PROPOSALS,

For publishing WEEKLY in the City of Raleigh an Agricultural Newspaper, under the name and style of the #### Farmer's and Planter's Half Sheet.

Our motto is, "Agriculture is the great art which every proprietor of land ought to practise; every statesman to patronise, and every individual of the human family to consider as the chief employment of his species."

Dr. Johnson.

THIS Agricultural paper, will be modelled after one conducted in France with eminent success, by the Count Lasteyrie, (Lafayette's son-in-law) and another in England by an association of gentlemen, styled "The Farmer's Weekly Visitor." They are both Half Sheets. The object of so curtailing the dimensions, is to prevent that ennui and fatigue, always produced by too great a bulk of intellectual matter. We will not say a word in regard to the great necessity of improving our agriculture, that is admitted; but it is of great importance, that improvements now confined to particular neighborhoods, should be more generally known, and we propose, as it were through a speaking trumpet, to proclaim them through all the land. In addition we hope to publish a paper into the columns of which, the agricultural citizen, heated and vexed in the dust and whirlwind of the great high road of "general politics," may turn as to a parterre, gay with flowers and adorned with refreshing fountains. Not one word of politics shall enter the columns of our EXCLUSIVELY AGRICULTURAL Journal.

There are a few other papers of an Agricultural type, published in the United States, but they are too local in their nature and do not sufficiently discuss those "matters and things," which appertain to our farming and planting interests. The Editor himself, has been a practical cultivator of all the staples of the South, and he has the promised co-operation of many of the most wealthy and extensive Planters and Farmers of the South. From them he will receive communications of great value, detailing the "modus operandi" of their management.

The "Half Sheet" will be issued as soon as a specified number of subscribers are obtained. Postmasters and others to whom subscription lists are, and will be sent, will be allowed the usual commissions upon collections.

The terms of the "Half Sheet" will be ONE DOLLAR ALWAYS in advance.

The Editor at present resides in an adjacent State, but will be in Raleigh about the first of January proximo. OLIVER RICHARDS.
Sept. 1832.

GASH OR COTTON.

IN order that I may pay my creditors, as well as to receive pay from my debtors, I will now give fair notice, that all persons indebted to me either by note or account, will please to make settlement by the 1st of January next. Baled or seeded Cotton will be taken in payment at the cash prices until that time, after which nothing will be received but cash, and it must come as soon as a legal process will bring it. And I hope those who will not avail themselves of this notice, will not attach any blame to me for the consequences, as a hint to the wise is enough.

N. H. ROUNTREE.

Constables Blanks for Sale,

UNCOMMON LAW CASE.

P. versus P.—The defendant war arrested in the city of New York, at the suit of the plaintiff. Both parties were British subjects, and the seduction took place in England; the defendant came to this State and continued his intercourse with the daughter of the plaintiff here. The defendant was held to bail in $50,000, and now moved to the discharge from the arrest, on the ground that the courts of this State could not take cognizance of actions for torts committed without its jurisdiction, and between aliens. The court denied the motion, without determining the principle, on the ground that the offence was continued after the defendant came within this State. They also refused to mitigate the bail, on account of the peculiar circumstances of the case. The plaintiff is an English nobleman. The defendant, his only son and heir at law, upon whom is entailed an estate of thirteen thousand pounds per annum, and the miserably deluded victim his own sister.—Albany (N. Y.) Daily Adv.

The suit above mentioned is that of Price versus Price, with which many of our citizens are already acquainted. The plaintiff is Sir Roland Price, an English baronet. There are two sides to the story, and until a full investigation shall have taken place, we feel justified in presuming that the one is as liable to be true as the other, notwithstanding this decision of the court, which, it must be remembered, has been predicated upon ex parte evidence merely. The other version of the story is, that this prosecution is a means resorted to by the plaintiff to annul the marriage of his son with a female beneath the rank of his family; and that the defendant married her under a full belief by both—a belief which still continues—that no such relationship as the one charged existed between them. What gives probability to the statement is, that in the edition of Debret's Peerage, published since the defendant's arrest, this lady is named as one of the daughters of the plaintiff, whereas, in the edition previous, her name is not included among them. A painful mystery hangs over the transaction, which the truly amiable gentleman who is the subject of the prosecution—incarcerated as he is, among strangers, and held to bail in an enormous sum at the suit of a powerful adversary—has not the means of elucidating. At all events, until the guilt of the defendant shall have been proved, we can do no less than deprecate the injurious impressions liable to be produced on the public mind by the terms in which the above report is couched.—N. Y. Cou.

Indian Treaty.—The Memphis (Tennessee) Times of the 17th ult. says:—We suppose that nothing in the range of the Times will afford more gratification to our readers, than the information that has recently reached this place from the Chickasaw nation. When our informant left, the Commissioner on the part of the United States had succeeded in adjusting all the essential heads of a Treaty with that nation; and it only waited the arrangement of a few unimportant points for its complete ratification on both sides. So far as we have heard of the details of the Treaty, they are these: The Indians are to offer all their lands for sale, to the whites, with the exception of a million and a half of acres, which they will hold possession of as a home until they make satisfactory arrangements for settling on the other side of the Mississippi. The expense of surveying and selling their lands will be incurred by themselves, while they will receive the nett proceeds of the sales. We hope that ere long we shall have the pleasing task to perform, of giving the full treaty to our reader.

Two persons have been apprehended in Philadelphia, as robbers of the Wheelink Bank, Virginia.
