Local News. OFFICE, OVER CRAWFORD, SMITH & HARRIS. Geo. N. Harriss, Local Editor. McClammy! The Anson Institute has 73 pupils.

Wadesboro has received forty bales of new cotton during the past week. Rev. A. G. Buckner, who has been on a visit to his parents, returned last week.

Rev. F. D. Swindell will preach at the poor house on Sunday next, at 3:12 o'clock. Mr. Geo. Horton has moved his cotton press and gin to the saw mill lot, and is about ready for work.

Wadesboro boasts of an oak tree which is insured against damage by storm to the amount of $500. Misses Cora Huntley, Lila Huntley and Sallie Hedfean, left Tuesday morning for school at Greenville, S. C.

An unprecedented spell of hot weather for September, the thermometer for the first eight days shows the following: At sunrise an average of 76 degrees; 91 deg. at noon; 79 at 9 P. M. Last year, for the first eight days September, the thermometer showed the following average: 63 deg. at sunrise; 81 at noon; 71 at 9 P. M. with fine rains during the months of August and September. This year very light rains, and none since Aug. 23rd, which was very light.

One day last week Mr. Bob Winfree was run over by a wagon loaded with wood and was severely hurt. His leg and arm was supposed to be fractured but we are pleased to state that his fears were in a measure groundless and no bones were broken. The mules which he was driving ran away, throwing him from the wagon the hind wheels of which passed over him.

The residence of Mr. W. A. Webster, at Mangum, was consumed by fire last Wednesday night. Before retiring for the night, Mr. Webster looked through his kitchen to see that there was no fire in the stove, but after having been asleep for about an hour he was awakened by his wife and told to "listen to the roaring of the storm." Mr. W. soon discovered that it was the roaring of flames and not wind and hastened to extinguish the fire which was then bursting through the kitchen or stove room. His efforts were of no avail and the residence was immediately enveloped in flames. Some few of his household effects were saved but the majority was a total loss. We regret he was uninsured and that his loss amounts to about $2,000. The day before the conflagration he finished re-roofing his dwelling and kitchen. The fire was accidental and is supposed to have been caused by the ignition of some of the old stinkies which were lying near the stove.

The Farmer Orator. Maj. Chas. W. McClammy, who is to speak here on Saturday is one of the honest yeomanry of the country. By his sterling worth he has risen to prominence and has to-day let go his plow handles to do battle for the grand old party which advocates honest and economical government. He is not a professional man but has justly won and gracefully wears the sobriquet of the "Silver-Tongued Farmer Orator." Give him a warm reception ye farmers of Anson.

Infanticide. Yesterday morning a new born colored babe was discovered covered up in a trash pile on the premises of Mrs. Jane Sykes near the depot. Mrs. Sykes was attracted to the pile by the peculiar actions of her chickens and went to ascertain the cause. Taking a small stick and raking a little of the trash aside, she unearthed the dead baby. The child must have been placed in the trash by its infant mother within the past two days as the body was not disfigured and showed but little signs of decomposition. Coroner Ingram was sent for to hold an inquest and we hope the infant mother may be caught and made to suffer the full penalty of her crime.

Lileville Items. Five weeks without rain. The late corn crop will be a failure. Turnip "sallet" will be scarce next Spring. "The Sherman bug" infests gardens to such an extent as will cause the scarcity of vegetables to be felt again in a few days, as did the old blunderer, Tecumseh, the necessity of life about the close of the late war. Depot crowded with goods. Who will be able to buy them? Guano, one of the greatest curses to the farmer has again sunk our people still deeper in debt. It is gratifying to note that Mr. Daniel L. Saylor with his characteristic vim and energy is pushing the D. A. & M. Association to success. We need more such men as Mr. S. Everybody should encourage this enterprise. Negroes, encouraged by the few copper colored radicals, are beginning to hold secret political meetings under the name of benevolent Societies &c. All of which shows a determination on the part of their leaders to make a desperate struggle to carry the election in November next.

The following is a list of the jurors drawn to serve at the next term of the Superior Court which will convene Monday, October 27th: 1ST WEEK. J. P. Ratliff, T. T. Carraway, W. M. Ballard, Benj. P. W. R. Hough, C. M. Meachum, Joseph Williams, Neil McLaurin, Alfred Dawkins, P. L. Bennett, A. H. Gullledge, C. H. May, G. T. Lee, J. B. Gaudin, Walter F. Crump, Jas. A. Cauthings, Jas. D. Horne, T. J. Poplin, J. W. Adcock, Charles N. Ingram, J. T. Lowery, Jr., Wiley Little, col., B. F. Gullledge. 2ND WEEK. W. W. Taylor, D. R. Dunlap, J. R. Little, Wiley M. Harris, Jesse M. Beverly, E. R. Barrett, C. M. Burns, C. H. Jarman, J. L. Smith, H. L. Griffin, Thos. Dean, H. D. Pinkston, H. B. Braswell, Jas. E. Jones, W. D. Teal, Joe Boggan, W. F. Spencer, C. C. Bowman

The Vermont election, says the World, has a significance beyond that found in the largely decreased Republican majority in the State. The falling off might be attributed by Blaine managers to the reduced vote or to local causes which would not appear in the November election. But the character of the Republican decline indicates that it is directly attributable to the Presidential nomination, and that the revolution against a talented and improper candidate which is pending all over the United States is felt even in the most impenetrable fortress of the party.

The total vote of the State in 1880 was 63,000 in round numbers, and in 1872 was 52,000. Taking an average increase of 6,000 in each Presidential year and giving 4,000 of this to the Republicans, the majority which was, say, 26,000 in 1880 ought to have been 7,000 this year.

Where was the principal falling off? Senator Edmunds resides in Chittenden county, where he is very popular. Out of a total vote of 6,000 in the county in 1880 the Republicans had a majority of 2,000. Last Tuesday this majority was wiped out and the county elected a Democratic sheriff for the first time in over thirty years. The city of Burlington, where Senator Edmunds' home is located, elected a Democrat to the Legislature, according to the Tribune's report, "the largest Democratic majority ever cast here."

Col. George W. Hooker, the Secretary of the Blaine National Committee, resides at Brattleboro, Windham County. It is a republican stronghold, and Col. Hooker has heretofore been "boss" of its political machine. He boasts of carrying the county in his pocket. In 1880 Windham County, out of a vote of a little over 6,000, gave a Republican majority of 3,270. But there are great many Independent Republicans in the county, and last Tuesday the gallant Col. George W. Hooker, who accepted a nomination at his home for Town Representative, "just to help the party, you know," was indignantly defeated and his Democratic competitor was successful, being the first Democrat ever elected there.

Surely these results are significant of a general uprising against the tainted candidate in the ranks of his own party, and of the determination of the silent vote of the country to go change the power of the National Government. The home of Senator Edmunds rebukes the recklessness which forced Blaine on the party by the strength of Star route money and yells. The home of Secretary Blaine's National Committee puts the stamp of disapprobation on one of the principal managers of the Blaine campaign. Where will the next blow fall?

DUDE AND SUB-DUDE—Jinks—Why Fink, old boy, how are you? My gracious, how you have changed. Finks—"In what way?" Jinks—"You seem to have grown rather careless. You used to be quite a dude." Finks—"Oh, that's it, is it? Well, I'm married." Jinks—"Not a dude any more, then?" Finks—"No; I'm sub-dude."

Interesting to Fishermen: The celebrated "Fish" Brand Gilling thread is sold only at Jacob's. He is the Importer's Agent, Wilmington, N. C.

and Tennessee and Georgia. There is universal feeling of satisfaction in this State over the results of the sale of the railroad, its completion insuring the development of the extreme western counties of the State.
