Distressing Casualty.—On Tuesday afternoon last, Jacob Leib, a young man of German birth, was drowned in Neuse river. He was one of three on a sailing party, when a flaw of wind capsized the boat, which immediately sunk. Unable to swim, he soon went to the bottom. The others were rescued by a boat which immediately put off to their relief. The fate of poor Leib is much lamented by all who knew him: he was a mechanic, attached to the dredging boat building here for our Swash, and was industrious and remarkably ingenious.

Newbern Spect.

Edenton, May 22.—The United States Cutter Dallas, (late the Vigilant,) commanded by Capt. John A. Webster, arrived in this harbor on Saturday morning last from Ocracock, and sailed again on Monday for Elizabeth City. The Dallas is intended to cruise in Pamptico and Albemarle Sounds for the better protection of the revenue, and will consequently be a frequent visiter to our port. While here, she was visited by numbers of our most respectable citizens, who all bear testimony to the neatness and good order of every thing on board, and the bland and gentlemanly deportment of Capt. Webster and his officers, who spared no pains in explaining, to those not conversant with nautical affairs, the economy and discipline of an armed vessel.—Gaz.

Locusts.—The Rutherfordton Spectator says, the number of locusts that have made their appearance in that county and those adjoining it to the east and south, has never been equalled since the recollection of the oldest citizens. Every tree top, literally, has its swarm, while every sound of the woods and every tuneful melody of the forest, is hushed and drowned in the hollow, unharmonious din of these ill-boding, unwelcome visitants.

The Vine.—Dr. Herbermont, of Columbia, S. C. is engaged in the culture of the vine on a large scale. He says that the dry soil and sand hills not worth more than fifty cents an acre now, can by cultivating the grape on it, be brought to produce crops more valuable than are now got from the richest lands. He calculates that a vineyard in full bearing will produce an average of 300 gallons per acre. The wine which he now prepares sells readily at $2 per gallon when three or four months old.

Miseries of Wealth.—The Philadelphia Saturday Bulletin says: "We witnessed a strange sight on Thursday evening within a few doors of our office: A young man had drawn a large prize in one of the lotteries and had just received the proceeds, amounting to near $3000. It drove him crazy on the spot. No sooner had he received the money than his senses forsook him, and being an utter stranger in the city, he roamed through the streets like a madman, until going into a jeweller's shop near Fourth street, he purchased a dagger, for which he offered to give an hundred dollars. A crowd had followed him to the shop door, attracted by the singular spectacle; and then he came out swearing vehemently that he would kill the first man he met, a threat which his distorted senses would certainly have impelled him to execute. We left him in the charge of some humane individuals; a melancholy instance of the weakness of poor human nature."

Horrid Murder.—A young married lady, the wife of Mr. George Caldwell, who had been married only five months, was lately murdered near Nicholasville, Kentucky. She was found dead in bed, where, from the marks of violence, she had evidently been strangled by the application of a cord. A negro girl, a slave, has been arrested, and confesses her participation in the guilt, but has not disclosed the name of her accomplices. The deed was committed during the absence of the unhappy husband. N. Y. Courier.

Free Negroes, Free Cotton, &c. We learn from the last number of the Genius of Universal Emancipation, that the agent of the blacks who have lately removed from Ohio to Canada, has written, that assurance has been given to the colonists, that they shall be permitted to enjoy equal rights with British subjects. It is also stated that societies of blacks have been organized in Philadelphia, Boston and elsewhere to promote emigration.

We learn from the same source of the existence of a 'Philadelphia association for the use of free Cotton,' who have imported a quantity prepared 'solely by the hands of freemen,' which the society have put into the hands of a manufacturer; that an order for such goods has already been received here from a merchant in Indiana, and that a 'free dry goods store' has been opened in North Fifth street.

Sting of a Wasp or Bee.—The following has been asserted to be a remedy for this painful sensation. Over the spot where the sting has entered, apply the pipe of a key, press it for a minute or two, and the pain or swelling will disappear. The tincture of opium, if immediately administered, is said also to be a certain cure.
