Monument to a Teacher.

The world is shaped more by the teacher than by any other individual outside the home. The teacher takes the plastic mind of youth and shapes it for usefulness and while each individual acknowledges his personal obligation to the teacher who stimulated his ambition and guided his steps along the difficult road to the House of Knowledge, it has been seldom that a community, a church, or a State makes lasting acknowledgement of the debt due to the successful teacher. Last year the people of Scotland County paid the first permanent tribute to a teacher in this generation by erecting a handsome monument to the late Prof. W. G. Quackenbush. As a teacher, he had won the hearts of youth; as a citizen, he had been a leader for educational and all moral progress. And so, when in the full tide of vigorous manhood, his earthly career was cut short, the whole people determined to place a memorial of his achievement as teacher and citizen upon the public square. Rev. M. L. Kesler and Governor Aycock made the speeches, and the occasion served to emphasize the newer and higher appreciation in which the teacher in North Carolina is held to day.

The handsome new brick dormitory at Trinity High School, now nearing completion, will be formally opened in a few days, and it will be named, "The Bivins Building" in memory of the late Prof. J. F. Bivins, Headmaster of Trinity High School. Prof. Bivins was in robust youth, laying broad and deep the foundations of a strong high school when he was stricken.

His death was a great loss to the profession and to the institution of which he was head. It is fitting that his name will be forever linked with the school to which he gave his best thought and labor.—Ex.

Kills Like Lightning

How Deadly Rheumatism of the Heart Comes On.

Those pains you feel when you first arise in the morning—aching pains in the joints, shooting pains in the muscle—are signs of warning. They are danger signals, evidences of a deep-seated trouble that if not removed, they may develop suddenly into the deadly Rheumatism of the Heart, which kills like lightning.

Better get rid of the cause at once. Rheumatism and its kindred diseases are caused by the accumulation of poisonous acids in the blood. Rubbing with oils or liniments will not cure it; it is an internal disease, and can be cured only by an internal remedy. There is just one complete cure—RHEUMACIDE. RHEUMACIDE neutralizes the poisonous acids, sweeps all the dangerous germs out of the blood and "makes you well all over." RHEUMACIDE CURES because it is the only remedy that "gets at the joints from the inside." Mr. W. R. Hughes, of Atkins, Va., writes:

Four bottles of RHEUMACIDE have entirely cured me of a long case of Rheumatism, and greatly improved my general health. I was a total wreck, having had rheumatism for twenty years. I spent several weeks and much money trying specialists in New York, but RHEUMACIDE is the only cure I have found. When I began to use it I weighed 140 pounds. Now I weigh 180 pounds, my normal weight."
