—Taffy-Tolu, that's me.
—Work on the well has once more been suspended.
—How is this for farming weather?

Mr. J. G. Staton is having both gas and water works put in his elegant country home, "Kelvin Grove."

—The little fellows went up to Everett's last week and played Everett's game of ball, returning with a score of 5 and 3 in favor of Everetts.

—The skating rink has opened again, and everyone is trying to do the light fantastic on the deceptive rollers.

—Mr. Arthur Anderson is busy moving into his handsome residence on the corners of Haughton St. and Simmons Avenue.

Commencing June 29 for 30 days. Our stock of Lawns, Organdies, Swiss, and white Dress Goods Ladies Hats and millinery also at cost.

—In the report of the races last week, the list of judges should have contained the name of Mr. Tom Gillam, of Windsor, instead of Donnell Gillam, of Tarboro.

—Hotel Gordy, located at Pine Beach, and in which Mr. Sitterson of this place is interested was among the buildings destroyed by fire Wednesday morning, at the Jamestown Exposition.

—It is stated upon creditable authority that Mr. Fred Robuck, near Spring Green, has as fine if not finer tobacco than any farmer in the County. He was early in getting plants out. His crop is mostly topped and is in fine condition. Mr. Robuck is one of Martin's most substantial farmers, and understands the science of the cultivation of the soil.

—The members of the Episcopal Sunday school picniced on the church lawn Tuesday afternoon. The original plan to meet at Leggett's Bridge, had to be abandoned on account of inability to secure teams. Dispite this disappointment, for children always enjoy going where the liquid waters flow, the hours passed pleasantly. Every-thing to tempt the palate had been provided and loads of it. This recognition of the good attendance of each child was much appreciated and thoroughly enjoyed, both by young and old.

News was received here this week that Mr. Don C. Godwin who left here last fall to prepare himself for the examination of naval cadet aspirants which was held in Washington City last week, had successfully past the literary examination to that college. We understand that Mr. Godwin has yet to undergo the physical examination which we understand is to take place soon. We congratulate Mr. Godwin on having passed in the literary examination and hope he is as successful in the physical exams as he was in the preceding one.

—It will doubtless interest hundreds of our farmer readers to know that Prof. W. F. Massey, so long and so successfully identified with the Practical Farmer, has severed his connection with that paper, and will hereafter write regularly for The Progressive Farmer, of Raleigh, N. C. Certainly no man in Southern agricultural work has won a greater following than Prof. Massey, and as his life work has been in the South, he will hereafter contribute only to Southern farm papers. His letters will appear in The Progressive Farmer each week.

—The Baptist Sunday School had its annual picnic on the Graded School campus on yesterday. Swings and other amusements were arranged for the little folks, and an elaborate means was served to the enjoyment of every one present. The school usually takes its outing in the country each year but its rapid growth has rendered the conveyance of so large a number quite a task to the older ones. No doubt the pupils appreciated every effort made in their behalf.

Death of Mrs. S. Fannie Biggs.

In the death of Mrs. Sarah Frances Biggs, the community has lost one of its oldest and most estimable women, and a descendant of one of Martin County's most respected families.

The Death Angel came at one o'clock p. m. on Tuesday, June 25th, and relieved her of the suffering which she had borne with cheerfulness for four years. A stroke of paralysis had made her an invalid, and robbed her of the pleasure of helping others, a duty she loved.

She was born at the old Coffield homestead in Martin County on Sept. 16 1831, the second child of William and Maria Coffield Crawford. In early life, she became the wife of Mr. John Latham, a large planter, and made her home in East Williamston. On June 11, 1863, several years after the death of her first husband, she married Mr. Joseph D. Biggs, and spent many happy years, presiding over his home, South of Williamston. Of this union, two children were born—Mrs. Chloe M. Lanier and Joseph D. Biggs, who survive her, and with whom she has made her home since the death of her husband in 1889.

Born and reared under the old southern regime, she grew up dignified, gentle, sincere and refined and noted for personal beauty which she retained though life the ideal type of woman so prominent in the south before the war. Of strong domestic tastes, she gave her time and energy to the management of her home, making it alike beautiful to the stranger and the loved ones dwelling therein. Her truth and honesty eminently fitted her for a mother, whose precepts and examples shone forth in every day life, giving strength of character to those under her care.

At the age of twenty five, she became a member of the Methodist Church and through all the vicissitudes of life, clung to the faith. She was kind in her feeling for others, charitable in her acts and liberal as all strong characters are. During her years of suffering, her faith in Christ grew brighter and her interest in His Church never lessened. The end came as the sunset after a glorious day calm and peaceful.

The funeral services were conducted at the family residence, on Wednesday at 4 o'clock p. m., by Rev. Chas. L. Read assisted by Elder S. Hassell and Rev. Geo. Dowell.

Interment at the family cemetery. Active pall bearers were: Mr. Walter Hassell, W. C. Manning, J. W. Anderson, W. J. Hodges, Jno. D. Simpson, J. C. Crawford, Wheeler Martin, and K. B. Crawford.

You can't tell a woman's age after she takes Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Her complexion is fine. She is round, plump, and handsome; in fact she is young again. 35 cents. Tea or Tablets, J. M. Whittier & Co. at Robersonville N. C.

Burglars Abroad.

The citizens of Hamilton, were aroused Saturday night at 2 o'clock by the news that robbers had entered the stores of Baker & Salsbury and Haislip & Co. No time was lost in securing blood hounds from Pitt County. The dogs trailed to the river, where it is supposed the men took a boat. Of course the trail was lost, when water was struck.

It is not known what amount of goods was taken.

Sunday night, the store of Johnson & Everett at Oak City was entered and some goods stolen. It is supposed that the same robbers did the work as in Hamilton. They evidently left by following the railroad track, as some merchandise was found along the side of the track, one package being a pair of shoes from Baker & Salsbury. No clue as to the identity of the burglars has been found yet.

Williamston vs. Greenville.

On Tuesday at the park the teams of this place and Greenville played a game of ball with a score of 6 and 8 in favor of the home boys, each side playing very good ball up to the 5th inning when the boys here seemed to connect with the delivery of Greenville's twirler and proceeded to keep the scorers busy for a few minutes and when the storm had passed it was found that Williamston had 8 runs to the good, which proved to be the winning number Greenville being held down to 6 tallies.

A Card of Thanks.

I desire to return thanks for every kindness shown me during the illness of my mother. My friends and neighbors gave me every attention that was possible in my hour of trial, and I wish to make a public expression of my appreciation for even the slightest favor tendered me.

There is no case of indigestion no matter how irritable or how obstinate that will not be speedily relieved by the use of Kodol. The main factor in curing the stomach of any disorder is rest, and the only way to get rest is to actually digest the food for the stomach itself. Kodol will do it. It is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids containing the very same juices found in a healthy stomach. It conforms to the Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by S. R. Biggs, Williamston, N. C., S. J. Two Obituaries

John Doe died last week after a short illness, leaving a widow and five small children. Mr. Doe was seemingly a prosperous merchant, but in settling his estate his stock of merchandise had to be sold at a discount of 50 per cent. and the entire income was absorbed in paying his debts. Nothing was left to his family. Mr. Doe had intended taking Life Insurance, but put it off until it was too late. It would grieve him now if he could know that his family is an object of charity.

Richard Roe died suddenly this morning while on the train en route to New York. His remains will be brought home for interment. Mr. Roe was a man of large business capacity and foresight. Just one year ago he took a $10,000 Life Insurance Policy for the benefit of his family. This amount well invested will bring an annual income to educate his children and support his family comfortably.
