HONOR THY MOTHER.

Honor the dear old mother. Time as scatterd the snwy flakes upon er brow, plowed deep furrows on ter cheek but is she not beau iful now. The lips are thin and shrunk, but those are the 1 ps that have kissed as a many a hot tear fon the childish cheeks, and they are the sweetest lips in the world. The eye s dim, yet it glows with soft radiance of holy love that can never fade. Oh ves: yes she is a dear old mother. The sands of time are nearly run out, but feeble as she is, she will go farther and reach down lower for you than any other on earth. You cannot walk into a midnight where she cannot see you you cannot enter a prison where bars will keep her out, you can never monny a scaffold too high for, her to real and bless you with her deathless love. When the world shall despise and forsake you, when it leaves you by the wayside to die unnoticed, the dear old mother will gather you in her feeble old arms and carry you home and tell you of all your virtues until you almost forget that your soul is disfigured by vice. Love her tenderly and
