POTATORS AND WEEDS. It is practicely impossible to grow a good crop of potatoes and at the same time allow a beavy growth of weeds. Last spring it became necessary to take charge of a farm adjoining our own, and where to plant potatoes was a pur-sing question, because, although the soil was rich, it was very foul, a large prowth of weeds having matured seed annually for many years. We thought it would be very difficult to keep them in check, but the soil being so well adapted to potatoes otherwise, we dedapted to potatoes otherwise, we de adapted to potatoes otherwise, we de-cided to try growing them on a certain field. The ground was plowed with a reversible plow, with a jointer, thus completely turning everything under. Then it was nicely harrowed, and the rows furrowed out three feet apart, with a horse hoe, the seed dropped 15 inches apart, and covered with th-horse hoe leaving a ridge over the horse hoe, leaving a ridge over the seed. In a few days the field was gons over, lengthwise of the rows, with a moothing harrow, thus partially leveling off the ridges and destroying many weeds that were just starting. In five or six days the operation was repeated, and in about a week thereafter, before the potatoes were all up. I went ugh with the cultivator throwing a little dirt right onto the potatoes and smothering the young weeds. This operation was repeated at int yeals of about one week, until the tops were so large that the horse could not go through without treading them down. tices say: At digging time I do not think a bushel basket full of weeds could have been gathered on the whole acre and a quarter, and the yield was very satis-factory for the year, being 165 bushels

The French act is even more stringent. It provides one seat for each clerk (or "assistant," as they call them over there), in all places where goods are sold or manufactured, and penal-

Answer Filed to the Impecchmen

Charges of the House. The answer of Justices Furches and Douglass of the North Carolina Su-prome Court to the charges filed against them by the Honse of Representatives in the impeachment propresented Wednesday. The answer is very long and covers the charges and tion by section. The accused judges disclaim all intention of reflecting upon the legislature and deny all partisan bias in the decisions rendered. and also claim the constitut'onal right to issue the mandamus in question, claiming that the sold mandamut wa issued against an appropriation mude in the act creating the office of shallfish commissioner; that this act was pescod by a former legislature, and the money to carry out its provisions was appropriated, and that no law abolishing the office could effect the office or concel the appropriation during the term for which said shell-fish co sioner was elected. These respondents again solemnly declars they while they have decided political convictions which they have consistently followed in private life, they have never permitted persidal or political reasons to interfore 'in the alightest degree with their judicial opinions. They have at all times cheerfully accorded to the Legislature the respect and consideration due to it as the law-making department of the State, and have always upheld its acts when they could do so by any reason-able construction; but whenever those acts clearly appeared to be in violation of the constitution which it is their first and highest duty to preserve inviolate, they have asid so in plain and firm but respectful words. In they have never permitted personal or and firm but respectful words. In concluding their answer to this article these respondents clopt the language of Chief Justice Taylor, the first presiding officer of this court, who, in declaring an act of the legislature unconstitutional in Jones vs. Critten-den, 4 N. C., 55, deckled in 1814, closed. unconstitutional in Jones vs. Critten-den, 4 N. We have discharged what we believe to be an imperious duty to our country, and the meus conscia recti forms our consolation and support." And the respondent, David M. Fur-ches, further answering the suid fifth article for himself, says that as herein before stated, he qualified as associate justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina on the 1st day of January,

Carolina on the 1st day of January, 1895. The said court was then com-posed of Chief Justice Faircloth and Associate Justices Avery, Clark, Fur-ches and Montgomery, Jour of whom had been elected in 1894 by the same post the controller the Fordistrys of Mrs.Pinkham Saved me party that controlled the Legislature of 1895. As associate justice of sair court, 1895. As associate justice of silr court, this respondent delivered the opinion of a unanimous court in the cases of Cook vs. Mearce, 116 N. C. 582, and of Stan-ford vs. Ellington, 117. N. C., 158, The ford vs. Enlington, 117, N. C., 185. The effect of these decisions was to invail-date an election by the Legislature in 1895, and to retain in office a judge and. And further answering all and 'sin-gular the said articles of invescement exhibited against them by 'the House of Descement lues of North Carolian exhibited against them by the House of Representatives of North Carolina, these respondents declare that in all the matters and things therein charged and alleged against them they acted in their judicial capacity and judiced against the Supreme Court of North Carolifu, and not otherwise, seeking honesly and faithfully to direhere their offi-cial duties to the best of their knowl-edge and ability. They conscientious-iy believed it to be their so'emm and immericus duty to affirm the said cial dities to the best of their knowl-edge and ability. They conscientious ly believed it to be their so'emn and imperious duty to affirm the said judgment of the Superior Court order-ing the said mandamus to be issued; and shill consider themselves, sustam-ed in their action by the highest au-thorities, including many decisions of the Supreme Court of this State. They declare that they have never violated, or intended to violate, any provision of the constitution of this State. But on the contrary, have al-ways endeavored to support, maintain and defend it. They have never violated, or intended to disregard any valid enactment of the General Assem-bly of this State; but on all occasions, have upheld and sustained them. They have never knowing'y deviated or in-tended to deviste from the orderily course and practice of the courts; on the contrary they have steadily sought to follow and conform to the establish-ed rules of procedure and fractice. They have never shown or intended to show any disrespect towards the gov-erment; but as in diffy bound, have always yielded to them the rights and powers to which they are entitled. They have never wrongfully taken or caused to be thesen, directly or indirectly, for themselves or others, a dollar from the public funds; but on the contrary for far as consistent with their official duty, they have consistently uphald the laws protecting the State Treasury. Nor have they ever in their official duty, they have consistently uphald the laws protecting the State Treasury. Nor have they ever in their duticial character intentionally mistrested the public funds; but on they are entitled. They runker declare that as justices of the Supreme Court of North Cero-ling, they were clothed with the power and charged with the duty of expound-ing and constructing the State. Hospitals in our great cities are sad places to visit. Three-fourths of the patients lying on those snow-white beds are women and girls. Why should this be the case ? Because they have neglected themselves. Every one of these patients in the hospital beds had plenty of warning in that bearing down feeling, pain at the left or right of the womb, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back. All of these things are indications of an unhealthy condition of the evaries or womb. What a terrifying thought ! these poor souls are lying there on those hospital beds awaiting a fearful operation. Do not drag along at home or in your place of employ-ment until you are obliged to go to the hospital and submit to an examination and possible operation. Build up the female system, cure the derangements which have signified them-selves by danger signals, and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved thousands of women from the hospital. Read the letter here published with the full consent of the writer, and see how she escaped the knife by a faithful reliance on Mrs. Pinkham's advice and the consistent treatment of her medicines.
