By MRS. L. R. BRANHAM

CLAYTON, Feb. 20.—Miss Elizabeth Ferrell, who is teaching at Pleasant Grove, spent the week end at her home here. Miss Lizzie Hines, of Cleveland township, visited friends here on Sunday afternoon. Miss Mary Talton, student at Meredith College, spent the past week end at her home here. Mr. Sherwood Wood, of Raleigh, was a visitor in town Sunday afternoon. Mr. Starling Johnson, of Cleveland, was in town Sunday. Miss Eloise Sparger of the local school faculty spent the past week end at her home in Mount Airy. Mr. John Dale and Mr. Norman Johnson, of Smithfield, visited friends here Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wheelers, of near Princeton, visited relatives here Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Williamson and children, of Clinton, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hamilton Sunday. Mr. Bill Riley, of Wake Forest, was in Clayton last Monday the guest of Mr. Ernest Hinton. Miss Angela Whitley, who is teaching at Glendale, spent the past week end at her home here. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Knowles and little daughter, Miriam, visited relatives near Wallace recently. Misses Irma Herring and Robbie Claude, of the school faculty, spent the past week end at Miss Herring's home in Clinton. Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Heffner, of Chapel Hill, spent several days here recently with Mrs. Heffner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Penny. Miss Gladys Baker spent the past week end at her home near Zebulon. Miss Carolyn Simmons and Margaret McNairy, of the high school faculty, spent the week end at their homes in Greensboro. Work on the new Woman's club building is moving along at a nice rate. The main part of the building formerly an addition to the city schools, was bought by the club and moved to the lot and is being remodeled to conform to the plans drawn by Mr. Douglas Ellington. With the addition of the domestic apartment at the rear and a large porch at the front, the building will be a most attractive addition to the town. Not only the club women themselves but all the people of Clayton are interested in the completion of the club house. It will be used as a community center and will fill the need so long felt here for a building of this kind. Mrs. R. W. Sanders was the hospitable hostess to the Haycock club Wednesday afternoon. During the business session a report was heard from the program committee and a number of subjects for study were presented for discussion. Another of the series of the garden program was capably handled by Mrs. H. G. Pope, leader, with Magnolia Gardens, Charlotte, S. C., as the topic for discussion. Mrs. Pope gave an interesting account of a visit to Magnolia Gardens and exhibited some beautiful views of the world-famous garden. Mrs. Hugh A. Page gave a picturesque description of "Magnolia the Magnificent," an old southern plantation located more than 240 years ago on the Ashley River and famed today as one of the three most wonderful sights in America. Mrs. W. P. Creech gave two poems by Edgar A. Guest, dealing with flowers and gardens. Preceding the literary numbers, Mrs. R. W. Sanders sang "A Cottage in God's Garden," and "It Isn't Raining Rain To Me." Concluding the program Mrs. C. H. Beddingfield played a piano selection by Rolfe, "In a Moonlight Garden." The hostess served a congealed vegetable salad, seltines, cheese straws, and coffee. Special guests of Mrs. Sanders were Mesdames C. W. Robinson, Bessie Ferguson, John I. Barnes and Norwood Barbour. The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Junior Woman's club was entertained most delightfully by the president, Miss Annie V. Ellis at her home in West Clayton Tuesday evening. Yellow jonquils were used with decorative effect in the reception hall and living room. The business session presided over by Miss Ellis was one of special interest. Detailed plans for the banquet at seven o'clock Friday evening were discussed following reports of the various committees. The club voted to expend $32.00 for the purchase of Standard Health Seals to be used in the school, a portion of this sum having been realized from the sale of Red Cross Seals for the use in carrying on the health program. Miss Sara Slaughter, chairman in charge of ticket sales for the plays given on Friday evening reported $25.00 for the Woman's club building fund and in additional, $3.00 to which $2.00 from the club treasury was added making a sum of five dollars donated to the L. E. H. Loan Fund. One new member, Mrs. Oscar Barden, formerly Miss Helen Austin, was welcomed to the club. The hostess served delicious boiled custard topped with whipped cream and white and gold layer cake with walnut cream filling.

Culbreth returned Thursday from a visit to Dillon, S. C. Mr. F. L. Crittendon, who is connected with the State Highway Commission, was called to his home in Westminster, S. C., last week on account of the serious illness of his wife who suffered a stroke of paralysis. Miss Esther Barham was the charming hostess to members of the Senior class of the Selma high school last Thursday evening at the Merchants Hotel. The evening was spent in a delightfully informal fashion, games, stunts and contests being enjoyed. Delectable refreshments were served at the close of the evening's entertainment. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hare and daughter, Miss Hazel, of Durham, spent last week end with Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Dewar. Mrs. Viola B. Ellis, of Clayton, spent Sunday with Mrs. Annie B. Barham. The Book club is indebted to Mrs. G. D. Vick for a most delightful afternoon spent with her when she was a recent hostess. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Brietz presided. The subject for the afternoon's study was "Spain." Mrs. E. V. Woodard gave a description of Spain, the Country and the Spaniard. Mrs. Call rendered several piano selections, following which the hostess invited her guests into the dining room and served a delectable Valentine luncheon. A change of lipstick now and then is relished by most men. Miss Bessie Willetts and Mr. Mason Danford, of Bolivia, and Mr. Curtis Cox, of Duke University, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. M.
