"About ten years ago, while residing in New Jersey, I had a violent attack of chills and fever. The chill would come on regular ly about ten o'clock, and continues for near ly two hours, followed by a burning fever for more than five hours, which no medicine would relieve; and I became so weak that I could hardly walk across the room, and could not ascend one flight of stairs in less time than ten minutes. My life became a burden to me. I loathed every kind of food, and every kind of food, and even water tasted to me ake copperas. I could get no refreshing sleep either by night or by day; the medi-cines prescribed for me by physicians gave me no relief, and I was fast sinking into the grave. One day a lady persuaded me to pur-chase a box Beilamy's Pills. I took three at twelve o'clock noon, and three at night. After taking the two doses I felt better, and that night, for the first time in three months, slept for fully eight hours. The next morning feit much better, and took three more pills. As ten o'clock approached I prepared myself for my daily chill, but to my intense joy my unwelcome visitor did not come; and after cating a hearty dinner at one o'clock, I took three more pills, and at night three more.— The next morning, after a delightful night's rest, I arose at seven o'clock, feeling quite well; and although still very weak, yet I was able to enjoy my food, and whether eating or drinking, everything tasted sweet and pleastuse then, and I have never had another at-

tick of Chills and Fever. P. LAWRENCE, "New York Conservatory of Music, "5 East 14th Street."
