SKATE, SKATE, SKATE.

(With Apologies to Tennyson)
Skate, skate, skate,
On the cold, gray, cement street
And one is only thankful
To avoid those rolling feet.

The boys and girls enjoy
What to them seems only play;
But the man or woman who walks
Must carefully keep out of the way.

And even those who ride
Must take care not to kill;
Least they sigh for the touch of
A vanished hand
And the sound of a voice that is still.

Skate, skate, skate,
On the cold, gray, cement street,
Until a skating rink is found
For all these rolling feet.

INDIGESTION GONE

Tennessean Was Worried Considerably Until, on Advice of An Acquaintance, He Began To Use Black-Draught.

Sewanee, Tenn.—"For several years," says Mr. J. L. Russell, of this place, "I suffered continuously with spells of indigestion. Everything I ate disagreed with me, and I was in a bad way.

"Nothing did me any good until I found Black-Draught. One day a man in a store where we traded told me to try Black-Draught. He said he knew of it relieving indigestion, so I decided to give it a trial.

"In my case it seemed to go right to the very root of my trouble. It straightened me out, and ever since that time, over thirty years ago, I have used Black-Draught.

"When I have a spell of indigestion coming on, I begin on Black-Draught. I take several small doses, in a regular course, and I find it will usually have me well in less than no time. Now I never suffer—I take Black-Draught.

"I also found it fine to break up a bad cold. In the winter time, I always keep a box handy, so when I sneeze, or feel chilly down my spine, I take a few doses of Black-Draught, and that wards off the cold."

Sold everywhere; 25c.

Two Honorees Birthday Party

Smithfield, Route 2, Jan. 10.—Saturday night Mrs. J. W. Barnes and Mrs. M. P. Crocker gave a surprise party in honor of their husbands' birthdays at the home of Mrs. Barnes. Mrs. Barnes' birthday was on Saturday. He was fifty-three years old. Mr. Crocker's was on Sunday, and he was twenty-one.

Mr. Barnes was sitting by the fire reading and Mr. Crocker announced his intention of going to a neighbor's house to get a hair cut, but before he could get off the guests began to arrive, and he had to hustle around and make himself presentable.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Crocker delighted those present with several selections on the violin and guitar, and Misses Lillie and Sara Crocker presided at the piano. Mr. Barnes brought in some of his home grown apples which everyone enjoyed very much. Near the close of the evening the guests were invited to the dining-room where cake and hot chocolate were served. In the center of the table was a beautiful white cake in a bed of pine with twenty-one candles forming the figures '53."

About eleven o'clock the guests began to depart, hoping Messrs Barnes and Crocker many more happy birthdays and declaring they had enjoyed the evening very much. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Crocker, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Daughtry and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Daughtry and family, Mrs. Janie Peedin, Misses Ruth Peedin, Lillie and Sara Crocker, Addie and Lois Tyner, and Joe Crocker, Herbert Hill, Edwin Creech and James Crocker.

NOW EATING APPLES FROM HIS ORCHARD

J. W. Barnes of the Sanders Chapel section was in the city on Saturday and brought the Herald folks some apples which he gathered from his orchard in the fall. He says he stored about fifteen bushels, and that if nothing happens he will have apples until March. They are the Holland variety, and he packed them in barrels, with paper and sawdust. They seem to have kept perfectly. The Herald is deeply indebted to Mr. Barnes for this treat.
