The resignation of Rev. Henry Wingate, Rector of the Episcopal Parish here is learned not only with sorrow by his parishioners, but by the entire town, who have learned to know and love him. His health has been failing for the past few years, and now there is no strength left to do his work. He is a scholar of rare ability, is zealous for the Church and his Master's cause—a man whose soul is perfectly attuned to that Love, the mission of which is the salvation of fallen humanity. It is hoped that his strength will return and that he will be able to take up again the labors to which he has given his life.

Mr. Coley was a single man and boarded with Mrs. Clarence Malory at Pinner's Point.

A Fine Play. The Plymouth Dramatic Troupe presented "Tony, the Convict," at the Opera House on Wednesday evening. Williamston always gives large and appreciative audiences to visitors from sister towns, and on this night the house was full.

The play is a strong one, full of exciting scenes and gives a large scope for the display of histrionic talent. The different characters were well assigned and gave evidence of careful rehearsals. Mr. Ernest Christian as "Tony," was the star actor and the favorite throughout the play. "Sally," in the person of Miss Nona Brinkley, evoked much applause and was easily the favorite among the female characters.

It was one of the best amateur performances ever given here, and Plymouth should feel proud of so creditable a troupe.

CRUSHED BETWEEN CARS. Mr. Mac Coley, of Williamston, N. C., Almost Instantly Killed.

While at work in the yards of the Atlantic Coast Line railway at Pinner's Point last night Mac Coley, a young man employed by the Coast Line road as conductor, lost his life by being caught between a switch engine and a freight car. Mr. Coley was in the act of passing between a freight car and an approaching engine when he stumbled and in attempting to save himself caught the bumper of the freight car and was crushed between the bumper and the engine. Coley immediately lost consciousness and never regained the same, expiring at 6:55, twenty-five minutes after the unfortunate accident occurred. No doctor could be secured for the injured man in time to make an effort to save his life. He was about 25 years old.

Mr. Coley is from Williamston, N. C., and has been in the employ of the Atlantic Coast Line for some months past as a sealer of cars in the Pinner's Point yard of that company. About three weeks ago he was promoted to conductor and was acting as such when the accident occurred in which he lost his life.

Mr. Coley was a single man and boarded with Mrs. Clarence Malory at Pinner's Point.

The remains were carried to Rocky Mount and interred there on Monday. The family from Williamston left via the A. C. L. to attend the burial. The sympathies of the entire community go out to the bereaved ones.

Burras—Jenkins. On Wednesday morning Nov. 12th, a pretty home wedding occurred at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Jenkins, near Hamilton, Martin county, when Miss Ora Jenkins was given in marriage to Mr. Hugh Burras, of Williamston. The decorations of chrysanthemums against a background of autumn leaves and the soft glow of lights made an ideal spot for the uniting of this popular young couple. Miss Sadie Salisbury, of Hamilton, presided at the organ and rendered Mencholson's wedding march in a most skillful manner. Little Miss Gladstone, bearing a basket of flowers in which the ring rested accompanied by Master Dawson, nephew of the bride, carrying the Ritual came in as the first note of the music fell upon the air. Then came Miss Daisy Whitley, as maid of honor, robed in a suit of castor and carrying white chrysanthemums. The groom, leaning on the arm of his best man, Mr. Kader Biggs Crawford, came next and waited beneath a floral arch from which hung a horse-shoe, presaging good luck to the wedded pair. The bride, handsomely gowned in a going-away suit of navy blue cloth, with hat to match and carrying white chrysanthemums, came in on the arm of her brother, Mr. Herbert Jenkins, of Tarboro. The impressive ritual of the Methodist Church was read by Rev. T. H. Sutton, and immediately after the bride and groom left to take the A. C. L. train at Everetts for a short trip to the North.

The bride is one of Martin county's most attractive women and will form a charming addition to the society of Williamston. The groom is prominent in business and political circles. He has been treasurer of the county for a number of years and is connected with one of the largest mercantile firms in the town.

Startling, but True. "If every one knew what a grand medicine Dr. King's New Life Pills is," writes D. H. Turner, Dempscotown, Pa., "you'd sell all you had in a day. Two week's use has made a new man of me." Infallible for constipation, stomach and liver troubles. 25 cts.

No doubt, the European Tea Party, given by the young ladies of the town, at the residence of Mr. Graham Guilford, on Friday night last was the most successful festival affair of the season. The bill of fare, written in foreign and fictitious languages, was a puzzle to the understanding and digestive organs of all present. There was a big chocolate cake for the prettiest girl present, and this was decided by the old reliable, Australian Ballot System. With this the financial features of the party closed, and affairs assumed a social nature, which were hugely enjoyed by all present—there being games and music of such variety as to appeal to the taste of everybody. The young people of the town are indebted to Mr. and Mrs. Guilford for the kindness and consideration they received, and the Robersonville High School Fund, begs to acknowledge receipt of twenty-five dollars, with thanks.
