TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY. Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature on the box. 25c.

In last week's issue THE ENTERPRISE said the teachers of the county would meet here on the 16th. We were mistaken, it is the 20th, on Saturday of next week.

A GUARANTEED CURE FOR PILES Itching, Blind, Bleeding Piles. Druggists are authorized to refund money if FAZO OINTMENT fails to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c. 1-5-06-177

Mr. T. M. Lawrence has opened up his feed and livery stables. It is a long needed necessity and should be recognized by everyone. Read his ad in this issue.

For fine tobacco seed adapted to Eastern soils call on Tom Graham or write him at the Roanoke Warehouse, Williamston, N. C. He says tobacco is going to sell better next year. Get his seed and sell with him. However he will give the seed to any farmer that wants any, free of cost, if he never sells any tobacco with him.

Attractive as our Home

Ten Thousand Churches painted with L. & M. Paint, and are most attractive.

Liberal quantity always given free.

4 gallons L. & M. mixed with 3 gallons oil, will paint a house.

Wears and covers like gold.

Don't pay $1.50 a gallon for linseed oil, which you do in ready-for use paint.

Buy oil fresh from the barrel at 60 cents per gallon, and mix it with Longman & Martinez L. & M. Paint.

It makes paint cost about $1.20 per gallon.

DeLaney Gregory, Fort Plain, N. Y. writes: "Have sold L. & M. paint for over 25 years, and everyone is surprised to find how little is required to paint a big house. Sold by S. R. Biggs, Williamston, N. C."

Say! See Tom Graham, the man with 28 years experience in the Warehouse business and get your tobacco seed, make fine wrappers and let "Graham" sell them and get you a big price next season. Call or write and get a fine lot of seed adapted to the Eastern soils.

To The Farmers of Martin and Surrounding Counties.

I have some fine tobacco seed that is especially adapted to the soil of Eastern North Carolina and with good seasons they make a fine Bright Wrappers and fine Cutters. And let me say just here that color is what you want, the buyers come East for Brights, they send their orders East for Brights, they can get all the Heavy Red tobacco in the Piedmont section of North Carolina and Danville, Va.

I have two kinds that I will give away by YOU calling at the office of the Roanoke Warehouse, Williamston, N. C., or drop me a card stating how many acres you wish to plant and I will mail to you all you need with pleasure and free of cost. Hoping you a prosperous year and that you may raise a fine crop of tobacco and sell with me at the Roanoke Warehouse, Williamston, N. C. I expect to have by opening time plenty of good and large orders to fill and will be in better shape than ever to get every man good prices for his tobacco that will sell at the Roanoke Warehouse, Williamston, N. C.

I am, Your friend,

TOM S. GRAHAM.

MILLS-LAMB.

Wedding Yesterday at Williamston of Popular and Prominent Couple.

Williamston, N. C., Jan. 9.—Miss Eliza Williams Lamb and Dr. Charles H. C. Mills were married in the home of the bride this morning at 8:45 by the Rev. B. S. Lasater, rector of the Church of the Advent. The bride wore a going away gown of broadcloth of plum color, with hat and gloves to match and carried Parma violets. The wedding was a quiet one only the immediate members of the family being present.

Mrs. Mills is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson G. Lamb, and Dr. Mills is a prominent physician of Charlotte, North Carolina. News & Observer.

Death of Jim Ed Moore.

At 3:45 o'clock a. m. Tuesday morning our dear friend Jim Ed Moore after an illness of eight days with pneumonia, and in his twenty second year, with fervent supplications to God, passed into a purer and better life. For almost five years he had been a student of the A. & M. College, having taken Architecture his first year and, on account of weak eyes dropped that to take up civil engineering. He had lived here would have graduated this spring, after five years of enthusiastic work. No wonder in his delirium he talked about his college studies and prayed that he might live to get his diploma. But to live here was indispensable for his happiness, and "the happy home in heaven" that he so beautifully prayed for, is surely his. Jim Ed was not a brilliant student, able to master a subject at a glance, but he belonged to the School of Patience and Perseverance which conquers all things. He would surely have made his impression on the world had he lived.

In the atmosphere of industry, energy and plod his life did blossom and flourish.

He was very ambitious but he did not possess "that vaulting ambition which sought to uplift himself by crushing his fellow."

He had that sort of ambition that makes many men, the ambition that accomplishes by constant application and diligence.

In his college life he received a number of honors, but he was too modest to make them known, even to his best friends.

He was one of the editors of the "Red and White," a college magazine; lieutenant of his company; President of the Pullen Society, and he had been elected Prophet of his class for the coming commencement.

This community will miss Jim Ed profoundly. He was a boy of sterling integrity, steadfastness of purpose, geniality of manners and a self forgetful friend. The world is rendered poorer; the heavenly mansion has received a gem, an honest man. "Dying is not folding the wings, but pluming the wings for longer flight. Dying is not striking an unseen rock but a speedy entrance in an open harbor. Death is no enemy, letting the arrow fly toward one, who sits at life's banquet table. Death is a friend coming on an errand of release of Divine convoy." Thus passed a noble and beautiful life.

Dr. and Mrs. Knight Entertain.

On New Year's day Dr. and Mrs. Knight threw wide open the doors of their hospitable home to a few of their many friends and gave one of those enjoyable receptions and elegant spreads which as model host and hostess they know so well how to do.

The house was attractively decorated with palms, plants and ferns. The menu as to variety was large as the charming hostess laid the town under contribution and gathered the best assortment obtainable and every article of food was cooked to suit the taste of an epicure. The fortunate invited guests were Rev. and Mrs. P. L. Kirton, Mr. and Mrs. Terry, Mr. Lee Terry, Mr. J. O. Guthrie, of Raleigh, Dr. Hugh York, of Baltimore, and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Smith.

At the conclusion of dinner we all concluded it was "good to be there" and voted Dr. and Mrs. Knight model hosts, and the unanimous wish and prayer of that party is "may our genial hosts be spared to see many anniversaries of New Years Day."

May Live a Hundred Years.

The chances for living a full century are excellent in the case of Mrs. Jennie Duncan, of Haynesville, Me., now 70 years old. She writes: "Electric Bitters cured me of Chronic Dispepsia of 20 years standing, and made me feel as well and strong as a young girl." Electric Bitters cure Stomach and Liver diseases, Blood disorders, and General Debility and bodily weakness. Sold on a guarantee at S. R. Biggs's drugstore. Price only 50c

Beautiful Church Wedding.

Jamesville N. C. Jan. 3.—At 5 o'clock this evening in the Methodist Church one of the most beautiful marriages was solemnized that was ever witnessed in the town when Mr. Leon Lindley Lewis and Miss Annie Elizabeth Lilley to the hymenal altar. Rev. S. A. Cotton, of Roper pronouncing the ceremony that made them man and wife.

The five couples of attendants proceeded up either aisle and took their places on opposite sides of the altar.

Next came the dame of honor Miss Martha Lilley with the bride up one aisle, and Mr. Lewis on the arm of Mr. Nathan Lewis, the best man, up the other. While the bridal party were entering Miss Mary Mizell beautifully rendered Lohengrin's wedding march and during the ceremony she softly played Peace of the evening, as the party were retiring and Meir delsohn's march was being played one could feel that indeed marriage is sacred.

The church was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and ivy, the rustic being banked with potted plants arranged in a semicircle.

The bride was charmingly and becomingly attired in a gown of white crepe-de-chine en train and real lace and wore a long tulle veil beautifully draped, her face shone with happiness. The attendants wore white china silk.

The bride and groom left on the evening train for Roper where they will make their future home.

The groom is a popular and promising young man.

The bride is equally popular she possesses those rare attributes of heart that makes her both companionable and lovable.
