Vanzetti's Body To Be Cremated

Ashes of Anarchist Will Be Taken On Tour of Europe; High Lights In Case

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—The ashes of Bartolomeo Vanzetti are to be taken on a tour of Europe. Miss Luigi Vanzetti, who came from Italy to see her brother before he was executed in the State prison yesterday, is to accompany them. After cremation here the ashes will be taken to New York, London, Paris, Berlin, Stockholm and other cities before going to Italy, Vanzetti's native land.

The body of Nicola Sacco, who was executed with Vanzetti, also is to be cremated. His ashes will be claimed by his widow, who resides in Boston with her two children.

Announcing a cancellation of plans for exhibiting the bodies of the two men in various American cities because of the "physical impossibility" the Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee said the cremation would be next Sunday in the north end, the Italian section of Boston, the announcement said.

Difficulties developed in this connection today. City ordinances require burial within four days of death without special permission. TO MAKE DEATH MASKS.

Mrs. Glenbow Ives, wealthy society woman, associated with the defense, said that death masks would be made of the two men and many copies distributed.

The state today still held the bodies but the tenure which began with their arrest for murder in 1920 is likely to be broken before night by delivery of the bodies to the Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee.

The men refused to the last to return to the Catholic religion of their childhoods. Respecting their beliefs, it was announced that no prayers would be said but that comrades would speak briefly before the cremation.

TO EXPOSE "CONSPIRACY." A call has gone out for a national conference in New York on August 27 and 28 to organize a league "to establish the innocence of Sacco and Vanzetti and to expose the conspiracy which sent them to their death."

It was proposed to accomplish this by a senatorial investigation of the Department of Justice inquiry into the decisions of Governor Fuller and his advisory committee and by exposing "the vicious under cover activities of private and governmental detective agencies." It was hoped also to raise a fund for Mrs. Sacco and to create a memorial for the two men.

HIGH LIGHTS IN CASE BOSTON, Aug. 24.—Important dates in the Sacco-Vanzetti case are:

April 15, 1920.—Murder of Frederick A. Parmenter, paymaster of Slater and Morrill Company, shot.

T. C. Young Gets Reply To Letter

President of Tobacco Association Points Out Impracticability of Changing Date of Opening Tobacco Market Now

In reply to a letter from T. C. Young in which a petition from Smithfield for earlier opening of the tobacco market was enclosed, A. B. Carrington, president of the Tobacco Association of the United States, states that it is impossible at this late date to make the change.

Mr. Carrington's letter to Mr. Young is as follows: "I am in receipt of your favor of August 18th enclosing petition in regard to opening markets in Eastern Carolina."

"The dates for opening the markets are set on the recommendation of a committee appointed by the Tobacco Association of the United States, composed of representative people in the tobacco business, including warehousemen."

"It is impossible to change the date now as it would cause no end of confusion, and the buyers are all located at different points and are scheduled to be in Eastern Carolina on September 6, the opening date. If sales are opened prior to that time the farmers will not get full prices for their tobacco as the larger buyers could not be represented."

"I appreciate the fact that the crop in Eastern North Carolina should have come on the market earlier, but as the date is set and all the schedules are made out, it is impossible to make a change at this time."

The petition, which was signed by practically all of the business and professional men of this city, was circulated at the instance of the Eastern Carolina chamber of commerce, and similar petitions were used from all the tobacco towns of this section as well as others with no tobacco market.

MRS. U. B. BAGWELL DIES AT CLAYTON AFTER ILLNESS Mrs. U. B. Bagwell, of Clayton, died Monday morning at her home after an extended illness.

She is survived by her husband, mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Blinson; one sister, Mrs. M. P. Folland, and four brothers, C. L. A. W. D. M. and E. R. Blinson, all of Clayton.

Mystery Veils Fate Of Fliers

Navy's Searching Planes and Ships Now Nearing Hawaiian Islands

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Naval officials here were checking their charts of the Pacific Ocean tonight to ascertain whether territory searched in the Navy's search for the missing Doie air racers warranted an extension of the "zero hour" originally set for Thursday night.

Admiral Eberle, Chief of Naval Operations, today in Washington authorized Admiral R. H. Jackson, in charge of the search for the missing aviators, to use their own judgment as to how long the search should be continued.

From the local naval communications office came word that charts were being scrutinized closely. If a likely unexplored area is discovered, the Navy may alter its order to terminate the search tomorrow night.

SEARCH FUTILE. Meanwhile, destroyers and Naval planes searched the seas near the great circle shipping lane about 2,000 miles west of San Francisco for some trace of a wrecked plane or life rafts containing the crews of the missing racers Golden Eagle and Miss Doran, or of the volunteer rescue plane Dallas Spirit, which hopped off from Oakland, Calif., last Friday with Capt. William Erwin piloting and A. H. Eichwald in the navigator's cabin.

No word had been received late today in Honolulu from the Army planes sent out to investigate reports that a green flare was seen Sunday night 8,000 feet up on the side of Mauna Kea, the 13,000 foot mountain on the Island of Hawaii. SLIGHT HOPE.

Several persons reported seeing the flare and it was hoped that some of the missing fliers might have lost their way and been forced to land on the rocky slopes of the peak.

The plane Miss Doran, carrying Miss Mildred Doran, the "Flying School Teacher," of Flint, Mich.; John Auggy Pedlar and Lieut. Vil. as R. Knope, and the monoplane Golden Eagle, piloted by Jack Frost and navigated by Gordon Scott, carried green and red flares as a part of their emergency equipment.

EXTENSION COURSES AGAIN AVAILABLE The University Extension Department conducted a number of extension classes here last year, and stands ready again to offer similar courses.

Courses that will be available the first of September include History 1 and 2, Modern European History; English 4, a continuation of English 3, which Dr. Lane gave last spring; English 31, Shakespeare's comedies; Education 51, "Principles of Secondary Education"; and Education 64, "Mental Measurements."

Those who are interested in any of these courses for degree or state certificate credit may write the Extension Department, or Mrs. A. R. Wilson, 107 Carr, Chapel Hill, stating day and course desired.

CLAYTON PEOPLE VISIT COUNTY HOME Tuesday afternoon, Dr. Ira E. D. Andrews, pastor of the Baptist church of Clayton, and about twenty ladies visited the county home. Services were conducted by Dr. Andrews. Magazines, fruits, and flowers were distributed to the inmates. Good singing was thoroughly enjoyed. The visitors were quite a surprise, but chairs were soon arranged in the living room, and all inmates who were able to leave their rooms were soon ready for the service. After the service, those who were unable to leave their rooms were visited by the Clayton people. We hope to have these good folk with us again.

Pepper Proves A Good Money Crop

J. N. Cobb and T. G. Strickland Are Pleased Over Experiment With Two Acres of Bell and Hot Pepper

Boll weevil is working such ravages in Johnston county cotton fields this year that success with other money crops demonstrates anew the common sense of not depending entirely upon cotton as a source of ready cash. Johnston county soil is adapted to almost any kind of crop, and trucking is proving profitable to some of our farmers. Raising vegetables for foreign markets has not been done to any great extent, but, while the vegetables are not quite so early as farther east and south, this phase of farming is worth while.

This fact has been proved by J. N. Cobb and T. G. Strickland who on a farm about four and a half miles west of town are putting pepper into pepper farming. In the spring, after sprouting seed in a hotbed, they planted one acre each in bell and hot pepper, and the yield is already proving as profitable as if the land had been planted in cotton. They began shipping bell pepper about the fifteenth of July, and have already sold 105 bushels and have about seventy-five bushels more to harvest.

With the exception of one lot, which was taken to Paison, the pepper has been shipped directly to Baltimore, Philadelphia and Boston. The acre has already netted over sixty dollars. The acre of hot pepper has been sold to a sausage dealer to be delivered after it has turned red, been gathered and become dry. A yield of around 600 pounds is expected, which at forty cents per pound, will net something over $200.

The pepper is planted on good cotton land, and the acreage around it will probably produce a bale of cotton to the acre this year. About the same amount of fertilizer was used on both the cotton and pepper land. The cultivation of the pepper, however, requires much less labor than cotton, and the early marketing, before either cotton or tobacco is ready to sell, is an advantage not to be overlooked. The boll weevil this year may be the means of inducing more Johnston county farmers to try out truck crops.

COULDN'T GIVE BOND, SO HE BROKE OUT OF JAIL WILLIAMSTON, Aug. 24.—The first delivery from the new Martin county jail came early Tuesday morning when Grover Pauley gained his freedom after picking two of the locks.

Officers think Pauley started planning his escape last week when he asked one of the jail helpers to allow him to see the jail keys. It is thought he secured a pattern of two of the jail keys by pressing them in a bar of soap, later making two keys from spoon handles. According to Simon Shepperd, a colored prisoner, Pauley tested his keys late Monday afternoon and found that they worked perfectly.

Pauley was evidently in no hurry, for he prepared a short note for Sheriff Roebuck as follows: "To Sheriff Roebuck: 'I will come to Washington for trial so you need not worry I am sorry to go away like this but I couldn't get bond."

"GROVER PAULEY, 'Selma, N. C. But not at home.' Strange that a man in jail would express his regrets for leaving and that a man by the name of Pauley should be the first to escape from a jail made by the Pauley Jail Works; the two must be related.

Fish Fry In Honor R. H. Alford. A delightful fish fry was enjoyed at Holt Lake Wednesday evening. It was given by Mr. E. J. Sasser in honor of Mr. R. H. Alford who leaves next week to make his home in Cleveland, Ohio. Those present on this occasion were Messrs. R. H. Alford, E. J. Sasser, W. F. Grimes, D. S. Jones, N. B. Grantham, Ramey Edgerton, Paal Eason, L. D. Debnam, C. H. H. and Dr. A. H. Rose.

Redfern Hops Off For Brazil

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Aug. 25. (AP)—Taking off from Glynn Isle Beach like a graceful bird Paul Redfern's monoplane "Port of Brunswick" went winging toward the West Indies today at 12:46 p. m. on an attempt to make a non-stop flight to Brazil.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Two thousand manifestants issuing from a protest meeting into pepper farming. In the center of the city tonight.

Mounted police charged them with drawn swords and temporarily dispersed the assemblage. Mobs, however, repeatedly gathered at various places keeping the police busy until midnight.

PARIS, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Radicals, apparently determined to keep up the Sacco-Vanzetti agitation, made an attempt to carry out another demonstration in Paris tonight. A column of three hundred collided with the police in the Boulevard Sebastopol and numerous shots were fired. The police quickly scattered the mob, however, and orders were issued for increased vigilance of the patrols.

At Nancy laborites sought to form a protest parade but were dispersed by mounted gendarmes. Store windows were broken and slight injuries were inflicted in the scuffles.

Tobacco Season On The Border Bright Ten Selling Days Show a Total of Almost 10,000,000 Pounds Sold At Average of $20.

Wilmington, Aug. 21.—With nearly 1,000,000 pounds of tobacco being sold daily on the seven border county markets prospects for a record breaking season in the Pee Dee belt are exceptionally good. Only 10 actual selling days have passed and figures show near 10,000,000 pounds sold for an average of above $20 per hundred and with at least 50 more selling days the advanced figure for the season in the belt runs to more than 50,000,000 pounds which is practically double that of last season, when 25,000,000 pounds were sold at an average of $26.11.

At the close of the second week statistics show that fully 65 per cent of the weed offered on the 20 odd warehouse floors of the belt were "primings," or first leaves with 30 per cent of the second cropping and five per cent of the third and fourth. This shows that the markets have just started on the greatest season ever experienced as usually the latter part of the second week finds a very large percentage of the primings already sold.

Whiteville, in Columbus county, is featuring this week pure gold for the golden weed, each bank in Whiteville having arranged for payment of tobacco checks to be made in gold coins. Already this market has sold more than two million pounds since the opening August 9 and like the other markets have added floor space and increased their facilities for handling the greatest tonnage in the history of the market.

Spirited rivalry exists between Whiteville, Lumberton and Fairmont, the three leading markets in sales, while Clarkton, Tabor, Fairbluff and Chadbourne are showing remarkable growth over the 1926 season.

Recorder's Court Has Full Docket

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday Devoted to the Trial of Criminal Cases

Recorder's court was in session three days here this week, Tuesday, Wednesday and part of Thursday being required to dispose of the criminal docket. The following cases were disposed of Tuesday and Wednesday.

Roland Headen was in court for assault with deadly weapon. He was found guilty and sentenced to the roads for a term of two years. He was also taxed with the cost.

Clyde McLamb was charged with cursing on the public highway. He was convicted and sentenced to the county roads for thirty days and taxed with the cost. The road sentence was suspended upon the payment of a $10 fine and cost and on condition that the defendant is of good behavior for two years.

Butler Taylor was convicted of carrying a concealed weapon. He received a sixty-day road sentence and was taxed with the cost. The road sentence was suspended upon the payment of a $50 fine and cost.

Judgment was suspended upon the payment of cost in the case against Henry Fleming, charged with vagrancy.

Felton McLamb was brought in court on a capias for violation of a suspended sentence in a case which was tried on June 14, 1927. It was found by the court that the defendant has operated a motor vehicle since June 14 in violation of the suspended sentence. It is therefore ordered that the defendant serve the term of sixty days in jail to be worked on the roads and pay the cost.

Willie Dunlap was found guilty of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated and was sentenced to the roads for sixty days. He was also taxed with the cost. The defendant is not to operate a car or motor vehicle again in three months.

R. H. Allen was convicted of removing crops without permission. Judgment was suspended upon the payment of the cost on condition that defendant pay into court for the use and benefit of Preston Woodall the sum of $21.33.

G. E. Parker received a sixty-day road sentence and was taxed with the cost for disposing of mortgaged property. Road sentence was suspended upon the payment of $100 fine and cost.

Golden Parker was found guilty of resisting officer. Judgment was suspended upon the payment of the cost.

Zeb Johnson was in court charged with false pretense and giving worthless check. He was found guilty of false pretense and given a three-months road sentence. The road sentence to be suspended upon condition that the defendant pay into court for the use and benefit of T. S. Ragsdale the sum of $338.59 and cost of the action before the first day of December, 1928, the above amount to be paid $20 per month. He was also found guilty of giving worthless check, and was sentenced to the roads for three months. He was also taxed with the cost. The road sentence is to be suspended upon condition that the defendant pay into court for the use and benefit of T. S. Ragsdale the sum of $338.59 and pay the cost of this action, this payment to be made $20 per month and all the sum of $338.59 to be paid by December 1, 1928. Road sentence in this case to begin at the expiration of the term in the case above.

Albert Strickland was charged with possession of whiskey. He was found not guilty.

C. F. Modlin, was charged with giving a worthless check. Judgment was suspended upon the payment of $10 into court for the use and benefit of E. R. Beasley.

Considering what most people are willing to do for money it's a wonder there are not more millionaires.

Early Must Go To Leprosarium

Well Known Leper Must Leave His Refuge In Mountains of Polk County

ASHEVILLE, Aug. 24.—Another chapter is about to be added to the tragic story of John Early and his 19 years of struggle against leprosy. He is going back to the United States Leprosarium at Carville, La., from his refuge in the mountains of Polk county. That much was learned on good authority tonight, although the silence that has characterized official actions in the case is still unbroken. The Federal government is determined to take John Early back to Louisiana and when the time comes he will be taken.

When his presence in Polk county at the home of his brother, Matt Early, became known there was a feeling of uneasiness among the residents of the community and this has gradually grown as the agitation for his removal became greater.

So far the government has been very lenient in its actions, but there is a possibility that sterner measures may be taken. All officials who are connected with the case in any way feel the utmost sympathy for the afflicted man and they all admit that there is not the slightest possibility that Early is not suffering from leprosy.

TWO WAREHOUSES TO OPERATE THIS SEASON Only two tobacco warehouses, the Banner and the Central, will operate here this season according to J. N. Cobb, bookkeeper and office manager of the Central who states that his warehouse has leased the Smithfield Tobacco warehouse to enable them to handle all the tobacco which is coming to them. In spite of the large amount of room in the Central warehouse, its grading room facilities have already become overtaxed, and the other warehouse was secured to give more room for taking care of their customers.

The opening sale may fill both of these houses, but after the opening sale no further congestion is anticipated.

MR. AND MRS. WILSON EXTEND THANKS Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Wilson, of Selma, wish to extend their heartfelt thanks to friends in Selma and Smithfield for their kindness and sympathy during the severe illness of their little daughter. They feel that her restoration to health is due to the prayers of friends and loved ones. While still weak the little girl has recovered her sight and hearing and a complete recovery is expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are moving to Durham about Sept. 1st. Mrs. Wilson, who for two years, has taught Expression here has accepted a position in the Durham school.

Health Speaker Fails To Appear

Kiwanians Talk Tobacco Market Instead of Listen To F. O. Sampson Scheduled For The Program

P. O. Sampson, "health speaker," who has recently appeared before several civic clubs in North Carolina, was scheduled to speak at the local Kiwanis club yesterday. He failed, however, to show up, and some Kiwanians made the remark that "Sampson was probably not so strong as he once was," referring to the fact that he has been branded by Dr. G. M. Cooper of the State Board of Health as a "fake." Local Kiwanians had decided to hear him through if he should attempt to fill his engagement here, but news articles carried by the morning papers were probably too much for the speaker who says that he represents the National Health League.

The Kiwanians were not at a loss for a program, since the approaching opening of the tobacco market here looms big in the minds of most Smithfield citizens. After enjoying the splendid repast prepared by the ladies of the Methodist-Missionary Society, some little time was devoted to a discussion of plans for boosting this market.

PAUL O. SAMPSON REPLIES TO DR. G. M. COOPER. Replying to accusations made Wednesday by Dr. G. M. Cooper, of the State Health Department, that he is not an accredited dietetic authority and that no trace can be found of "The National Health League," which he claims to represent, Paul O. Sampson, lecturer who has spoken frequently in this vicinity recently, declared that "The National Health League" is a duly incorporated institution. Mr. Sampson stated that the organization is a "laymen's" organization and that he is "layman" dietitian. Mr. Sampson's statement, issued after the publication of the accusation against him Wednesday follows in part:

"It is to be regretted that there has been a published statement from one of Raleigh's citizens to the effect that there is no such organization as the National Health League and that Paul O. Sampson is a fake food specialist.

"The National Health League has existed for more than five years, and was incorporated October, 1926, at 616 Military Park Bldg., Newark, New Jersey."—Raleigh Times.

Johnson-Barbour. A wedding which came as a complete surprise to friends in Johnston county was solemnized Tuesday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Parker of this city when their sister, Miss Lena Dare Barbour became the bride of Mr. Linnel Alton Johnson, of Raleigh.

Immediately after the ceremony the young couple left for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls.

Mrs. Johnson came to Smithfield about a year ago from Four Oaks. Since then she has held a position with the First and Citizens National Bank of this city. She is an attractive young woman and has many friends in Johnston county who will be interested in the nouncement of her marriage.

Upon their return they at home to their friends East Morgan street, Raleigh.
