

occupied the Court in Philadelphia for several days, was decided on the 15th ult. and a verdict of $100, returned for the plaintiff.

The damages in this suit were laid at $100,000, and it is supposed that the costs will exceed forty thousand dollars.

There is a lady at Rockaway, Long-Island, who was married at the age of 15 years—she is now 37 years old, and has had 16 fine children; 14 of them are now living, and the eldest child is but 16 years and 5 days younger than its mother.—N. Y. Enquirer.

Foreign.—By an arrival in Hampton Roads, Liverpool papers to the 17th of January have been received at Norfolk. The extracts given are unimportant, excepting the death of the Duke of York, and a decline of 1-8d. per pound in the price of Cotton.

Preaching.—Elder P. W. DOWD, has appointed to preach at Marns' Chapel, on Thursday, the 19th of April next—Friday 20th, at Rocky Swamp—Saturday 21st, at Quankey Chapel—Sunday 22d, in Halifax town—Tuesday 24th, at Smith's Church—and, on Thursday night, 26th, in Tarborough.—Com.

(COMMUNICATED.)

Departed this life, in Halifax town, on Tuesday night 20th ult. after a painful illness of near five months, leaving two lovely sons, one two years, and the other only two months old, Mrs. Susan Simmons, wife of James Simmons, Esq. She possessed all the virtues that are necessary to render a husband happy, retain the affections of her relatives, and gain the esteem of her acquaintances. In the death of this woman it may be truly said, that a husband is bereft of one of the best of wives, two small children of the most affectionate mother, and servants of the kindest mistress. She was quite resigned to death, and said but a few moments before her departure, that she wished to die and go to rest.

"The voyage of life's at an end,
The mortal affliction is past;
The age that in heav'n she'll spend,
Forever and ever shall last."

"Have you felt a spouse expiring,
In your arms, before your view:
Watch'd the lovely soul retiring,
From the eyes that break on you.

Did not grief then grow romantic,
Raving on remember'd bliss;
Did you not with fervor frantic,
Kiss the lips that felt no kiss.

Horror then your heart congealing,
Chill'd you with intense despair;
Can you recollect the feeling—
No, there was no feeling there.

From that gloomy trance of sorrow,
When you woke to pangs unknown;
How unwelcome was the morrow,
For it rose on you alone.

Sunk in self consuming anguish,
Can the poor heart always ache;
No, the tortur'd nerve will languish,
Or the strings of life must break.

While the wounds of wo are healing,
While the heart is all resign'd,
'Tis the solemn feast of feeling,
'Tis the sabbath of the mind.

Pensive memory then retraces
Scenes of bliss forever fled;
Lives in former times and places,
Holds communion with the dead."

SANCHO,

Stop the Thief!

A YOUNG man by the name of GEORGE WIMBER, came to my house on Tuesday, the 30th ult. and

BORROWED MY HORSE,

To ride about one mile, and has eloped with him. Wimber is about 21 years of age, dark skin with black hair; his eye-brows extend entirely across his nose, he is parrot-ted, and will weigh about 135 pounds. The Horse is a bright sorrel, and on close examination is inclined to be a roan, about seven years old, with weak eyes and a blaze face. I will give Fifteen Dollars Reward to any person who will secure said Horse, so that I get him again, and also Fifteen Dollars for the apprehension of the thief.

DREW KING.

Tarborough, 28th Feb. 1827. 28

Notice.

ON the night of the 26th of February last, the door of my Blacksmith Shop was broke open, and a quantity of steel and iron taken out—also, the shafts of a Gig, which was left there to be repaired, were sawed nearly in two at the front bar. Any person who will give me such information as will lead to the discovery of the villain, shall be liberally rewarded.
