MAN'S MINIATURE FAILINGS. - Let Bill Smoke Around the House if It Keeps Him at Home Don't Expect a Mere Male Biped to Be a Paragon of Propriety -- His Physical Comfort.

[Copyright, 1967, by Casper S. Yust.] Y DEAR LITTLE GIRL-II takes some women longer than others to wake up to he fact that their husbands are not truly and absolutely and altogether perfect, and some are likewise slower than others in becoming reconthe commonplace. I don't elled to know what you expected of Bill, but It seems to me that I have already put It pratty plain to you that whatever it was he would fall considerably short. of the mark, being human and a man And it's a mighty good thing that he does, too, for woman's ideal man won't fit into the everyday life of this practical age. He'd he run in by the cons before he got a block away from home just on suspicion. He'd be as lone some as the little boy that got lost in the cornfleid. Did I ever tell you that I'm at home. It's a prefty good story, may that will be hard to keep within

You present a pretty big indictment against him. At any rate, I've no doubt It looks that way to you. You say that he wants to smoke at home; that he drops various and sundry things, like magazines and cuffs and stay with him; he is grumpy and irtisuch, around the house, and that some | table, ready to quarrel at the drop of times in the evening he even goes so the hat and about as entertaining as a
