WHO BIDES HIS TIME

Who bides his time, and day by day Faces defeat full patiently. And lifts a mirthful roundelay. However poor his fortunes be He will not fail in any qualm Of poverty-the paultry dime It will grow golden in his palm. Who bides his time

Who bids his time he tastes the sweet Of boney in the saltest tear, And though he fears with slowest feet. Joy runs to meet him, drawing near; The birds and heralds of his cause; And like a never ending rhyme.

Who bides his time. Who bides his time, and fevers not In the hot race that none achieves,

Shall wear cool-wreathed laurels, wrought. With crimson berries in the leaves And he shall reign a goodly king. And sway his hand o'er every clime. With peace writ on his signet ring. Who lids his time.
