MRS. HOOD HOSTESS TO CLUB.

The Friday bridge club was entertained last Friday afternoon with Mrs. H. C. Hood as hostess. The game was played at five tables, with club members and a few additional friends as guests. Handsome dahlias and roses were used in decorations and lent charm to the attractiveness of the home. Mrs. H. E. Marrow was the recipient of a high score and Mrs. Hugh Austin won second prize. A tempting salad course was later served.

VOLUNTEER CLASS MEETS.

Mrs. JIMMIE VINSON was hostess to the members of the Volunteer Wesley Class of the Methodist Sunday school Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Gaskin in Brooklyn. Mrs. D. H. Jones presided over the business session, and plans for class activities were discussed. This class clothes an orphan at the Methodist Orphanage at Raleigh and Thursday night the clothes which had been made by various members were brought together to be packed and sent to the orphanage. After the business was transacted a social hour was enjoyed during which the hostess served a delicious salad course with hot coffee.

ENTERTAINS SANS SOUCI CLUB.

Friday evening Mrs. R. C. Gillette delightfully entertained members of the Sans Souci club at her home on South Second street. Only club members were present on this occasion, and a business meeting was held before places were assigned at the rock tables. Four new members were elected to membership bringing the total to twenty-one members. The new members chosen are: Mrs. Luby E. Royall, Mrs. Thel Hooks, Mrs. Harvey Boney, and Mrs. Glenn Grier. After a number of progressions, the hostess served a dainty collation consisting of salad, sandwiches, olives and hot coffee. The home was very attractive with roses and other late fall flowers arranged in bowls and baskets. The guests were each presented with a lovely rose as favors.

BAPTIST PHILATHEAS TO MEET.

The Baptist Philathea class met with Mrs. T. C. Henry last Thursday night for the purpose of packing the box for an orphan at Thomasville orphanage. After the business, a social half hour was held. During this time the hostess served delicious refreshments. Seventeen members were present.

Anyone interested in hearing Miss Zachman will be welcome Wednesday afternoon.

Saturday evening, October 19, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Massey at their home on Church street entertained in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Bailey. Delicious refreshments were served after which Mr. and Mrs. Bailey were presented a handpainted mustard set. Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Massey, Washington, D. C., Mrs. Clara Massey of Wilson's Mills, Mrs. J. P. Ashley, Mr. and Mrs. Carl K. Parrish.

On Monday evening, October 22, Mr. and Mrs. Carl K. Parrish at their home on Church street entertained at a dinner party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Bailey. A turkey dinner consisting of four courses was served. The color scheme was pink and white. Lovely miniature brides answered for place cards. After the dinner, the guests were invited into the living room where three tables were arranged for bridge. Mrs. Bailey was presented a handsome piece of western North Carolina pottery; Mr. Bailey a box of cigars, while Mrs. J. P. Ashley was presented a bottle of Hudnut's toilet water for high score for ladies, and Mr. Roger Vivrette a leather cigarette case for high score for gentlemen. Mrs. Clara Massey, of Wilson's Mills, being a special guest also on this occasion was given two hand embroidered handkerchiefs.

"TWIN BEDS" AT SANDERS THEATRE TODAY

Jack Mulhall, popular First National star, now has a new profession. It is "show doctor," or fixer for ailing theatrical performances. Mulhall plays such a role in his newest First National-Viraphone laugh picture, "Twin Beds," which is showing at the Sanders theatre today.

Of course one of his shows takes sick on his wedding night, so he is separated from his bride just long enough to provide plenty of complications in the theatre today.

PRIZES AWARDED AT NEGRO FAIR

Prizes were awarded at the negro fair held here last week to those persons who won out in the garden contest. These prizes were given, according to the negro county farm agent, McKay McNeill, for excellence in raising vegetables. The purpose of the contest was to encourage colored people to produce more food at home.

The winners in the contest, which lasted from April 1 to August 1, were as follows: John W. Mitchiner, William Kirby, Frances McNeil, Mrs. Cattie Sanders and Mrs. Candice Sanders. These prizes were made possible by the following persons or firms: The Smithfield Herald, H. A. Edgerton of Kenly, Hudson-Beik, Smithfield, Chas. Davis and Pender's Store, Smithfield.

The peanut crop of Scotland county is reported to be unusually good with fair prices in prospect.
