Comfort in Noise. In the winter of 1863 there was much anxiety at Washington lest Burnside should be captured at Knoxville. One day a report came to the White House that there was heavy firing in the diection of the latter city. Lincoln, who ad been waiting during long hours for some news, now expressed his sat isfaction and when asked why he found any comfort in his meager mes-sage answered: "A neighbor of mine Menard county named Sally Ward had a large family of children. When-ever she heard one of them yelling in some out of the way place she would say. Thank the Lord, there's one of my young ones not dead yet!" So as there was firing in the direction of Knoxville Burnside was not cap-
