The door to the kitchen was found in a blaze first and the wind was against the fighters, they could only work to save the dwelling. The loss will exceed over three hundred dollars. No insurance.

FROM THE CAPITOL OF OUR STATE

Paragraphs of What the Democrats and Others are Doing.

April 12, 1904. What a jealous, selfish old world this is! And how many of the jealous, selfish, vindictive, quarrelsome old cats there are in the Democratic party—some of them essaying to be "leaders" and conductors general of the party "management," but who are in reality the worst kind of stumbling blocks, scattered along the road to Success, and impeding the progress of the party at every step.

A week ago all shades of Democrats (except a few of Hearst's speel binders and an occasional Clevelandite who insist on the "old man" again) were congratulating each other that the way had opened for all to agree on "a good, clean, unobjectionable and available candidate" to quit, Judge Parker. Now some of them are rushing into print to declare that they are not so certain that he is the right man, after all. And why? Simply and solely because Mr. Cleveland has added his endorsement of Judge Parker to that of other eminent party men. On the other hand, there appear to be equally as many on whom Mr. Cleveland's approval seems to have had just the opposite effect, and accordingly many have joined the Parker forces who up to that time had hesitated to do so. Result: It not only still looks like Parker, but the prospects point even more decidedly to him than they did a week or two ago.

I want to say all the good I can about our several most excellent candidates for Governor. In this letter therefore is copied the following extract from a strong editorial in last week's Reidsville Weekly: "Major Steadman possesses elements of strength peculiarly his own. He has wisdom and conservatism born of experience. He is a man of commanding ability, of scholarly attainments, and exemplifies in his life and character the highest ideals of citizenship. He would have been nominated for governor in 1888 but for the feeling that Judge Fowle had been put off by the politicians till further delay would be a grievous injustice. He has patiently bided his time till now, when the way is open, and the rank and file feel that it is justly his turn. His candidacy will do more to unify the party than that of any other man; for he is a conservative leader, and has never been mixed up in any fractional quarrels nor made himself offensive to any class whose support the party needs. He went into the war, shirked no danger, and laid down his sword only when General Lee was surrendered. Since the war he has always been as true to North Carolina and his people as he was in the camp, on the march and in the shock of battle."

Governor Aycock's committee, recently appointed by him to investigate and make a report on the conduct and condition of the A. & N. C. Railroad and its affairs, including the Atlantic hotel at Morehead, is now at work in earnest, and the report is awaited with much interest by the public. In the mean time the Governor has nothing to say in regard to the lease of the road, and apparently will take no further action with regard to that proposition until the pending investigation has been completed.

There is a great deal of interest manifested in the future developments and final outcome of the controversy between Judge Peebles and the lawyers of the Lumberton bar who recently refused to try any cases before him. Judge Peebles is scheduled to preside at the next term of Roberson court also, which is set for May, and his friends say he cannot afford to consent to an exchange of courts with any other judge. If he does not do so, and in the mean time takes no official action concerning the recent action of the bar there, will the latter again refuse to set a calendar for the trial of cases? And if so, what will be the result?

The body of Col. W. A. Turk, passenger traffic manager of the Southern Railway, was brought to Raleigh today (Monday) for interment. He formerly resided here, and twenty three years ago was married to Miss Mary Mordecai of Raleigh. He was a native of Virginia, where he was born fifty four years ago, in Augusta county. Col. Turk died in Washington, D. C. last Saturday night, of pneumonia, after an illness of only three days.

The first clearing house association in North Carolina was organized by the bankers of Raleigh a few days ago. The second of the annual banquets given in honor of the Governor of North Carolina by the wealthy "Yankees" who spend the winter and early spring in Pinehurst, the famous Moore county resort, was held last Friday night at that place. Governor Aycock (who made such a pleasing effect upon the visitors a year ago) was present, with his staff, and the affair was a grand and most enjoyable one. The announcement two weeks ago that the friends of Senator Joseph A. Brown of Columbus present him to the convention for the nomination for Lieutenant Governor has met with a most flattering reception with the people and press of the State. There are now three candidates in the field for this honor—Senator Brown, ex-judge Francis Winston and Representative George Morton. It is understood that Judge George H. Brown will be nominated without opposition as one of the candidates for Supreme Court Justice. The other nominee will come from the west and Judge Hoke and Justice and Mr. Lochhart of Anson (and possibly others) furnish the list from which to make the selection. The retiring Justices are Judges Montgomery and Douglas—the last of the fusion Rep.—Pops. Some of the prominent visitors to Raleigh from the western part of the State say the Democratic party is not in as good condition there as it ought to be, but that the danger is probably confined to county and Senatorial and legislative nominees, and to a lesser degree in two or three Congressional districts. JOINTS PAIN YOU THIS MORNING? First sign of RHEUMATISM. Dangerous to let it run. Easy to cure now. A single bottle of Rheumacide. Will probably do the work. But some require more. RHEUMACIDE cures by getting rid of the cause, so that no trace of the disease lingers in the system. It purifies the blood, relieves the inflammation of the joints, the chronic congestion and the stiffness that follows such a condition of the system. Through Mrs. Mary E. Walters, of High Point, N. C., is 40 years old and had suffered from rheumatism for 20 years, she was completely cured by RHEUMACIDE, and declares she feels "years younger" and is anxious for "all who are suffering from any of the forms of this dread disease" to try RHEUMACIDE and be cured. REV. J. B. SWINLEY, a noted Methodist preacher, of Reidsville, N. C., writes enthusiastically of RHEUMACIDE, which cured him. He is 55 years old and has been in the ministry 30 years.
