SPECIAL INVITATIONS FROM BUSINESS HOUSES IN NORFOLK, VIRGINIA SOLICITING YOUR TRADE THROUGH YOUR LOCAL PAPER, WHICH PAPER PLEASE MENTION WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS.

THE HUB, Norfolk's largest Clothing store makes a specialty of mens' Suits and Overcoats at $10. and $15. The $10. Suits are cut in the very latest styles, and tailored right. Every garment perfect in fit, and will hold its shape and appearance. Other clothing stores in Norfolk sell the same suits at $12.50 and $13.50. The fifteen dollar Suits are handmade throughout, and will equal in fit, style and appearance the custom tailor's best twenty-five dollar grades. The material from which these suits are made is strictly pure wool, and all the new brown, gray, olive and green patterns are represented, also plain blue serge cloth and handsome black worsteds, clay diagonals and tibets. Write to The Hub about clothes both mens' and boys' you'll get a prompt reply telling all about the new styles, prices &c.

The writer was looking at a picture of a graduating class recently, and noted that out of the sixteen persons, nine of them wore glasses. How important it is to have your eyes fitted by a reliable oculist. You find such at Tucker, Hall & Co's, 53 Granby Street. You are safe there which is of the utmost importance.

The recent "cold snap" reminded you that Christmas would soon be here, and that means some presents. If you have not written Paul Gale-Greenwood Co., Inc. for their new Catalog, do it before you forget it, for they want you to have it, and you will find it very interesting and useful. Don't you want a Watch for some member of the family? The P-G-G Watch made especially for them will suit you better for the price than any other; prices begin at $20. For Mother, a piece of silver, Sister would prefer a piece of jewelry, Father might like a nice cane or umbrella, but we think Son would rather have a Watch. The baby needs a nice silver cup, and if there are any others, you can best please everyone of them here. When you come to Norfolk, be sure to visit this great jewelry establishment, largest in the south.

You may have relatives or friends with whom you stop when in Norfolk, but if not, THE LORRAINE hotel should get you because it is the very best place. Now that is making a claim, but we are sure you will agree with us if you try it. It is a real pleasure to be a guest, and if on the European plan, you will enjoy the 35 cent lunches in the grill room.

Samuel C. Phillips says it is very evident that people have been reading what we have been saying about him in these columns, for so many people from out of Norfolk are patronizing him this fall. That's right; you will find him reliable, and his Furniture, Carpets &c. first class and cheap for the quality. Write him if you can't come; 333-337 Church St.

"The Piano With the Sweet Tone"

Great Annual Clearing OF USED PIANOS

In accord with our custom, we are now conducting a clearing sale of all second-hand pianos. These are the instruments we have traded in as part payment for STIEFF PIANOS, those we have been renting, and some that we have had to take back on account of inability of purchasers to make payments.

Each instrument has been thoroughly overhauled and put in practically new condition by our expert factory workmen, and everyone is a bargain. If you are not ready to buy a new STIEFF, we advise you take advantage of this opportunity.

Upright Pianos $110 up, according to age and condition.
Square Pianos $15 up.
A few Organs, $5 up.

Write at once for full particulars, and easy terms.

OLD FOLKS EVERYWHERE.

Kentucky is making a proud boast of its old people. There is old man Dave Galloway, of Uno, who is ninety, and hasn't been out of Hart County since he was a boy. He plowed considerable this year, but never got too tired to stop his mule and tell that flea-bitten sage what Henry Clay said to him once. There's Mr. Phil Waters, too, six years older than old man Dave, and chipper as a cricket. If it weren't for him and Aunt Sally Huskinson, who lives over on Fountain Run, and is 102 years old come her next birthday, folks around the 'Barrens' would have to look in the almanac to find out what century they were living in.

But these hardy old pioneers are almost children when compared with Uncle Israel Tisdale, of Horse Cave. Uncle Israel says he's 117, and there's nobody to prove differently; besides, his shiny black face is as wrinkled as a butternut. The last heard of him he was "cuttin' capers" around a young cullud "widow 'oman," and they say he's got his eye out for another chance at matrimony. Such is the gallantry of old men in Kentucky.

Kentucky is right to be proud of her old people. It is a land where folk take great joy of life. The sun is bonny in Old Kentucky, the bluegrass is paradoxically green, and the air sweet with the bloom on the corn. All good things are there—the mellow dew of mountain moonshine, hominy and hog meat, tobacco as fragrant as though the lips of fair women had breathed kisses on it. Its inhabitants are loath to leave this land dripping with fatness, and perhaps that is why people rarely die in Kentucky—save with their boots on and a few little puffs of white smoke hanging in the foreground. Most of them just live on and on, enjoying life and its blessings, until one day there comes a strong wind blowing out of the mountains, and it catches them up and the place thereof knows them no more.

But the oldest inhabitants are not all confined to Kentucky. Providence be thanked, we have them everywhere. Life is better regulated and better protected now than it used to be. What would the world do without its brave octogenarians, with their ripe judgment, their cheery voices, their unflinching wisdom to guide the footsteps of those who must carry the business of life where they have already trod? Blessings on the men who grow old serenely and on the women who grow old gracefully, for theirs is a beautiful autumn and a well-earned time of rest!

The Boy on the Farm.

The boy on the farm who is big and old enough to begin thinking about what he is going to do for a life's work will be greatly influenced in this decision by his natural impulses or inclinations. If he is physically lazy and fond of nice clothes, the chances are that he will soon be found behind the counter of a dry goods store. If however, he is a real, manly boy, with snap and go in him, who loves the free and open life of the farm, and especially if he has a natural fondness for animals, then he is well worth the attention of his parents, who should talk between themselves so as to direct his work and studies. If he shows any special leaning toward dairy work, then offer him some special inducements to take up that branch of farm work.

He will probably not like the work of milking, because the flies bother so, and if it is out of doors milking he has to do it in a muddy and manure covered lot, no one could reasonably blame the boy. Now why not make things more comfortable and human both for him and the cows. Put up a clean, new shed stable with good floor and plenty of light, a sliding window that will not blow to, and hang a burlap curtain over it. Help him to make this little stable and to keep it clean. The cows will give more than enough extra milk for these comforts to more than pay the cost. Do these things before the stormy and cold nights come.—Exchange.

—Don't fail to be one of the 500 farmers who are coming to Williamston on the 16th instant.

Seven Years of Proof.

"I have had seven years of proof that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best medicine to take for coughs, colds and for every disease condition of throat, chest or lungs," says W. V. Henry, of Panama, Mo. The world has had thirty-eight years of proof that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and colds, lagrippe, asthma, hay fever, bronchitis, hemorrhage of the lungs, and the early stages of consumption. Its timely use always prevents the development of pneumonia. Sold under guarantee at All Druggists, 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Nothing is easier than fault finding; no talent, no self denial, no brains, no character are required to set up in the grumbling business.—Robert West.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup not only heals irritation and allays inflammation, thereby stopping the cough, but it moves the bowels gently and in that way drives the cold from the system. Contains no opiates. It is pleasant to take, and children especially like the taste, so nearly like maple sugar. Sold by Chases Drug Store; Biggs Drug Store.

Fretting most of us call a minus or fault and not a vice; but there is no vice except drunkenness which can so utterly destroy the happiness of a home.—Helen Hunt Jackson.
