

Sporting Intelligence.—The Fall Races over the Belfield course, are to commence on Wednesday, the 7th November next, instead of the 14th, as heretofore published.

The races over the New Hope course, near Halifax, are to commence on Wednesday, the 14th November next.

The races over the Tree Hill course, near Richmond, commenced on Tuesday, 16th inst. A sweepstake was run for by two colts, one owned by Mr. Johnson, the other by Mr. Minge, and taken by the former at two heats. Another sweepstake of two mile heats, was afterwards run for by Messrs. Johnson's and Bott's colts—the former also beating the first and second heats.

On Wednesday, the Proprietor's purse, $300, two mile heats, was taken at two heats by Mr. Garrison's Sally Hope, beating four others. Time, first heat, 4m. 1s. second heat, 3m. 56s.

On Thursday, the Jockey Club purse, $1000, four mile heats, was taken at two heats by Mr. Johnson's Sally Walker, beating Mr. Bott's Gohannah, and Mr. Harrison's Frantic. The bets on Sally Walker were from five to ten to one. Frantic was distanced the first heat. Time, first heat, 3m. 8s. second heat, 3m. 12s.

On Friday, a purse was run for, (about $500) a single four mile heat. It was taken by Ariel, beating Trumpeter and La Fayette.

Blood Horses.—During the late races at New-York, the celebrated horse Eclipse, with his competitor Henry, were sold at public auction—the former knocked down at $3050, the latter at $4100. The race mare Ariel, daughter of Eclipse, was sold last week at Richmond, for $1600.

Petersburg, Oct. 19.—Cotton begins to come freely in—the last European accounts do not appear to justify the prices given here—(new, 10 to 11 cents—old, 3 to 10) the purchases we understand being merely to supply the first demand of our own manufacturers—our impression is, that the first prices will be the best, and we would advise our friends to bring their crops to market as early as they can make it convenient...Int.

The Season.—Extract of a letter from a planter in North-Carolina to his friend in New-York, dated Sept. 27, 1827:

"We have had altogether a very unfavorable season for Cotton. Those who planted early, say middle of April when the weather was warm, suffered by the very cold weather subsequent, which nipped the young plants and in most instances killed it. Early in May it was cold and dry, and no weather intervened between that and June that could be called favorable for planting Cotton, and in June also we had some extreme cold weather for this climate; the plant consequently came up under very unfavorable circumstances, nor did it appear to thrive at all until some rains and hot weather helped it forward in July. So bad was the prospect, and so often was it replanted, that many despairing of it, and some not able to procure more seed, ploughed it up in June and planted corn; some planted the corn among the cotton, and then the fields had as much the appearance of a corn as a cotton field. In August the hot weather and a few showers brought forward the plant rapidly, and hopes began to raise; the shoots put out and spread, and if the season should prove favorable afterwards and the frost be late, we promised ourselves a tolerable fair crop, but it was evidently a month behind in growth. The storm took place 25th August; at first view it did not appear to have injured the crop of cotton materially—many of my neighbors said not at all; I thought differently, and the event will prove I was correct. Though the wind did not prostrate the cotton as it did the corn, yet it blew off the blossoms, and the shape and forms, whipped the leaves and young plants; since the 25th August we have had only one light shower, the leaves are falling off and forms—and many of the bolls or pods, and the plant does not appear to thrive, and it is now too late in the season to hope for any improvement. I am of opinion that in this district not more than two-thirds, and might more safely say one-half, a crop will be made, and in this opinion I am confirmed by that of all my neighbors. One gentleman told me to-day that were he made 70 bales last year, he does not expect to make over 20 to 25 this."

Rats.—It appears by an advertisement in the Petersburg Intelligencer, that the Board of Directors of the Office of Discount and Deposit of the Bank of Virginia in Petersburg, have offered a reward of $500, for the apprehension of Nathaniel Snelson, Teller of that Office, who absconded early on Sunday morning, 21st inst. and stole from said Office about $40,000, chiefly in notes of $100 each, the property of the President, Directors and Company of the Bank of Virginia.

Gold Mines.—A good deal has been said in the newspapers about the Gold Mines near Greenville, S. C. the paper of that place has made a candid statement on the subject, from which it appears the workmen there average, in their diggings, about a dollars' worth of gold per day.

Tayloring Business,
AT ENFIELD.

THE Subscriber feeling himself under the nicest obligations to the citizens of Enfield and its vicinity, takes this method of returning to them his respectful thanks for their past favors, and solicits a continuance of their flattering patronage. Those who are best acquainted with his work and whom he has done the most for, can say that they believe him not inferior to any within their knowledge—and that since his commencement at the above place, he has given very general if not entire satisfaction. He therefore wishes to state, that from considerable practice and the improvement he has made on his rule for fitting, he flatters himself better prepared to meet the approbation of his friends hereafter, than he has been heretofore. His shop is in the house belonging to Governor Branch, on the south side of the road leading to Halifax,

Opposite the Store of

J. H. SIMMONS & CO.

Where he is receiving, and is ready to receive work on the lowest terms the times will admit. There will be a difference hereafter in his prices between cash and credit. He is in hopes by punctuality and a constant attention to his business, he will leave no room for murmur—the best proof the people can have of his competency, is a trial of his work—therefore, they are politely invited to call at his shop, where they will be cheerfully received with many thanks.
