BRAIN-FOOD NONSENSE.

Another ridiculous food fad has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and still another for bones. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutriment is destroyed by indigestion or dyspepsia. You must prepare for their appearance or prevent their coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses aids digestion, stimulates the liver to healthy action, purifies the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. You can get this reliable remedy at—S. R. Biggs, Get Green's Special Almanac.

Prof. M. H. Holt, of Oak Ridge, spent Tuesday night in town.

When you wake up with a bad taste in your mouth, go at once to N. S. Peel's and get a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. One or two doses will make you well. They also cure biliousness, sick headache and constipation.

Ravisher of Mrs. Smith Taken Out and Shot to Death by Indignant Citizens—Rope Ceremony Omitted.

Goldsboro—Special to Morning Post, 25.—Mrs. Willie Smith, the victim of a most heinous outrage has been avenged. Tom Jones, her ravisher, has met summary punishment at the hands of neighbors and friends of the woman. The formality of hanging was dispensed with. His captors just took him out and shot him to death.

Not since Mrs. Smith was outraged by the negro Tom Jones, in Indian Springs township in this county, on Friday afternoon, have the people of that section ceased their efforts to capture the brute and bring him to justice. Both night and day have the male population of the community searched every swamp that might afford shelter. As they went from neighborhood to neighborhood people quit their work and joined in the search on Saturday and on yesterday (Sunday), which is usually observed by rest and quiet and by attendance upon divine worship, there was no cessation from the chase. As the day advanced the pursuers were awarded by a report that the negro they wanted had been seen to cross a creek in Duplin county some eight or ten miles distant. The crowd which then numbered several hundred people put out in the direction where the negro was reported to have been seen. The locality was several miles from a railroad or telegraph station and nothing further could be learned until this morning, when a telegram was received from Sheriff Scott stating that he had heard that the negro had been caught. Another message from Mt. Olive was received here stating that the negro had been caught near Branch's Store in Duplin county, and that several people from Mt. Olive had gone in that direction.

Sheriff Scott went to the scene of the crime yesterday afternoon and returned to the city last night. He heard the report here that the negro had been seen in Duplin county and this morning he left for Mr. Olive, where he heard the news which he telegraphed back here to his deputy. In the meantime the people had telegraphed to Dunn for bloodhounds which belong to the State farm. They were brought here this morning and the keeper of the dogs went down to Mt. Olive with Sheriff Scott.

During the excitement here this morning over the news of the capture of the negro a telegram was received here addressed to Sheriff Scott and signed by W. R. Simmons from Seven Springs, which adds new interest to the story. The telegram read as follows:

"Seven Springs, N. C., Aug. 25. Sheriff Scott, Goldsboro, N. C.:

"Negro found dead near Monroe Rich's house at 10 o'clock. Come at once. "W. R. SIMMONS."

Upon receiving this news the sheriff set out immediately for Seven Springs, accompanied by several citizens of Goldsboro, including The Post correspondent.

This correspondent arrived upon the scene of the lynching about 5 o'clock in the afternoon. It is a desolate spot at the terminus of a tram railway upon which is hauled juniper logs to Neuse river which is about three miles distant. On driving up near the scene where the negro was lynched a few buggies and horses tied here and there gave evidence that a number of people had gathered in the same community. The company with The Post correspondent alighted from the vehicle in an old pine field and from those already on the scene it was learned that the corpse of the dead negro was lying by the side of the tram road about 300 yards away.

The little group walked slowly until we came upon a cluster of men who were sitting on the crosses in the midst of a juniper swamp. On the left of the road near by a stump lay the lifeless body of a negro. His broken and bruised face told the story; a glance was sufficient. There the rapist lay cold in the embrace of death, while the victim of his unwholly passion lay in her humble home upon the hillside not a mile distant with her countenance mutilated and she in the state of expectant motherhood.

The coroner arrived a short while afterward and soon after four men bearing the lifeless body of the negro could be seen emerging from the woods. They bore the body on a stick under his arms, while two men upheld the legs. They brought it up to the pine thicket where the post mortem was held. Dr. Thos. Hill, the coroner summoned his jury who rendered their verdict as follows:

"We, the undersigned, empaneled as a jury to inquire the cause of the death of Tom Jones, find that he came to his death by gunshot wounds inflicted by parties unknown to the jury, obviously an outraged public acting in defense of their homes, wives, daughters and children. In view of the enormity of the crime committed by the said Tom Jones alias Frank Hill, we think they would have been recreant to their duty as good citizens had they acted otherwise. (Signed) John H. Hill, Frank K. Broadhurst, R. H. Edwards, R. L. Thompson, C. E. Stanley, J. M. Grantham.

NOT OVER-WISE.
There is an allegorical picture of a girl scared at a grass-hopper, but in the act of heedlessly treading on a snake. This is paralled by the man who spends a large sum of money building a cyclone cellar, but neglects to provide his family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, and Diarrhoea Remedy as a safeguard against bowel complaints, whose victims outnumber those of the cyclone a hundred to one. This remedy is everywhere recognized as the most prompt and reliable medicine in use for these diseases. For sale by N. S. Peel & Co.
