Simmons Enters Senatorial Race

States That He Will Not Make Campaign But Leave Outcome in Hands of Friends

Formal announcement was made in Washington Saturday of the candidacy of F. M. Simmons to succeed himself as senator from North Carolina. In the statement made public he said that this campaign would be his last for the senate. The veteran senator stated that he would not make an active primary contest but would leave the outcome in the hands of his friends. The statement of Senator Simmons in full was as follows:

"More than a year ago I announced that I would be a candidate for re-election to the United States senate and, pursuant to that declaration, I shall, in due time, file notice of my candidacy for the democratic nomination in the primary of June 7, 1930. I am offering for renomination I feel it is due my friends and supporters to advise them of the reasons why I shall not be able personally to conduct or finance an active primary campaign.

"In the first place, the congress, which is now in session, will not finish its work until after the primary contest is over. The party and my democratic colleagues in the senate have honored me with important responsibilities, and I regard it as imperative that no personal considerations shall be allowed to interfere with the proper discharge of these official duties in the interests of my constituents, party, and country. Neither would my physical strength, which must be conserved for the effectual discharge of my duties in the senate, be sufficient to carry, at the same time, the added burden of an active campaign on my part.

"Furthermore, having spent the best years of my life in the public service, I now have no money to finance a state-wide campaign. In these circumstances and for these reasons, I am obliged, but quite content to leave my candidacy in the hands of my friends and the people of North Carolina.

"With profound gratitude to my party and to the people of my state, I enter this, my last primary contest, promising only consecrated service, guided and directed by conscientious devotion to duty earnestly indulging the hope that nothing may occur in this campaign which might create or revive division or discord in the ranks of the democratic party in North Carolina.

"I have been in active political life for the past 40 odd years. My record during those years is an open book and is known to the people of North Carolina, and I am entirely satisfied thus to leave it to them to say whether or not they wish me to remain in the senate longer than my present term."

Josiah W. Bailey of Raleigh, who announced his candidacy for the senate on January 2 made no comment upon hearing of the announcement of Senator Simmons Saturday night. He stated Saturday that within a few weeks he would appoint a manager and devote himself to canvassing the state. He has not decided whether or not he will make many speeches during the coming campaign.

MISS GRACE LEE III. WITH MENINGITIS

Miss Grace Lee, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. W. N. Lee of Falcon, was brought to the Johnston County Hospital here Sunday evening seriously ill. She has developed meningitis and is not expected to live. At her bedside are W. N. Lee, her father; Mrs. J. R. Harper, of Enfield; Mrs. R. E. Fuller, of Tarboro; Miss Florence Lee, of Fayetteville, sisters; and Mr. Frank Lee of near Four Oaks. Miss Smith Lee, a student nurse in the hospital here, nursed her sister for a few days prior to her coming to the hospital.

TO LOAD POULTRY CAR AT SELMA

SELMA, Jan. 13.—A poultry car will be loaded at Selma next Saturday, January 18, and the loading will be made at the Atlantic Coast Line freight depot. This change was made because of the conveniences in bad weather. These poultry cars were started in this county by the Selma Kiwanis club four years ago, and the tonnage has gradually increased to the point that $30,000.00 was paid out here last year for poultry. This tremendous outlay of money for one year was due to the full cooperation of the Kiwanis club and merchants of Selma with the State Division of Markets and Research and Rabinowitz, buyers of the poultry.

Cash prices which will be paid at the car door next Saturday are as follows: colored hens, 22c per pound; Leghorn hens, 19c; colored chicks, 20c; Leghorn chicks, 15c; ducks and geese, 12c; stags, 15c; roosters, 10c; turkeys (young) 25c; turkeys (old) 18c; guineas, 35 cents each.

Annual Meeting B&L Association

Report of Secretary Shows Association to Be in Excellent Shape—Choose Directors For Year

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Smithfield Building and Loan Association was held yesterday morning at ten o'clock in the commissioners room of the courthouse. William J. Welton was made temporary chairman.

The secretary, Carl F. Gordon, was called upon for a report and he told the twenty-five or more shareholders present that their association is in excellent shape. Every loan is secured by a first mortgage, worth a hundred cents on the dollar, and loans have been made after the most careful appraisal and painstaking examination of title by the association attorney, L. G. Stevens.

In view of the unusually tight times that have characterized the past year and that have caused large demands for withdrawals of money paid in, the secretary thinks the association has made a fine showing in reducing the bills payable account nearly $10,000, after having met all demands for withdrawals. It came out in the discussion which followed the report, that the directors wisely decided, after interest rates on borrowed money went up, to stop borrowing money and to close out the bills payable account. In a few months, this is expected to be entirely closed out and the association will be better prepared to advance money for building purposes this year than last.

The assets and liabilities of the association are shown as follows:

Assets.
Cash in Banks	$4,618.47
Mortgage Loans	221,747.05
Stock Loans	7,475.00
Real Estate	7,581.95
Furniture & Fixtures	401.45
Accounts Receivable	42.35
TOTAL	$241,866.32

Liabilities.
Installment Stock	131,216.21
Paid up Stock	75,400.00
Notes Payable	21,000.00
Accounts Payable	91.25
Profits	14,058.86
TOTAL	$241,866.32

A nominating committee composed of W. H. Lassiter, L. K. Jordan, G. A. Martin and Dr. W. J. B. Orr was named by the chairman and these men retired and later brought in the following names for directors: W. M. Sanders, W. B. Wellens, J. E. Gregory, W. D. Hood, H. B. Marrow, R. R. Holt, J. P. Rogers, C. F. Gordon and R. C. Gillett. The report of the nominating committee was adopted unanimously.

The directors will hold a meeting at an early date and elect the officers for the coming year.

Local Bank Adds Trust Feature

First-Citizens Bank & Trust Co. Starts New Department Jan. 1. With C. G. Dahlgren in Charge; 3 New Directors

Several outstanding features were included in the report made by R. P. Holding, vice-president of the First-Citizens Bank and Trust Company, at the annual stockholders meeting held yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, which had 2,684 shares out of a total of 4,000 represented either in person or by proxy. Mr. Holding's report showed that the bank had enjoyed one of its most successful years. On April 26, 1929 the title of the bank was changed from First-Citizens Bank and Trust Company. On May 9, the bank opened a branch in the town of Dunn, the growth and business of which has greatly exceeded the expectations. On October 14 at the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors it was decided to install a trust department, which department began functioning on January 1, 1930. C. G. Dahlgren is associated with this department. He was with a bank in Erwin for five years and spent two years with a bank in New York City. There is every reason to believe that this department will prove most helpful to the communities served by the bank and should enable the institution to make more rapid development than heretofore.

One item of interest to the stockholders was the considerable gain in the number of stockholders, the percentage gained during the past year being in excess of 22 per cent. Total checks drawn on the bank during 1929 amounted to more than $10,500,000. The capital and surplus of the bank was considerably increased during the year, the capital and surplus as of December 31, 1929 being $250,000, whereas as of December 31, 1928 was $227,500. The undivided profits account was increased from $6,414.34 to $15,722.88, and during this period the bank paid dividends totaling $13,000.

At the meeting yesterday the former board of directors which numbered twelve was increased to fifteen, the new directors being: R. R. Holt of this city; C. H. Pope and L. A. Tart of Dunn. The former directors who were re-elected are: T. K. Hood, R. P. Holding, W. M. Grantham, J. J. Broadhurst, F. H. Brooks, W. F. Grimes, C. T. Hill, Will H. Lassiter, W. M. Anders, L. D. Wharton, C. M. Wilson, W. J. B. Orr.

The following pupils had perfect attendance for the month: First Grade: Rudolph Bailey, Dennis Creech, Adell Stallings. Second Grade: Keith Bailey, Buxton Brown, Willard Corbett, Clifton Creech, Thebert Creech, Sam Parrish, Sarah Lee Creech, Elizabeth Eason, Mavis Hicks, Hazel Phillips. Third Grade: Roland Bailey, Willard Johnson, David Lamm, Wilbert Phillips, Kermit Stallings. Fourth Grade: Mary Grant Bailey, Dorothy Creech, Rena Creech, Ethel Stallings, Lester Hicks, Junior Phillips. Fifth Grade: Leone Johnson, Essie Mae Sullivan, Thomas Creech. Sixth Grade: Leamon Brown, Paul Garner, George Parrish, Eddie Bailey. Seventh Grade: Robert Bailey, Nemia Creech, Thonie Stallings.

In the fifth, sixth and seventh grades the average attendance was the same as the enrollment, and in the first, second, third and fifth it varies only one point. Our school deeply mourns the death of Miss Julia Garner on December 26. She helped the regular janitor in his work. She was a conscientious worker who took a personal interest in the care of the building.

The business side of farming under North Carolina conditions will be discussed over Station WPTF at Raleigh each Friday afternoon at two o'clock during January and February by experts of the department of farm economics at State College. Fruit from a four acre orchard sold at a roadside stand by Jim White of Caswell county netted more cash than the same land planted to tobacco this past season.

Dr. Atkinson Sends Gift From Abroad

Has Made In Italy Book in Which to Keep Record of Winners in Speaking Contests at Corbett-Hatcher

The boys and girls of our school were recently very much pleased upon receiving a gift from Dr. Wede H. Atkinson. For several years he has given medals at the close of school for the best recitation and declamation. While traveling in Europe, he had made in Florence, Italy especially for our school, a beautiful book in which a permanent record is to be kept of each pupil who has won or will win a medal in the contest. One unique feature of the book is that it is provided with a lock and key. This gift has caused an unusual interest in the annual spring contest. In order to give the boys and girls additional practice in public speaking, a contest is also being planned for Friday evening, February 7.

When the pupils were weighed at the end of last month, a considerable gain in weight was noticed. The following pupils were normal in weight: Person Jones, Rufus Johnson, and Robert Hatcher Jr., from the first grade; Jas. Johnson, George W. Capps, Sara Parrish, Junior Stallings and Fletcher Lamm, from the second; Verma Stallings, in the sixth, and Lennie Stallings and Lola Mae Johnson from the seventh grade.

Those gaining as much as three pounds when underweight, or losing three when overweight, were: W. H. Johnson, Earl Stanch, Nava Bailey, Vernon Stanch, Viola Parrish, Turner Stallings and Lola Mae Johnson. The record of Lola Mae Johnson was an unusual good one. The month prior to this she was nine pounds underweight and now she is normal.

The pupils of the upper grades being to the modern health course. Those who had a perfect record for the ten daily health chores for the month were: Hughes Lamm from the sixth grade, and Thonie Stallings from the seventh.

SWEETS NOT EATEN, MONEY TO CHARITY.

KINSTON, Jan. 8.—More than 20 women's social organizations here are foregoing refreshments at their meetings, diverting the money that might be spent on salads and sweets to charity. The funds are being dispensed by a charity league comprised by representatives of the clubs and societies.

Legion Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the American Legion Post No. 132 in the town of Selma on Friday night, January 17 at 7:30 o'clock. All ex-service men are asked to be present.

Farmers Bank Has Good Year In 1929

Add New Director, D. W. Parker, at Stockholders Meeting Held Yesterday

The annual stockholders meeting of the Farmers Bank and Trust Company was held yesterday afternoon at three o'clock with 303 shares out of a total of 412 represented in person or by proxy. The bank has shown growth during the past year. On December 31, 1929 the resources were shown to be $368,037.71 as compared with $215,231.67 on December 31, 1928. The capital stock and surplus total $22,600. The bank showed earnings during the year of 28 per cent on its capital stock. Two semi-annual dividends of four per cent each were paid stockholders during the year.

At the meeting yesterday afternoon the number of directors was increased from ten to eleven. D. W. Parker having been added to the list of those who served last year. The other directors are as follows: R. C. Gillett, W. T. Holland, J. E. Woodall, J. H. Gregory, W. J. Hamley, W. H. Flowers, C. M. Johnson, D. W. Peterson, George F. Scott and Dr. J. H. Fitzgerald.

LITERARY WORK MRS. HEDDEN IN 1930 VOLUME

Mrs. Walter P. Hedden of New York, daughter of Rev. D. H. Tuttle of this city, has received a distinct honor in having been asked to allow her story, "The Nature Bore," to be published in the 1930 volume of outstanding literary productions, compiled by the Writers Club of Columbia University. "The Nature Bore" was published in "Harper's Monthly Magazine." A sketch of the life of each contributor will be in "Who's Who" of the appendix.

Missionary Society Meeting.

Selma, Jan. 9.—The first missionary meeting of the new year was held with Mrs. D. M. Sharpe at the parsonage on last Monday afternoon. Mrs. G. F. Brietz, the president, conducted the devotional after which the roll was called and dues amounting to $7.75 were collected, $2.75 of that amount being last year's dues. It was decided to devote a portion of time at each monthly missionary meeting to the study of "Roads to the City of God" by Basil Matthews. This will take the place of the regular mission study class. Mrs. W. H. Call gave a very interesting synopsis of the first two chapters.

Plans were made for a social meeting of all the circles of the missionary society at an early date. All the ladies of the church will be invited.

Fiddlers' Convention.

A fiddlers' convention will be held at Sandy Ridge school on Thursday night, January 16, at seven o'clock. Attractive prizes will be given and all musicians are invited to attend and take part in the program. The proceeds from the entertainment will be used for the benefit of the school.

Picnic at County Home.

We are requested to announce that the people of St. Mary's Grove will give the inmates at the county home a picnic dinner next Sunday at one o'clock. A 2 p. m. C. H. Coats will preach and there will also be a song service.

State And Nation News Paragraphs

Edward Bok Dies at His Florida Home; Wake County To Vote on Eight Months County Wide Term

Edward Bok, for years editor of the Ladies Home Journal, died at his Mountain Lake home in Florida Thursday following only four days' illness with a heart attack. Bok, a poor Dutch immigrant boy, came to this country at the age of 13. He became a successful journalist, working his way to the top. He retired two years ago as editor of the Ladies Home Journal. He is well known for his philanthropy particularly in Philadelphia where he spent most of his life. He set up a $10,000 annual award for the man or woman who performed the best act for the city. He became widely known for his donation of a $100,000 fund for a plan by which the United States might cooperate with other nations for the attainment and preservation of peace. He is also well known for his autobiography, "The Americanization of Edward Bok." The body of the famous author, editor and philanthropist was placed in a special crypt at the base of the singing tower at Lake Wales, Florida, which tower with its carillon of 71 bells, Bok gave to America as a gift because of the success which this country brought to him.

The voters of Wake county outside of Raleigh and Wake Forest will on February 13 vote on the question of a special tax not to exceed 45 cents on the hundred dollars worth of property for the purpose of providing a county-wide eight months school. If carried, the election will mark the end of the consolidation program started five years ago by which one and two teacher schools have given place to modern buildings. According to the News and Observer, carrying the election will mean that the tax rate on more than three-fourths of the property in Wake county will be reduced five cents.

An Associated Press dispatch from China reports that half of China for days has been experiencing the severest cold in 60 years, and many have died from exposure. The greater mortality was reported in the Suiyuan district of northern Chansi and Inner Mongolia, where it was estimated that 15,000 undernourished persons most of them aged and children, were dead from exposure. In the town of Fengchen, 2,500 were frozen to death.

Capture Still in Wilders.

County officers made a raid on a whiskey still in Wilders township Thursday afternoon, capturing the 35-gallon capacity copper outfit and pouring out about a hundred gallons of beer. The still was running at full blast, but when the officers made their appearance, no one was at the still. Those making the raid were Deputies E. A. Johnson, C. E. Sanders, W. E. King, Chief L. A. Polard of Clayton, and Sam Elliot and O. V. Garris of Clayton.

ARMORY IS OFFERED AS A SKATING RINK

Yesterday, Captain Horace L. Johnson came into our office and gave us an announcement that is sure to be hailed with delight by the children of Smithfield. He offers the armory to the boys and girls of this city on Saturdays as a skating rink. From nine in the morning until seven, at night on Saturdays they will be allowed the use of this commodious building. The floor is cemented, and Captain Johnson states that the floor space will easily accommodate a hundred couples at one time.

The town board recently passed an ordinance forbidding skating on the streets, and this offer is particularly timely.

Unique Still Is Found In Beulah

Deputy Jesse Yelverton, Single-Handed Takes Copper Outfit Equipped With Oil Burner; Brings Man to Jail

What was considered by connoisseurs as a rather perfect specimen of a modern whiskey still was brought to the courthouse here yesterday by Deputy Jesse Yelverton of Beulah township. It was brand new, had never been fired up, but ten barrels of beer were found by the officer, waiting to be distilled, and several dozen fruit jars in which to dispense the finished product. The outfit was brought in complete—an eighty gallon copper affair to be fired with an oil burner. Quite a crowd gathered around to see the officers hammer it to pieces on the courtyard square. A photograph was taken before and after destroying it.

Deputy Yelverton stated that he got the still along with Ira Johnson at whose house he found it about ten o'clock Saturday night. He left Kenly after nine o'clock bound for Johnson's place. On the way he picked up Bright Fields, a seventy-five year old man, but did not tell him where he was going. In a short time the deputy reached the house, about four and a half miles from Kenly between Kenly and Princeton. As he entered the yard he caught the odor of beer. He told Johnson whom he found in bed, what his business was. Johnson gave an answer to the effect that there was no bootlegging going on there. The officer suggested that there would, then, be no objection to search. Deputy Yelverton on his first round found nothing suspicious. Then he discovered a door into another part of the house, but the door was fastened. Johnson stated that the door was nailed up, and one could not go into that part of the house. The officer indicated that that part of the house was exactly where he meant to go.

Deputy Yelverton thought quickly. He was alone in the house with the man, his wife and a child. The old man out in his car was 75 years old. He stepped to the door and called: "You all stay out there, I can handle the situation in here by myself." And he proceeded to do it. He effected an entrance through the closed door, and found the complete outfit already described.

Johnson is said to have expressed great surprise at a distillery having been found in his house. He could not account for its being there. Deputy Yelverton finally summoned Fields from the car and managed to secure Johnson's gun. Johnson was then ordered to dress and in a short time Deputy Yelverton was on his way to his superior officer with his prisoner. Johnson is a one-handed man, his hand having been blown off by dynamite several years ago. He is said to be under a $200 bond for his appearance at court to answer charges of violating the prohibition laws. He is about 40 years of age.

South Natural Home For All Livestock

Speakers At Meeting of Southern Livestock Association at State College Plead For More Livestock

Because of its mild winter, long growing season, ease of producing forage and feed crops, and lack of need for expensive housing, North Carolina and the south is the natural home for all classes of livestock. No other section of the world can compete with the south if farmers will take the matter seriously and go into the business.

This was the tenor of all discussions at the 17th annual meeting of the Southern Livestock Association held at State College on January 7, 8 and 9. Homer Hancock, president of the association and former commissioner of Agriculture for Tennessee, delivered the keynote address. He pleaded for the production of more livestock to raise the profits from southern farms, to make the soils more fertile and to ultimately raise the standards of living in rural sections. He gave as his own experience that a livestock program had been followed for more than 20 years on the farm that he now owns and as yet no mortgage had ever been placed upon the land. Commissioner W. A. Graham and others speaking before the association pointed out that the southern farmers must continue to grow the cash crops with which they are acquainted but that also livestock is needed to furnish a market for surplus feed and to provide a better living.

Many of the lectures were technical in nature but most of them were of great interest to the average farmer. Talks by Dr. Clarence Poe, R. L. Shuford, D. F. Lybrook, H. B. Arbuckle, J. H. McClain and others were direct to the point and given from the actual experience of farmers.

The livestock meeting was attended by some 150 experts from all sections of the south. The farm agents and a number of visiting farmers swelled the attendance during the week and it was declared one of the most successful meetings in the history of the body.
