WAREHOUSEMEN

If there is any class of tobacco men who deserve consideration more than any other, it is the warehousemen. They work harder for less money than any class of men in the business.

And then they are the hardest workers in the business. During the busy season they are at their post of duty early in the morning, all day until late at night.

The warehouseman is happy when the farmers are pleased, and correspondingly miserable when prices are low and the farmer dissatisfied.

The warehouseman deserves consideration. He is a necessary factor in the tobacco trade. We cannot be without him. And in this day of unrest, because of low prices and gloomy prospects, he should be drawn into the councils, and his advice asked.

INDEPENDENT FACTORIES

GREENVILLE, N. C., and perhaps other places in the new bright belt, are agitating the question of the establishment of independent factories for the manufacture of cigarettes and smoking tobacco. This is one way to secure competition on the markets, and competition is a mighty good thing to have in the case of an accident.

et will adopt this plan and establish an independent factory, the growers of tobacco will be protected. Then let the consumers use the goods of the independent factories and stand together for their own protection and the power of the trust to control prices will be gone.

And the Kinston Free Press says: "Within sixty days it is said that the public will be invited to smoke tobacco produced in Kinston by an independent manufacturing establishment."

"Now is the auspicious time for launching such an undertaking, and right here in the very heart of the bright tobacco belt is the best place in the world for it to succeed. Here we can secure an unlimited supply of the very best of tobacco and can change it from the warehouse floor to the manufactured product in quick time.—Ex.

Why not start an independent factory at Williamston? Conditions are just as favorable here as anywhere.

In Praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy

"Allow me to give you a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mr. John Hamlett, of Eagle Pass, Texas. "I suffered one week with bowel trouble and took all kinds of medicine without getting any relief, when my friend, Mr. C. Johnson, a merchant here, advised me to take this remedy. After taking one dose I felt greatly relieved and when I had taken the third dose was entirely cured. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for putting this great remedy in the hands of mankind. WASHINGTON LETTER.

By CHAS. A. EDWARDS. September 7th, 1903.

It will be remembered that at the beginning of the Post Office Department investigation the Postmaster General, Mr. Payne, said with a lofty air that there was "nothing in it" and dismissed all the charges of ex-Cashier Tulloch with disdain. Well, the general public now knows how much there was in it and how the deeper they dug into the muck heap the nastier it got.

EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN.

Continued from Third Page. Prof. J. D. Everett, of Bethel Graded School. At two o'clock the vast crowd present gathered at the beautiful Robersonville High School building, which reflects credit on the enterprising citizens of Robersonville, where Mr. Blount entertained the people beautifully for about two hours.

newspaper men, in the fraternity of which he is an honored member, and he has been cutting loose a lot of facts about the Indian Territory situation that has blown the cap off the crater and let daylight into some corners that some people hoped never would be uncovered.

The newspaper boys are printing what Douglas says because they know he knows what he is talking about and they also know that he will not lie. He has been interviewed not only by the local papers here, but by the correspondents of papers in St. Louis, Kansas City, and nearly all the big New York dailies.

On Saturday morning Messrs. Blount and Peel met the people at Lilley School House. Mr. Blount here spoke at 11 a. m., after which all partook of a good feast, the offering of the good citizens of that community.

Then to Jamesville at 2 p. m. where Mr. Blount very ably told the people of the great need for better education.

The people should thank Mr. Blount who has so generously come at his own expense to help us. And who without a child of his own to educate, has done so much to educate the white boys and girls of the Old North State.

Strange Way of Making a Living Adopted by Two New Yorkers. There are many peculiar occupations followed by those engaged in gaining a livelihood in and around New York.

American Nerves.

A German physician who once came to this country to practice was soon so bewildered by various nervous ailments he came in contact with that he bunched them all together, and called them American Nerves.

It is commonly said that Americans overwork their brains and bodies, but it would be truer to say they misuse their bodies. If they run to catch a train; if they start out for healthful exercise; even if they lie down to sleep, they throw so much wasteful energy into these acts that they actually impede the muscles. This is pronouncedly true of American women, and of American women of leisure, at that.

the people with a short speech.

Then all present were invited to partake of the dinner which had been spread in great abundance by the ladies present.

We always feel better when we meet with these people, who never fail to make one feel at home.

Then for the appointment at Poplar Chapel at 8 p. m., where there was assembled a large crowd in the beautiful new church. Mr. Blount again delivered a very fine address which seemed to be thoroughly enjoyed.

Prof. Peel says that he has never seen so much enthusiasm in the educational field since he has been County Superintendent, and that the people generally seem to be willing to make the proper sacrifice for better education.

Mr. Peel informs us that the attention shown the campaign by the people generally and especially by Sheriff Crawford, Judge Crawford, and H. W. Stubbs, who attended at many places, seemed to inspire and strengthen the campaign as well as himself.

LAND SALE!

By virtue of power in us vested in a certain deed executed by William Powell and Annie G. Powell, his wife, on the 11th day of July, 1902, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Martin County, Book 1 J, Page 21, to which reference is hereby made, we will sell for cash on the 21st day of September, 1903, at the Court House Door in Martin County, the following described land, to wit: That store house and lot in the town of Farnelle, and known as the Harper store. Lot beginning at corner near the store, running back forty-two feet to back corner of store, thence along the back of said store twenty-four feet to corner, thence along said store forty-two feet to right of way of the Kinston branch of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, thence twenty-four feet to the beginning being the place of business of William Powell.

This 20th day of August, 1903. 47-24. BRYAN & WHITLEY.

Breathe Pure Air.

This is the time of year when every woman should breathe in all the pure air that her system will hold. She should be careful, however, how she does it for correct breathing is the first lesson to be learned by those in search of beauty. Breathe upward and outward and take slow, deep respirations.

Keep the chest up and forward, not by muscular action, but by the breath. The mouth should be kept closed and the breath taken through the nostrils in order to be beneficial.

No More Stiff Collars.

Solid comfort will be found in the dainty summer waists, for, to be strictly in line, the Dutch round neck is the proper thing.

No more high, stiff collars; they must give way to the narrow ruffe of lace, or what is still prettier, the wide turn-over collar, which falls away from the neck in a shallow V.

These collars are particularly effective on mull, organdie and wash China silk gowns.

Roasted Vegetables.

Potatoes roasted in the pan with beef or mutton are known to be palatable, but not very many American cooks know that onions, carrots, and even cucumbers are equally as good cooked in this manner.

Medium sized cucumbers are pared and salted and roasted with veal for half an hour. Carrots and onions are especially good with mutton.

Ginger Ice.

A correspondent asks for a recipe for ginger water ice. Prepare a plain lemon ice and flavor it strongly with the syrup of preserved ginger, preferably the imported variety. When the ice is half frozen stir in chopped ginger in the desired quantity.

Cause of Corns.

A noted and very successful chiropodist says that corns on the feet are often caused by badly darned hose and in many instances by a too great neglect of the foot bath. A dreadful statement to make, but a true one, nevertheless.

There is a phrenologist up town who can tell the contents of a barrel by examining its head.

Tucks, folds and pleats are all made wider than last season's wear.
