Manning have charge of the work and it is going ahead to "our own notion."

Estelle, Sheriff Crawford's three year old little girl, was playing in the back yard last week where the washwoman was boiling a pot of soap and by some means fell over toward the pot of boiling liquid putting her hands down into it and splattering the liquid in her face. The burns were very painful but they are rapidly healing now and little Estelle is getting along very well except for a bilious attack.

Citizens Meet.

The extension of Main Street across the railroad and the fields of Mr. Wheeler Martin and Mess. Anderson Bros. has created such a feeling of joy and pride in the people of Williamston that the spirit of progress seemed to be in the very air itself. The citizens were called together in the court house Tuesday night where they held a jollification meeting to congratulate themselves on the genuine satisfaction of the clay road to Skewarkee, the extension of Main Street and put on foot other movements for extending the clay roads on the road leading to Hamilton and Jamesville. Mr. W. C. Manning was elected as manager of the present road building at the end of Main Street, Dr. Biggs as a committee of one to secure aid for improving the road toward Hamilton, Mr. N. T. Riddick on the road toward Jamesville and Mr. N. S. Peel for soliciting aid and devising means for improving Leggett's bridge and road.

The road question being fully discussed the meeting turned its attention to electric plant for lighting and an artesian well. After several speeches on these subjects the feeling of the meeting was taken and only one vote out of forty present was cast against the lights and wells and this was not really against them but did not vote in favor of them.

The meeting was organized with Mr. N. S. Peel as chairman and Mr. Burrass A. Critcher as secretary. Mr. S. J. Everett was elected to circulate a petition among the citizens of Williamston to get its sentiment as to electric lights and the artesian wells. He was also instructed to correspond with contractors for putting in electric light plant and also artesian wells.

The spirit of the meeting was road progress, we have had an experiment and it has surpassed our fondest hope, and the people demand that the work continue. There was not a discordant note or sentiment on the road subject, the sentiment of the meeting being taken at every point that every one if he had any opposition or suggestion to make he had an opportunity. Mr. Wheeler Martin the town's best friend and advocate of progress was highly elated with the sentiment of the meeting as was every other man who has the progress of the town at heart. The spirit of the town is progress and the sentiment of the whole town is in harmony with such success. It is the spirit that makes any town or community. Towns and communities are made by the people and the people are made by the spirit that animates their actions. This town with such a spirit must move forward.

The taxable property in Williamston township increased $86,000 while the increase for the whole county was only $142,000 leaving only $56,000 increase for the other nine townships, or a little over an average of $6,000 for the other nine townships, Williamston being $80,000 above the average.

Two of the largest crowds that have been in the house in some time were on last Thursday and Friday nights to witness "Sis Hopkins" Thursday night and "Cinderella" Friday night, presented by the Four Pickerts Company, and to say that the audiences were thoroughly pleased expresses it mildly. The company is composed of first-class actors and actresses, and the Four Pickerts in their specialties cannot be excelled.

Death of Mr. John W. York.

Mr. John W. York who lived about four miles from town on the Hamilton road died last Thursday week and was buried in the Baptist cemetery on Saturday Rev. Mr. Rose of the Methodist Church conducting the services. Mr. York was born December 4th 1840 and had lived six weeks longer he would have been sixty five years old. He was a fine specimen of manhood in every sense of the word, a christian character, high tone moral gentleman and a good business man whose word was his bond. He had suffered some years with an abscess formed on the walls of the stomach and had recently been operated upon in the John Hopkins Hospital Baltimore, it was thought that the wound was curing and was healing internally but owing to pain it was opened after which it grew steadily worse.

Mr. York was born in Granville County where he lived until after the Civil War. He served four years in the War as a member of the "Granville Grays" as they called themselves. He was in the hospital department and served as a clerk to the staff issuing furloughs and doing other work of this nature. After the war he moved to Durham where he lived eight years doing a tobacco and mercantile business, thence he move to Battleboro where he lived as a merchant and was mayor of the town for a number of years. Several years ago Mr. York moved to Martin County near Williamston where he was engaged in the cultivation and buying of tobacco.

Mr. York leaves two brothers, one of Granville County, and Mr. William York of our town. He married Miss Mary Bernard, of Bertie County. His wife, two sons, John W. Jr. and Hugh, now student in the Baltimore Medical College, and three daughters Misses Lizzie, Nellie and Mary survive him.

Mr. York was a consistent member of the Methodist Church who loved and obeyed the teachings of the Master.
