OUR TICKET

FOR CONGRESS:
John H. Small.
FOR CHIEF JUSTICE:
Walter Clark.
FOR ASSOCIATE:
Flatt D. Walker.
Henry G. Conner.
FOR SOLICITOR:
C. C. Daniels.

On last Saturday the Crown of England was placed on the head of its new King, Edward VII. The crowning was amid the greatest pomp and most brilliant pageantry the world has ever seen, and there was not a hitch of any nature to mar the great event. Edward took the oath of office in old Westminster Abbey, where an immense concourse of people were gathered.

HILL VS. CLARK.

Judge Thomas N. Hill, of Halifax, comes out in a card in which he says: "At the solicitation of many friends I hereby announce myself a Democratic candidate for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, subject to the action of any State convention composed of Democrats that may be held to nominate a candidate in opposition to Judge Clark."

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

Senator Pritchard as leader of the republicans in this State has already declared the amendment to the State constitution requiring the payment of poll tax before voting to be valid and not in violation of the constitution of the United States. The other clause, that generally known as the "grand father clause," is the one some think the republicans will attack in an attempt to have the constitutional amendment set aside by the federal courts. This clause is based on a similar one in the newly adopted constitution of the State of Louisiana. Recently a test case has been brought in that State by a negro who could neither read nor write, to have this clause passed upon by the federal court. Judge St. Paul, of the federal court in this case twice passed the clause, and in both decisions sustained its constitutionality. On the first hearing the judge refused to issue a writ commanding the registrar to register the applicant, and upon argument on the application in amended form for such writ again refused it.

This does not look as if there is any conspiracy between the federal judiciary and the republican political leaders to set aside the franchise amendments of any of the southern States in order to rush the negroes to the polls or that any one should have reason to state a belief in such conspiracy.—Gazette-Messenger.

WHAT DOES JUDGE HILL MEAN.

Judge Chas. N. Hill in his announcement of his candidacy for the office of Chief Justice of North Carolina says at the solicitation of many friends I hereby announce myself a Democratic candidate for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, subject to the action of any State Convention composed of Democrats that may be held to nominate a candidate in opposition to Judge Clark.

A Democratic candidate, subject to the action of any State Convention composed of democrats, to nominate a candidate in opposition to Judge Clark. What does Judge Hill mean? Has he forgotten that the State Democratic Convention met in Greensboro on July 16—and there nominated Judge Clark as its candidate for Chief Justice?

Has he conceived the idea that it is the policy of the Democratic party to nominate a candidate, and then call another convention to nominate a candidate to oppose the candidate already nominated, would it not be suicidal for the Democratic party to adopt such a method? Surely Chairman Simmons will not advise such a course. It is the policy of this paper to stand by the candidates of the Democratic party and it proposes to do so now, but if the party anticipates calling another convention and placing another candidate in the field which candidate this paper is to stand by is the problem. It may be that Judge Hill has been sleeping—or that he has not kept up with the political course of the State and is still laboring under the impression that the State Convention has not yet met and that the fight against the nomination of Judge Clark is still on. Wake up Judge Hill, read the papers. Keep up with the times, and you will not fall into the error that seems now to have overtaken you. The convention has been held. Judge Clark has been nominated as the candidate of the Democratic party by Democrats and will be elected by Democrats in November.

Your announcement comes too late. If you desire the honors of your party you must let the people know it before the convention, or you will lose your go. Of course Judge Hill does not mean that he will be an independent candidate, nor does he mean that he expects the endorsement of any other party. He states that he announces himself a Democratic candidate, subject to the action of a convention of Democrats, which means of course a Democratic convention, and no man doubts Judge Hill's loyalty to his party or that he will not stand by the candidates of that party until the close of the day of election. Judge Hill has lost the count of days. He'll be alright when he finds out.—Greenville Reflector.

ALL WERE SAVED.

"For years I suffered such untold misery from Bronchitis," writes J. H. Johnston, of Broughton, Ga., "that often I was unable to work. Then, when everything else failed, I was wholly cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. My wife suffered intensely from Asthma, till it cured her, and all our experience goes to show it is the best Croup medicine in the world." A trial will convince you it's unrivaled for Throat and Lung diseases. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at any drug store.

Important to Cotton Growers.

The Southeastern Cotton Buyers' Association allows only six yards of bagging and six bands to each bale of cotton. The buyers belonging to this association have agreed to put a penalty of fifty cents on each bale that has an excess of bagging and bands.—Williamston Messenger.

STATE NEWS.

Items of Interest Clipped from Our Exchanges.

The North Carolina Railroad last week paid to the State Treasury a dividend of $105,007. This is the second dividend the State has received from the railroad this year, making in all $210,014.

A director of the penitentiary says they expect it to make $30,000 above expenses this year.

On Saturday last Mr. J. Gosham was before Justice J. R. Ross charged with seduction. The court fixed the bond at $1,000 and in default of same he is in jail waiting the next term of the court.—Washington Progress.

The Governor has pardoned one of the gold brick swindlers sent to the penitentiary for seven years from Greensboro.

Wilcox Said to be Giving Way.

Condemned to die for the murder of Nellie Cropsey, at Elizabeth City, N. C., Jim Wilcox is said to be giving way under the suspense while his life is in the hands of the Supreme Court. He has heard, it is stated, that he will not be given a new trial, and that even if he should get one and be acquitted, he would be lynched, and the strain, it is alleged, has told on his mind. It is also claimed that he is feigning insanity in an effort to escape the gallows. It is stated that Wilcox, who is a cigarette fiend, has been acting strangely for some time and that recently having sent the jailer for a match, he became exasperated at the delay, and threw a knife at him, almost severing his fingers. Wilcox has many friends who believe him guiltless and who visit him frequently at the jail.

LOOK PLEASANT PLEASE.

Photographer C. C. Harlan, of Raton, O., can do so now, though for years he could not, because he suffered untold agony from the worst form of indigestion. All physicians and medicines failed to help him till he tried Elicor Bitters, which worked such wonders for him that he declares they are a godsend to sufferers from dyspepsia and stomach troubles. Unrivalled for diseases of the stomach, Liver and Kidneys, they build up and give new life to the whole system. Try them. Only 50c. Guaranteed by all druggists.

Miss Dutcher's Waterloo.

At the Omaha exposition, in the press building, there is a book in charge of Miss Dutcher, intended for the signatures exclusively of newspaper men and women. A few days ago a young man walked into the building, and, after looking around seated himself at the table before the register and reached for the pen. With newspaper instinct Miss Dutcher spotted him as not being a member of the profession, and, in order to avoid offending him, she said, before he could write:

"Please put the name of your paper after your signature."

The gentleman nodded his head in acquiescence and wrote with a flourish: "John Jones, Leader, Cleveland, Ohio."

When he arose Miss Dutcher explained by saying that she had trouble in preventing those who were not engaged in the newspaper business from signing the register.

"Huh!" ejaculated the gentleman. "I ain't a newspaper man. You said write the name of my paper and I did. I always read the Leader. I run on the Lake Shore road."—Omaha World-Herald.

Pleased With His Joke.

Indignant Householder (to the collector of gas bills)—How is it that my gas bills get higher and higher every quarter, when I am sure that we burn no more gas than we did formerly?

Collector (meekly and deprecatingly)—I am sure, sir, I do not know, unless something is the matter with the meter.

Indignant Householder (sardonically)—Something the matter with the meter, eh? Oh, yes; I suppose the meter has the gastric fever! And the old man was so pleased with his joke that he cheerfully paid the bill.—London Tit-Bits.

Misunderstood.

Borrowwell—Here's that dollar you loaned me last week.
Wigway—What's the matter? Didn't you like it?—Phil. Record.

Horrible Death of Child of Daughter of Rich Parents.

In a lonely house on Long Island near the summer house of the President of the United States there died this week a woman who formerly moved in good society in New York and Brooklyn and who at the time of her death had wealthy relatives living in these cities. This woman lived and died all alone. No one knew anything about her or who her family were. She died of starvation and the effects of excessive drinking. Her neighbors say the house rent was paid and money sent her regularly by some one in the city of New York, but by whom no one knew. Her money, though, all went for liquor. The story goes that she had become such a habitual drunkard that her family put her in this house all alone and there kept her, supplying her with money enough to complete her ruin and bring an end to her miserable life as quickly as the vicious, degrading habit could do its work.

What a blot upon the Christianity and civilization of the American people of this enlightened Twentieth century.

Neighbors seeing no sign of life about the place for several days forced an entrance in the house and a most appalling sight met their gaze. On a mattress in one corner of the room lay the woman. She was alive, but delirious from the effect of starvation and heavy drinking. In the house with her were five dogs lying, but in emaciated condition, and two that had evidently died of starvation. Two dead chickens were found near the bed on which the woman lay and several live ones in other parts of the house.—Wilmington Messenger.

My boy when four years old was taken with colic and cramps in his stomach. I sent for the doctor and he injected morphine, but the child kept getting worse. I then gave him half a teaspoonful of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and in half an hour he was sleeping and soon recovered.—F. E. Williams, Shell Lake, Wis. Mr. Williams is book-keeper for the Shell Lake Lumber Co. For sale by N. S. Peel & Co.

A monument recently erected over the grave of Nancy Hanks, the mother of Abraham Lincoln, at Lincoln, Ind., will be dedicated October 1st.

If you are suffering from Eczema, Pimples, Herpes, Ringworm, dandruff, or any blood or skin disease, Hancock's Liquid Sulphur is a sure cure. Sold by C. D. Carstarphen & Co., Anderson Hassell & Co., Keith & Godwin.

Origin of a Joke.

Dr. Flinders Petrie, the eminent archaeologist, announces that he has deciphered the cuneiform inscription on a tablet he excavated in the plains of Assyria and believes it is a copy of a prehistoric comic paper. Among other items, it contained the following merry jest, which bears a strangely familiar sound:

Now there were gathered together at the place of the telling of stories, many of them that have lived long in the land, and one of them lifted up his voice, and said: "Behold it groweth cold with much extremeness."

"Whereupon another made answer, saying:

"Verily it doth. But let us separate and get hence, for here cometh Methusalem, the aged, and if I tarry he will even tell us again of the cold spell of the year 40."

"And they got hence with much speed."—Baltimore American.

Get a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets at N. S. Peel's. They are easier to take and more pleasant in effect than pills. Their use is not followed by constipation as is often the case with pills. Regular sleep 15c per box.

Not one His Traits.

"A Darwinian, are you?" said Slopat argumentatively. "Then you don't believe we were made of duh."

"I don't believe you were," replied his tailor. "Dust settles occasionally, you know."—Philadelphia Press.

DYSENTERY CURED WITHOUT THE AID OF A DOCTOR.

"I am just up from a hard spell of the flux (dysentery) says Mr. T. A. Finner, a well-known merchant of Drummmond, Tenn. "I used one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and was cured without having a doctor. I consider it the best cholera medicine in the world." There is no need of employing a doctor when this remedy is used, for no doctor can prescribe a better medicine for bowel complaint in any form either for children or adults. It never fails and is pleasant to take. For sale by N. S. Peel & Co.

Miss Ida M. Snyder.

"If women would pay more attention to their health we would have more happy wives, mothers and daughters, and if they would observe results they would find that the doctor prescriptions do not perform the most cure they are given credit for."

"In consulting with my druggist he advised McElin's Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught, and as I took it and have every reason to thank him for a new life, opened up to me with restored health, and it only took three months to cure me."

Wine of Cardui is a regulator of the menstrual functions and is a most astonishing tonic for women. It cures scanty, suppressed, too frequent, irregular and painful menstruation, falling of the womb, whites and flooding. It is a blood-purifying and strengthening food, curing prostrations after childbirth and in change of life. It frequently brings a dear baby to homes that have been barren for years. All druggists have $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

Lynched on General Principles.

New Orleans, Aug. 12.—A negro named John McDaniel was lynched at Smithdale, Amite county, Mississippi, near the Louisiana line by a mob of unknown white men for various robberies and other crimes. The lynching occurred in a backwoods district, and there are few particulars. The coroner was notified that McDaniel's body was swinging from a tree by the roadside. The body was taken down and buried, but nothing could be learned of the lynchers.
