "and bathed it once every half hour. At ten-thirty, I could step on it and walk, and the next morning I went back to work." Active people everywhere tell of numerous instances of the amazingly quick and complete relief that Sloan's has given to sprains, wrenches, bruises—in fact every kind of muscular pain. It doesn't just deaden the nerves. By speeding up the circulation it helps the body to throw off the cause of the pain. Get a bottle today and have it on hand. All druggists—35 cents.

Both sermons were very forceful and inspiring, especially that of Sunday night. Mr. Brown in this sermon gave some splendid advice to the parents of our town and community. Miss Mattie Pearce and brother, Mr. Will Pierce, of Kenly, visited their sister, Mrs. W. R. Keene, here Sunday. Rev. David Dodd is at Durham this week attending the Methodist conference in session there. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Sherrill recently returned from a visit to relatives in Western North Carolina and Virginia.

DOESN'T AGREE WITH GENERAL COTTON ABUSE
Hot Coffee, Miss., Nov. 8.—E. C. Pridden, 95, does not agree with the general abuse of low cotton prices by Southern growers. Mr. Pridden looks back to the time "when a dime looked as big as a log cartwheel," and when "we dressed in pine straw hats and buckskin shoes, lived on arrangements and did well."

"I have been listening to folks abusing the low price of cotton," the aged man wrote the editor of his local newspaper. "I have lived in Mississippi for eighty-five years and they have always done that about something. Who is to blame?"

Editors have recommended that they make foodstuffs at home, grow a little cotton and get a good price for it. But no, most of them must go in debt for a car and ride it out; something that won't pay taxes nor make them meat and bread."

Pridden believes they "will see their mistake before the end of 1927. Something has always happened in times like these."—Associated Press.
