District Meeting Episcopal Ladies

Seventy-One Representatives From Wake, Johnston and Harnett Met Friday With St. Paul's Church Here -- Rev. Ellwood L. Haines Speaker

By MISS MATTIE POUL The Wake County District of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal church met for the eleventh session with St. Paul's church, Smithfield, last Friday, Nov. 9. Seventy-one representatives were present, from churches in Wake, Johnston and Harnett counties.

Holy Communion was celebrated at eleven o'clock by Rt. Reverend Joseph Blount Cheshire, Bishop of the diocese, assisted by Rev. H. G. Lane, of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Raleigh. The business session was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. S. Holmes, of Raleigh. After the opening hymn, "Lead on oh King Eternal," the address of greeting was made by Mrs. H. L. Skinner, president, of the hostess auxiliary. The formality which usually characterizes such sessions, was happily broken by Mrs. Skinner, when she said that when she was called upon several years ago to make a similar address, she had prepared an elaborate speech, but that when the crucial moment arrived, she found that stage fright had driven every word of the speech from her mind. So now she declared that she would only say that her auxiliary cordially welcomed the visiting branches, and felt highly honored by their presence. The response, in an equally happy vein, was made by Mrs. H. K. McIntyre of Raleigh.

After the reading of the minutes and roll call, four special topics were taken up. "The Educational Institute at Christ Church, Raleigh next Tuesday, November 13." "The Spirit of Missions." "The Legislative Council" and "Hodgson-Emeral Hospital at Sewanee." Mrs. Lay and Miss Margaret Lee, of Raleigh, and others discussed these subjects in an interesting manner.

Noonday prayer followed, and then the principal address of the session was made by Rev. Ellwood L. Haines, Executive Secretary of the Diocese. His subject was "The whole work of the whole church" and while his theme was all-embracing, his intimate knowledge of every phase of the work enabled him to present it in closely condensed statements, which were at the same time impressive and easily remembered. Several statements especially linger in the memory. That today, in the United States four million children have no contact with church or Sunday school. That there are now 350,000 Indians in the United States whom the church is trying to lift out of the sloth and ignorance resulting from their reservation life. That St. Augustine University, in Raleigh, maintained by the Episcopal church for young negro men and women, has more students today than both Tuskegee and Hampton institutes combined.

The portion of Mr. Haines' address which dealt with foreign missions was especially impressive because he spoke with the voice of experience, having been himself for several years at the front. He was in charge of a school for negro boys and girls in Africa.

He's Only Winning Democrat in County

WITH A tabulation of the vote completed in Johnston and Wayne counties, the election of C. C. Canaday as a member of the Senate is assured by a margin of fifteen votes. Mr. Canaday is the only Democrat on the ticket to be elected in Johnston county. His running mate, Mr. Kenneth Royall of Goldsboro, lost the election by only a few votes. In Johnston county Mr. Canaday received 6057 votes and Mr. Royall 6070. The vote of their opponents stood as follows: Mr. Marion Lee, 7300; Dr. Ivey, 7301.

Miss Estabrook In County This Week

Specialist In House Furnishing Will Meet With Various Home Demonstration Clubs Throughout Week

The home demonstration clubs of Johnston county are to have another series of demonstrations this week, this time in the realm of house furnishing. Mrs. Kate M. Partridge, of Detroit, Mich., closed a week of cooking demonstrations Saturday, and today Miss Helen N. Estabrook begins the wind-up work in the house furnishing program of 1928.

Miss Garrison, the county home agent, invites the ladies to attend the meeting most convenient. Miss Estabrook is a specialist in her line and her suggestions will be practical.

The following is the schedule: Tuesday, November 13, Four Oaks club with Mrs. E. M. Denning, 9:45 a. m.

Princeton, 2:30 p. m., with Mrs. John Woodard.

Wednesday, November 14, Pisgah club with Mrs. E. R. Jones, 9:45 a. m.

Poplar Grove club with Mrs. Mary Denning, 2:30 p. m.

Thursday, Nov. 15, Ogburn Grove club with Mrs. McDonald, 2:30 p. m.

Friday, Nov. 16, Selma club with Mrs. John Wiggs, 9:45 a. m.

Pomona-Greeth club with Mrs. Z. L. Talton, 2:30 p. m.

SANDERS THEATRE TO HAVE INTERESTING ATTRACTION

The next attraction at the Sanders Theatre one night, Wednesday, Nov. 14, will be "So This Is New York." It is the work of those two past masters of up-to-the-minute fun and revelry, Harry Gross and Lawrence Stanley. This is the original production brought intact from the Lyric Theatre of New York, and Olympic Theatre, of Chicago, after prosperous runs. A beauty chorus of twenty captivating young women, along with a roster of experienced principals have been engaged. If one is in search of real unalloyed fun, frivolity, screams, guffaws, joy, happiness, color, jingling and sparkling music, novelties, innovations and a play built on different lines and models, "So This Is New York" is bound to make local theatrical history. The usual popular prices will prevail.

Presents Herald With Bouquet. Mrs. John K. Sanders, of the Sanders Chapel section, was in the city Tuesday. She presented the Herald with a beautiful bouquet of roses and fall flowers.

HOOVER TO VISIT SOUTH AMERICAN LANDS

President-elect Hoover is planning to spend two months in South American lands prior to his inauguration on March 4. He has been asked permission to use the battleship Maryland, and his itinerary is now in the making.

The visit of a United States President-elect to foreign countries would set a precedent in American diplomacy, but in recent years, Presidents-elect of Mexico, Colombia, Haiti, Cuba, and the Dominican Republic have come to the United States prior to their inauguration.

This trip will be a good will tour entirely.

Immense Crowd In Selma Yesterday

Armistice Day Celebration Unmarred By Any Untoward Event; Next Celebration Will Be Held in Four Oaks

The Armistice Day celebration at Selma was a decided success from the standpoint of crowds, eats, behavior, and entertainment. The crowd was estimated at around eight thousand people, with an unusually large number of ex-service men present. The hospitality of Selma was all that anyone could expect and more. Everything possible seemed to have been done for the comfort and enjoyment of the men whom the occasion honored. The day was unmarred by accidents or by any disorder of any kind, and the crowd milled back and forth from one feature of entertainment to another all in a holiday spirit characteristic of the occasion.

The following program was adhered to throughout the day: 9:00 a. m. Registration of all Veterans--Headquarters on Raeford street.

10:30 a. m. Parade from school building--Halt one minute as parade reaches speaker's stand--Silence and taps--every one to residents or by any disorder of any kind.

Three Accidents Is Saturday's Record

Rain, Fog and Wet Pavement Causes Automobile Wrecks and Injuries to Five Persons

Three accidents took place here and near here Saturday afternoon about dark and several persons were painfully hurt. C. H. Rhoden, of Wake Forest, and H. L. Carter, of Raleigh, were carried to the Johnston County Hospital for treatment following a collision with a truck loaded with cotton seed at the intersection of highways 10 and 22 between here and Selma. The truck belonged to Austin and Strickland of Four Oaks. Mr. Rhoden was said to be only slightly hurt, but Mr. Carter received several lacerations about his body and chest wounds. It was thought that the accident was caused by rain and fog which obscured the vision of the drivers.

About the same time an accident occurred on the streets here when Joe Daniels, of Goldsboro, ran into James Graham, who was crossing the street. Graham was caught by the car and dragged about twelve feet before he was released. He was carried to the local hospital where it was found that he was considerably scratched and bruised but not seriously injured. Graham is a member of the street force here.

Within a few minutes after this accident Misses Carrie and Mary Jean Dorrity, of Goldsboro, were taken to the hospital for first aid treatment for injuries received after their car skidded on the wet pavement about two miles west of Smithfield on highway number ten. Both young ladies were able to return to Goldsboro Saturday night. Their car, which was badly wrecked, was brought into town by C. C. Britt, Dodge automobile dealer.

AMENDMENTS NOT YET SURE IN THE STATE

The returns as to the three amendments will not be definite, in all probability, until the State Board of Elections meets on December 4. Apparently from the reports now in, two of the amendments, the judicial proposal, and the tax proposal, are lost. The proposed amendment to increase the salary of legislators, seems to have carried.

Baptist Church. Sunday school 9:45. Worship and preaching by the pastor 11 and 7:30. In the morning the pastor will bring echoes of the State Convention in High Point. Opportunity is given to others to contribute to the Honor Day offering to the debt of the Home Mission Board. Rev. D. H. Tuttle has consented to lead the prayer meeting next Wednesday night in the Baptist church in the absence of the pastor, who is attending the Baptist State Convention in High Point.

Attends Birthday and Reunion. Selma, Nov. 12.--Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Richardson attended a family reunion at the home of Mrs. Richardson's father, Dr. E. G. Marshall near Wendell on Sunday. The event was also to celebrate the 76th birthday of Mrs. Marshall. A large number of friends and relatives were in attendance.

GIN REPORT. There were 27,401 bales of cotton ginned in Johnston county from the crop of 1928 prior to November 1, as compared with 26,659 bales ginned to November 1, 1927, states E. G. Holland, gin reporter.

DOUBLE WEDDING IN COURTHOUSE. Squire W. D. Avera performed a double wedding ceremony at the courthouse Saturday afternoon the contracting parties being Miss Catherine Woodard and Mr. Herbert Worley of Princeton and Miss Ella Frances Thorne of Selma, route 1 and Mr. Lemuel Oscar Pittman of Selma, route 2. Quite a crowd gathered in the sheriff's office to witness the interesting event.

A milling company of Jackson county has installed a power driven machine to treat seed wheat with copper carbonate dust for growers of the county. This mill will clean and treat the wheat for

Successful Meeting Baptist Association

Dr. Chas. E. Maddry Makes Outstanding Address--Officers Elected--Encouraging Reports

The Johnston Association closed a two-days session Thursday afternoon at Trinity church at Peacock's Cross Roads. It was considered a very successful session, all of the 45 churches being represented but one or two, and sending encouraging reports. The outstanding address made was that of Dr. Chas. E. Maddry, Corresponding Secretary of the Baptist State Convention, who discussed the amazing progress made in the last ten or twenty years in science and invention and in material development, urging that our churches ought to keep abreast of this development in other lines of progress. Dr. M. L. Kesler, Superintendent of the Baptist Orphanage at Thomasville, was another notable speaker. Mr. Marshall Mott of Winston-Salem, made one of the most impressive short addresses of the session. He is a lawyer, who recently left a lucrative practice to devote all his time to evangelistic work. He is this week in a revival at Wendell, from which place he will go to conduct a revival in the First Baptist church of Wilmington. Next Friday night he will address a mass meeting in the Baptist church here under the auspices of the men's Brotherhood of the church. He is said to be a speaker of great power, and the local church is looking forward with much interest to his coming.

The next session of the association will be held with Pisgah church near Smithfield, Rev. S. L. Morgan, pastor of the Smithfield church to be the preacher of the introductory sermon.

Most of the old officers of the association were re-elected, Judge P. H. Brooks being chosen as moderator, H. E. Earp, vice-president, S. L. Morgan, clerk, J. A. Smith, treasurer and N. M. Gurley, auditor.

GETS PREMIUM IN THE HERALD'S CAMPAIGN

Mrs. Ben Casey was in the city Saturday, Mrs. Casey was the first to receive a premium in the Herald subscription campaign. Quite a number of receipt books have been given out, but Mrs. Casey was the first to report for a premium. Little Miss Margaret Youngblood of Wilson's Mills was the second to claim a premium when she turned in enough subscriptions to get a big doll.

PRESBYTERIAN LADIES TO HOLD ALL DAY SERVICE

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church here will hold an all-day prayer service Wednesday. The service will open at 9:30 in the morning, and leaders have been appointed for different hours during the day. In the afternoon at three o'clock, Mr. R. H. Stone, of Jefferson, will deliver an address in the interest of Home Missions. The public is cordially invited.

Moving To Benson. Selma, Nov. 12.--Friends in Selma will regret to learn that Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Fulghum are moving to Benson where Mr. Fulghum has accepted a position.

REV. S. L. MORGAN GOES TO CONVENTION

Rev. S. L. Morgan left Monday for the State Conference of Baptist pastors in High Point in connection with the meeting of the Baptist State Convention. The Baptist church here Sunday evening chose delegates to the State Convention meeting Tuesday. Those chosen were F. H. Brooks and Lehman Johnson, with others to be named by a committee. Mrs. W. N. Holt is a delegate chosen by the Johnston Association at large. The session will close Thursday evening.

Week of Prayer Observed

Selma, Nov. 12.--Three days have been set apart for special services and prayer by the Woman's Missionary Society of the Edgerton Memorial church, beginning Monday and closing with a pageant on Wednesday evening. Rev. D. M. Sharpe will explain the meaning of the jubilee celebration. Eight young ladies will take part in the pageant. Mrs. M. R. Wall will sing a solo after which the members of the society will go to the altar with their offerings and will be presented with a lighted candle which symbolizes the motto: "To you from falling hands, we throw the torch; be it yours to hold it high."

Brings Art Class To Selma

Selma, Nov. 12.--Mrs. C. J. Wiggs brought her art class from Fayetteville Tuesday to observe Miss Margaret Etheridge at work in her studio. Miss Etheridge has recently completed a post graduate course in art in New York City and is authority on such matters.

Undergoes Operation.

Miss Elga Godwin, of Micro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Godwin, underwent an operation for appendicitis Sunday afternoon at the Johnston County Hospital. She was reported yesterday to be doing nicely.

Tobacco Sales Go Beyond 1927 Mark

Sales Reached 4,337,816 Lbs. Last Friday; Daily Sales Are Still Good

Long before the tobacco market opened for the 1928 season, Smithfield and Johnston county business men were laying plans to sell more tobacco on this market than last year. Last week this desire was accomplished, and the sales are still going well. Up to and including Friday's sales, 4,337,816 pounds had been sold at the two warehouses operating here, this amount being 148,508 more than the entire 1927 season.

Tobacco continues to come in and the prices are holding up well. Each day sees a good sale on both floors, and during the weeks to come before the market closes, the number of pounds will mount considerably above last year's sales.

Johnston county farmers have found that the home market is a good one, and they are selling more of their tobacco locally, thus keeping more dollars in circulation in Johnston county.

MISS LUMA MCLAMB

Miss Luma McLamb who was elected registrar of deeds on the Republican ticket in last Tuesday's election, is the first woman to hold office in Johnston County by popular vote.

MR. MOTT AT BAPTIST CHURCH FRIDAY NIGHT

Mr. Marshall Mott, of Winston-Salem, an evangelist of unusual ability, will preach in the Baptist church Friday night at 7:30. Mr. Mott is a lawyer who recently left a successful legal practice to devote his entire time to evangelistic work. He is already recognized as an evangelist of remarkable power, and is in great demand. He stops off for the night in Smithfield on his way to conduct a revival meeting in the Freewill Baptist church of Wilmington. He comes to Smithfield under the auspices of the Men's Brotherhood of the Baptist church here. All the men of the community are invited to hear Dr. Mott. While the meeting is specially for men, the invitation is extended to the public in general, women as well as men.

A Missionary Lecture.

Hear Pastor Crofts tell some of his thrilling experiences as a missionary in South China in his Lantern Lecture--"Held up by Chinese Bandits."

Pastor Croft will wear his Chinese robe and sing Chinese songs. He will be here Sunday night, November 18 at 7:30 o'clock at the Freewill Baptist church. The public is cordially invited to hear Pastor Crofts.

MISS COLLIER DIES AT HER HOME IN GOLDSBORO FRIDAY

GOLDSBORO, Nov. 12.--Miss Elizabeth Collier, aged 27, died at her home on James street Friday morning at 2:30 after a lingering illness of more than two years.

Miss Collier was a member of St. Stephen's Episcopal church. She belonged to a prominent Goldsboro family. She was the daughter of the late Captain J. C. Collier and Mrs. Collier. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. J. C. Collier, her aunt, Miss Susan Collier, and the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Borden Cobb, Misses Susan and Cora Fuller Collier, all of this city, George D. Collier, of St. Paul, Minn., and J. C. Collier, of Atlanta.
